

casserole supreme, salt cod and a number of other value-added entrees.

In the Nova Scotia Department of Fisheries exhibit, Arisaig Fisheries Limited featured frozen lobster meat in cans and provided samples of a lobster salad.

The British Columbia exhibit featured two fresh, whole farmed B.C. Atlantic salmon. N.T.C. Smokehouse Ltd. had its own exhibit with samples of its smoked salmon and displays of smoked sides of salmon and smoked salmon steaks.

New Brunswick exhibitors displayed a variety of lobster products. Landry & Landry (1984) Ltd. displayed popsicle pack lobster, cooked whole lobster and frozen lobster meat in cans. Pecheries Cap-Lumiere Fisheries Ltd./Sogelco displayed frozen lobster meat in cans, frozen cooked TCK pieces of lobster in a plastic package, popsicle pack lobster, frozen raw lobster tails, frozen cooked lobster claw and knuckle meat, frozen cooked rock crab meat and minced lobster meat.

The New Zealand Fishing Industry Board and a number of New Zealand seafood companies exhibited together in a blue and white stand under the banner "New Zealand Seafoods". The New Zealand companies included Intersea Marketing Ltd., Seafresh Fisheries (NZ) Ltd. and Sealord Products Ltd. Products featured were smoked eel fillets whole smoked eel, smoked mussels and green shell mussels on the half shell. Also displayed were whole fish of the following species: fresh salmon, yellow finned tuna, orange roughy, red snapper, gurnird, tiger prawns and smooth dory.

The national stand of Thailand was white and blue and included representatives of the Thai Fishery/Frozen Product Association. It featured a video on the Thai fisheries and processing industry. Samples of steamed and tempura tiger shrimp and red snapper were offered at the stand.

Indonesia exhibited at the show in the Intertrade booth and is expected to have about six booths in 1991.

Advice for show exhibitors and seafood buyers to make their attendance at seafood shows more productive is provided in Annex 12.

THE NEXT SEA FARE INTERNATIONAL: SEA FARE INTERNATIONAL 1991

The next Sea Fare International will be held from February 12-14, 1991 in the Long Beach Convention Centre, Long Beach, California.

On the weekend following Sea Fare International, from February 16-17, 1991, the California Seafood Festival will be held in the same location. This event will be attended by seafood consumers rather