9. The three Catholic schools of Winnipeg to be leased by the Board and considered as public schools. Tarte Finds Some Honorable Tories.

Some one wires the following from Ottawa to La Patrie, and seeing that the first person is used it is presumed that this some one is Mr. Tarte:

"You would be wrong to confound in me condemnation and hand over to public indignation all the members of the civil service appointed by the late regime. There are in the civil service a great many honorable men and worthy of confidence. I use this language with connaissance decause, as I am in a position, as much as anyone can possibly be, to know what is going on here. I ask you to publish this in my behalf, in justice to the great majority of the civil service. The unfaithful employes may expect exemplary punishment, but at the same time have nothing to fear."

Editorially, La Patrie says: "We are In power to govern, and govern we will." "Business is business as you know." Tarte Finds Some Honorable Tories.

Hon. Mr. Tarte's paper, after downing the Senate, now turns upon the Irish. La Patrie discusses William Redmond's proposition for an alliance between France and Ireland as follows:

"We believe it to be our duty to put the newspapers in France on their guard against the Irish element and its tendencies, especially in the United States. The Irish in their clergy, as well as in their politics, are the worst enemies of their politics, are the worst enemies of our beautiful Prench language and of our national influences in the American Republic, and it is probable that the same conditions exist elsewhere."
