MISSIONS QUITE AS IMPORTANT AS WAR

Presbyterian Synod Does Not Relish Curtailment of Expenditure.

BUDGET IS APPROVED

Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars Will Be This Year's Share.

Orilla was chosen for the next place of meeting by the members of the Presbyterian Synod of Toronto and Kingston at the afternoon session at St. James' Square Church.

A resolution will be sent to the financial board of the General Assembly asking that more liberal payments than at present be paid to the widows of ministers who fail to pay their assessments to the fund for the relief of ministers' widows.

Rev. H. H. Macdonald made a vigorous appeal for support for the Lord's Day Alliance, and a motion favoring collections in all the churches in its support of the alliance was adopted.

When the budget for the year was before the synod, Col. D. Macrae of Quebec, opposed spending so much money in missions during the war. He thought all the mission workers should be at the front.

Rev. Dr. John Nell said the Presbyterians were well represented at the front.

The synod accepted the assessment of $250,000 as this year's share of the home mission budget.

At the night session the report on home missions was presented by Rev. N. R. Cochrane. Dealing with the report of the work to church work in Canada the report said: A feature that has added to the work of the superintendent and the convenors has been the appeal for men for men to take their place in the ranks and fight for freedom and truth.

Want Liquor Restriction? A feature of our men, standing this appeal in many of our congregations there has been a loss of our best young men and the sense of a greater seriousness of purpose among the people as a whole.

Rev. F. W. Anderson presented the report of social service. The committee recommended the work of the Ontario License Board, but protested against the tardiness of those in authority in Ontario in reference to a greater restriction of the sale of intoxicating liquors, especially during the continuance of the war.

BOLERO DESIGNS BECOME POPULAR

New Over Blouse Effects for Autumn Afternoon Costumes.

SIDE PLEATED MODELS

Jacket Partly Belted, Made of Dark Purple Velvet.

Preference is being given for the various bolero designs for indoor costumes this season, in which some very novel features are to be seen. The combination of chiffon and velvet increases the possibility of this dainty form of over blouse, and has already resulted in some extremely smart models for afternoon wear.

It has been impossible to tust the flounced skirt, which again appears in a variety of attractive designs in which panel effects are successfully introduced. A chic little frock of this type is fashioned of a wing blue velvet with applied bands and sleeves of chiffon in the same shade.

Another remarkably modish little afternoon costume developed in dark purple velvet with Georgette crepe under bodice showed a pretty adaptation of the popular bolero. Buttoned pockets emphasize a much favored feature, and the short full skirt displays slashed cuffs, are ornamented with novelty buttons.

ANXIOUS TO ASSIST BELGIAN CHILDREN. Accounts have been received at the Women's Patriotic League of very useful work being done near Furnes by Mrs. Agar Adamson and her committee.

Condensed milk and cheese are asked for to help in the maintenance of 250 children who are being fed near the firing line.

The Women's Patriotic League is most anxious to help Mrs. Adamson and will be grateful for contributions, which may be sent to the honorary treasurer, Mrs. H. C. Bage, 559 Sherbourne street, or to 94 Bay street, Toronto, and decided to send $500 from the general Belgian Relief fund to Mrs. Adamson for the canal boat fund.

being a strong lover of peace, Mr. Stewart was said to be a very strong sympathizer with the allied cause. For Unique Reason. President Falconer was present, also a delegate at The Hague in 1907, I saw all nations at peace with one another. After sitting there, cheek by cheek, with Germans, Austrians and Turks, and all the other outlying nations, I thought I had done something to advance the cause of peace.

Harvard's motto, "Veritas," signifying "The Truth," was spoken of as containing the principle by which that condition would be obtained. "To instill into all nations to speak the truth and to abide by what they have observed, is a great step towards securing that end. It is by a violation of this great principle that the war has come.

There is only one word that holds the world together in peace. It is the word of good faith. I have little confidence in, but much sympathy with, the methods used to obtain peace. There is no use in calling "Peace Peace," when there is no possibility of obtaining peace.
