

the institution for her board; and that, though she was big, she did n't eat much.

He allowed that I might make use of one of the orphans for all legitimate service.

I explained — still polite, but growing bored — that Jane had been in my service for many years, and was indispensable.

He finally took himself off, after telling me that he, for one, had never found any fault with Mrs. Lippett.

The Honorable Cyrus Wykoff

