

- Love, on the origin of, 68. "Love! young love!" 201. "Love's recess," 217. "Watching madness," 229. "Dies as it was born," 235. "No habitant of earth," 236. "Will find its way," 255. "Light from heaven," 255. Platonic love, 635, 639. First love, 640, 670, 689. Woman's love, 647, 671, 674. Man's love, 672. "A capricious power," 652. "Nature's oracle," 670. "The very god of evil," 672. Its "best interpreter," 674. "His own avenger," 694. "The first net," 701. "His love-liest throne," 719. "Great opener of the heart," 764. "Makes man sick," 784. Its power contrasted with that of cash, 785. Propriety of the phrase "tender passion," 815.
- "Love in idleness," 813.
- "Love of glory's but an airy lust," 697.
- "Love of money." See Money.
- "Love of offspring's nature's general law," 711.
- LOVE'S LAST ADIEU, 11.
- Lucifer's sin, 687.
- "Luck's all," 769.
- "Lucretius' Irreligion is too strong," 631.
- Lucullus's turnip-eating, 885. His services to cookery, 823, 902.
- Luddites, song for the, 99.
- Lusieri, Lord Elgin's "agent of devastation," 859.
- Luther, 71.
- "Lutzen, where fell the Swede," 167.
- "Lykanthropy," 757.
- Lyttelton, Lord, ghost story related by, 880.
- M.
- "M——," To, 12.
- "Mac Flecknoe," 851.
- Machiavelli, Nicolo, 227. See also 730, 773.
- Macnail, Hector, 121. Popularity of his poems, 849.
- Macpherson's Ossian, spuriousness of, 843.
- "Madeira trembled to a kiss," 116, 847.
- Maffra, "where dwelt the Lusian's luckless queen," 180. Its extent and magnificence, 857, 858.
- Mahomet, 672. First duties enjoined by him, 875.
- Maid of Athens, ere we part*, 59.
- Mald of Saragoza, The. See Saragoza.
- Majorian's hazardous visit to Carthage, 880.
- Mallet, David, 116. Work for which Bolingbroke hired him, 847.
- Malta, Farewell to, 61.
- Malthus, Rev. T. R., and his anti-marriage theory, 785. "Does the thing 'gainst which he writes," 786. "His book 's the eleventh commandment," 820.
- Man, "a strange animal," 640. "A phenomenon," 641. "Always unjust to woman," 672. Frail, compared with paper, 684.
- Man's love. See Love.
- MANFRED, A Dramatic Poem, 380.
- Manfrini Palace, Venice, 615.
- Manley, Mrs. See Atalanta.
- "Mann, of London," and his pumps, 653.
- Mansel, Dr. William Lort, "Magnus," 24, 842.
- Mansion-House, the, "a stiff yet grand erection," 777.
- Many are poets who have never penn'd*, 367.
- Marat, the revolutionist, 627.
- Marathon, 202, 212. "The mountains look on Marathon," 683. Offered for sale to Lord Byron, 869.
- Marceau, "honour to," 211. His monument and character, 870.
- Maria Louisa, Empress, "proud Austria's mournful flower," 73. Her career after Napoleon's abdication, 173. Her second husband, "the martial Argus," 173.
- Marie Antoinette, effect of grief upon, 884.
- "Marinet's affair," and Lord Kinnaird's connexion therewith, 755.
- MARINO FALIERO, DOGE OF VENICE; An Historical Tragedy, 397. Character and career of the hero, 397. Dr. Moore's mistakes regarding him, 297, 398. Mr. F. Cohen (now Sir F. Palgrave's) translation of the story, 857. Petrarch on the Doge's conspiracy, 890.
- Marion! why that pensive brow*, 15.
- Marins, 792.
- Markow, General, 741.
- Marlborough, Cox's Life of, 684.
- Marmon, the "golden-crested," 113. "Good night" to, 114, 846. His "acts of darkness," 122.
- "Marriage from love," 674. All comedies ended by, 674. "The best or worst" of any state, 815. "Best state for morals," 819.
- Martini, epigram from, 106. "Those nauseous epigrams," 631.
- Mary, To, "on receiving her picture," 13. "I have a passion for the name," 699.
- Mary, Queen of Scots, 710, 763.
- Matchmaking, 819.
- Matrimony, 785.
- Matter, Bishop Berkeley's theory respecting, 774. "Trembles to come near" spirit, 839.
- Maurice, Rev. Thomas, and "all his granite weight of leaves," 116. His literary productions, 847.
- MAZEPPA, 331. Foundation of the tale, 331.
- Medley, the, "merchant-dukes," 228.
- Meditation, 193.
- Megaspellon, view from the monastery of, 863.
- Meknop, General, 748.
- Melanethon, 757.
- Melton jacket, the, 801.
- Memnon's statue, 800.
- "Memory flashes on my brain," 191.
- Mendell, Mount, and its cave, 869.
- Merc, Count, epitaph on, 869.
- Merivale, J. H., and "his associate bard," 122, 850. His Roncesvalles, 369.
- Merry's metaphors, 120.
- "Metaphysics, that labyrinth," 794.
- Metella, Cecilia, tomb of, 873.
- Methodism, cause of the success of, 871.
- "Metternich, power's foremost parasite," 173.
- Michelli, Madame, the translator of Shakspeare, 892.
- Middle age of man, 784.
- Milman, Rev. Henry Hart, character of "The Fall of Jerusalem" by, 399.
- Milo, Napoleon compared to, 73.
- Miltiades, "the dust of," 869. "Freedom's best and bravest friend," 683.
- Milton, John, 126, 133, 626. His "heartless daughters," 626. "Hapless in his nuptials," 674. "A harsh sire," 684, 895.
- Minotaur, the "old fable" of the, 667.
- Mirabeau, 627.
- Miser, the, and "his glittering heaps," 640. "Why call the miser miserable?" 784. "He is your only poet," 784. His delights, 785.
- Mitford, William, the historian, "gives the good old Greek the lie," 786. Merits and defects of his history, 900, 901.
- Mithridates, "the Pontic monarch," and his poison food, 92.
- Mob, the, "sick of imitating Job," 745.
- Mobility defined, 837, 903.
- "Money is Aladdin's lamp," 785. Love of, "the only pleasure which requites," 804. See Cash.
- Monk and Nekir, superstition relative to, 576.
- Monks, "a-propos of," 814.
- "Monmouth Geoffry's chronicle," 827.