lenient, or absurd, than this impertinent and unmannerly abuse of the Commissioners of the Magna, whom have been Persons of unimpeach'd honor and integrity, Gentlemen of Birth, Education, and Character who would have scorn'd such a mean, brutal insult upon any Man. This therefore can hurt no Character, but that of the Writer
