

"Ensignette"

The Idea Is That You Make Post-card Size Pictures With a Camera You Carry In Your Vest Pocket

The cut shows the Ensignette open, ready to make a picture. When closed the camera is so compact that it fits in the vest pocket comfortably. (The cut shows the camera about actual size.)

The secret of the postcard print is in the rare sharpness of the Ensignette negative and the method of printing. The Ensignette is a short focus camera with a wide aperture lens—this makes a negative a great deal sharper than an ordinary one.

For printing you use a printing box instead of a printing frame. The method is exactly the same; there is no extra handling. Just put the film in at one end, the postcard at the other—expose it to the light—develop and fix in the usual way.

The loading, exposing, developing, printing are all done in daylight. And the "Ensignette" way costs less—the camera costs less, the films less, the developing less than any other postcard camera.

The Ensignette idea just means that you can have your camera with you all the time, stowed away in a spare pocket—on every outing—on every trip. Ready in an instant. Nothing to carry by hand—no straps or sling cases.

The Ensignette in a neat leather case sells from $9.00 up.

METROPOLITAN GETS RED-HOT SCORCHING

Everybody Takes Crack at the Corporation—Woodbridge Fair To-day—Suburbs.

NORTH TORONTO, Oct. 17. (Special.)—At to-night's meeting of the town council, with Mayor Brown presiding and all the members present, a hot and fiery session was held. The council was called to order at 8 o'clock, and the first business was the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting. The minutes were read and approved. The council then turned to the consideration of the report of the committee on the proposed new water works. The report was read and the council was divided on the question of whether to accept the report. The council then adjourned until next week.

Then Chairman Lawrence, who was in the chair, started to read the report of the committee on the proposed new water works. The report was read and the council was divided on the question of whether to accept the report. The council then adjourned until next week.

PLEADED GUILTY, BUT ALLOWED TO GO FREE

Ferdinand Hostetter Got Off Easily in Grave Charge—Banquet to Mackenzie King.

BERLIN, Oct. 17. (Special.)—Ferdinand Hostetter, aged 29, of Wilmet Township, this country, appeared before Magistrate Weir this morning to answer a grave charge preferred against him by a little girl under fourteen years of age. Luckily for him the charge was dropped, and he was allowed to go free.

Three hundred tickets have been sold for the complimentary banquet to the Hon. Mackenzie King on Thursday night, and there is every promise that the event will be a big success. It is confidently expected that he will accept the proffered nomination for the local house.

H. C. Schlender was arrested here to-night, charged with the theft of a trunk full of clothes. He will have his hearing on Wednesday.

Detective Hodge of the Grand Trunk Railway was in town this afternoon looking for three men who gave a check for $100 to a woman in the city. The check was cashed at the Grand Trunk Railway.

It appears that three ruffians boarded the train at the Union Depot, and when hearing of the arrest of Schlender, they began to make themselves obnoxious to the passengers, and when the conductor remonstrated with them, they were going to clean up the conductor, when a passenger came to the rescue, and they escaped when the next stop was made.

The World learns late to-night that the assault case in which a child figured at police court this morning, will again be heard in court two other young men will have to answer to a similar charge, and that the young man who was allowed to go on suspended sentence this morning will be the chief witness for the crown.

Woman Fell From Car. Mrs. George Wardell of Port Hope, Ont., fell in alighting from a Yonge-street car north of Bloor-street last night. She was carried into Carleton's drug store, and removed from there to Harry Ellis's private ambulance to Grace Hospital, where six stitches were required to close a jagged cut on the right side of her head above the ear. Her condition is not serious.

Central Lodge At Home. Central Lodge No. 322 of the I.O.O.F. held their annual at home in the Foresters' Building last night, which was attended by about 150 members. Dr. Norman Allen being in the chair. A lengthy musical program was much enjoyed, especially the solo by Paul Hahn. Refreshments were served when the program was concluded.

Funerals. The funeral of George Williams, who died last night, will be held at 3.30 a.m. from the undertaking parlors of William Speers, 603 Dundas-street, to Prospect Cemetery. In the afternoon the double funeral of George Williams and William Speers will be held to Prospect Cemetery from the same place. The late Simon Eadie will be interred at 2 o'clock at Prospect Cemetery.

The Junior Chapter, B. S. A., of St. John's Church met to-night and elected two of their members to attend the Buffalo convention at the latter part of this week.

