COLLECTION OF RELICS MAY GO TO MONTREAL

Owned by S. S. Rogers, New York State_Brockville Man Accidentally Killed.

Special to The Toronto World.

BROCKVILLE, June 11.—The collection of historical relics owned by S. S. Rogers, who resides in New York State, opposite Cardinal, Ont., and, which a Brockville patriotic organization had endeavored to secure for safe keeping here, will very probably go to Montreal shortly to form a part of the McCord National Museum, whose owner, D. Ross McCord, K.C., has a collection of such relies and others as collection of such relics and others of interest second to none in the Dominion. Among Mr. McCord's collection is the staff of the late Right Rev. Dr. Lewis Dr. Lewis, sometime rector of St. Peter's Church, Brockville, and afterwards first Bishop of Ontario. Charles Pitcher, aged 18 years, while examining a shot gun at the home of his father, near Bishop's Mills, re-selved a ghastly wound in the side by the accidental discharge of the weapon, which he did not know was loaded. He lived only a short time. A prother of the deceased was drowned tecently, while doing military patrol duty on the Cardinal Canal.

VELVET GLOVE COVERS WILSON'S IRON HAND

London Star Says Note Shows No Trace of Indecision.

LONDON, June 11 .- The American hote is not an ultimatum, but Ger-many will not fail to sense its firmness, The Evening Star declared this afternoon, in a paragraph of editorial to the text of the rejoinder.
"Berlin isn't likely to mistake the urbane philosophic tone of the American note for indecision," said The Star. "The iron hand is there, even if it isn't sticking out at the finger tips of the velvet glove." "President Wilson takes a stand on the high ground of humanity in well-chosen diplomatic language," was the Westminster Gazette's comment,
