Conversation in Street Car Between Two Young Women Shows Interest Taken in Proverb Contest.

In a Harbord car yesterday morning two young women were reading The Toronto World. Their papers were opened on the second page, and the Contest Manager of The World, who at alongside, heard the following conversation:

"I wonder what the picture represents this morning?" said one.

"Well. I've been studying that ever since we left Spadina avenue, and I think it is a hard one" said the other. "Hold on," said number one; "I'm almost certain I have the right answer." and she leaned over and whispered to number fwo.

Number two's face brightened up. "Say, you certainly do seem to have hit it," she said. "and do you know, tho I had several answers in my mind, I hadn't even thought of that one."

Then number one explained that she The World's Book of English Proverbs, "Really, i am taking more interest

Montenegrins Have Crossed Into Enemy's Country in Force and Conflict at Berana is Reported, With Other Skirmishes-Balkan States Cleverly Contrived to Anticipate Joint Note of Russia and Austria.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 8 .- (Can. Press) .- An official despatch from the Montenegrin frontier says that Montenegrins on Monday attacked the blockhouse at Kalava, but were repulsed with heavy losses. Fifteen Turks were wounded. The same day a large detachment of the Montenegrin army crossed the frontier and attacked Berana. A battle ensued, which, according to latest reports, still continues. It is also reported that the Turks surrounded and annihilated one body of Montenegrin soldiers.