Victoria Lodge, A.F. & A.M. held their regular monthly meeting to-night in the Masonic Temple, Annette-street.

WOODBRIDGE FAIR. The greatest show in the history of Woodbridge Fair will take place to-morrow. The entry list is the largest in every department of any previous fair. Horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, poultry, and all classes have larger entries than ever before. The ladies' war department fills the big hall, and everything points to the most successful fair that has ever been held in this country of York and Essex.

HAVE HARD TIME OF IT. Rural fairs throughout Ontario this fall have, with few exceptions, had a hard time of it, and it will be fortunate if Woodbridge Fair to-day is attended with a fair measure of good weather. Reports from the town indicate a big exhibit and the C. P. R. are running a special train, leaving the city at 10.40 a.m. and 12.30 noon.

Interesting Organ Recital. Joy reigned in the local lathers' union last night because of the fact that the signed and sealed contracts of the new lathers' union had been formed. A most interesting program has been prepared. Invitations may be obtained at the office of the conservatory.

BIG WAR IS COMING

Turko-Italian Affair Just Thin End of the Wedge.

"The last great world's battle will be fought either on the waters or the shores of the Mediterranean, and all of the great countries of Europe will be in the conflict," said Rev. J. Gwalda Evans, B.A., M.D., in an address last night at the St. James' Parish House, at the Graphic's Studio, during the course of the Turko-Italian War. The address of Dr. Evans is one of a series to be made in Toronto under the auspices of the Imperial British-Israel Association.

The speaker said the present war between Turkey and Italy was the beginning of the end of Anglo-Saxon control of the Middle East, and that the great coalitions in the Mediterranean, would control the situation in the final great clash, and in this case was but simply carrying out the prophecy of God as laid down in the Bible.

ARTISTIC THEATRE CURTAIN MADE OF GLASS. The first glass theatre curtain will soon be installed in the National Theatre, which is now nearing completion in the City of Mexico. It contains more than 200 square feet of glass mosaic and weighs twenty-seven tons, according to The Technical World Magazine. To insure its safe transport, it was divided into three sections, each containing a million small pieces of glass mosaic, which were held in separate blocks which were held in place by a concrete structure.

A wonderful art pattern has been put upon the glass. It shows the last rays of the setting sun to the right of Popocatepetl, gliding the icy summits of the volcanoes and revealing the prone figure of Ixtacchualt, the upper slopes of the mountain, suggesting her streaming luxuriant hair. Above, in the vast expansive sky, the glory of the blue changes to a deep purple as night approaches.

The observer is impressed with the definiteness of the artifice who executes this scene in glass. The completed curtain illustrates the decorative possibilities of glass mosaic. Its opalescent iridescence and the beauty of its design lend a touch of reality to landscape scenes that cannot be obtained as effectively through other mediums.

TREASURES AT BOTTOM OF SACRED LAKE. Ten thousand feet above the sea level, in the mountains of Colombia not far from Bogota, lies the sacred lake of Guatavita, in a huge cup surrounded by steep cliffs. In the lake are hidden treasures that an English engineer, with the assistance of a body of natives, has in the last few years succeeded in draining off all the water, leaving bare a deposit of mud about thirty feet in depth. It is in this mud that the valuable offerings of the ancient natives to their deity are presumably lying, and the beginning of the trenching work has already brought "finds" of a description sufficient to prove that the old tales of hidden treasure are not mythical.

There have been recovered up to now a gold bowl, numbers of ornaments, two gold snakes, a gold band, golden images, curiously carved stones and several articles of pottery. According to the stories of the historians, the inhabitants of Colombia were accustomed for centuries to make in propitiation of their gods.

The Chibcha Indians, under the leadership of their chief and high priests, assembled periodically on the shores of the sacred lake, the chief having his body covered with gold dust. There they placed their offerings of gold, precious stones and household treasures on a rude raft, which, when it was heaped up with the priceless cargo, was rowed to the centre of the lake by the chief. He then waded the gold dust from his body and the treasure on the raft was tossed into the water, while the spectators danced and sang on the shore.

After the Spaniards invaded the country the natives are said to have thrown countless treasures into the lake to prevent them from being seized by their conquerors. The latter made some attempt to recover the gold, but met with little success.

Ward One Liberals. The Ward One Liberal Association will hold a meeting in Foulton's Hall, corner of Queen-street and St. George-street, on Monday night at 8 o'clock. J. W
