Reaction in the Mining Market is Healthy and 1814

World Office,

Saturday Evening, Oct. 3.

Last week's record of the transactions in the mining markets is very suggestive of a period of rest and recuperation, after a strenuous advance. The remarkable part of the episode was the firmness displayed by nearly every one of the active Cobalt securities in the face of a good deal of profit taking. The steady and quick advances in prices during the previous few weeks, had served to accumulate a large speculative following in the market, which could only be gotten rid of by a reaction in prices. Speculators who had followed the advance began to sell their securities just as soon as this mine. Trethewey has been will bought during the week, as has also been the case with Cohlagas, on 20 winds a discovered recently.

At the close of the deek a bigger activity was only prevented by a scarcity of stocks on cround present prices.

Speculators were a securities as soon as they saw the market provides and prospective future values, than for immediate profits. The fact that the market profits are provided to the confidence now reposed in the market by investors.

The news of the week has served to stimulate buying from those who now regard the camp as a permanent and continuously improving proposition. New strikes on many of the better properties were reported. Ore shipments for

There has been excellent absorption of the La Rose shares all over the continent, and New York is beginning to take a greater interest in Cobalt than it has done since the boom two years ago. The resuming of full shipments by the Silver Queen property has taken place. The work at the mine was somewhat interfered with by the fire which disabled part of the company's machinery, but these shares are now beginning to appreciate this improved condition. Much more attention is being paid to the Kerr Lake section of the camp, owing to the wonderful showing that is being made at Temiskaming, Crown Reserve, and other actively developed properties in this district. Considerable attention has been given to Bea-

COBALT, Oct 3.—(From the Man on the Spot.)—One of the best undeveloped properties in Cobalt is the Cochrane. Its proximity to the Temiskaming means that at a depth of 200 feet the Cochrane will be in enormously rich ore. "The Man on the Spot." has pointed out in many letters the great possibilities of this section of the camp.

It is gratifying to know that a first-class militing engineer will be put in charge of the development work at Cochrane next week. New buildings will be exceeded to replace those burnt during the recent forest fires, and the shaft near the Temiskaming will be continued to a depth of 200 feet.

Rich ore has also been found in the other shaft, originally the main shaft and this will be continued to a depth of 100 feet before drifting will be started.

COBALT, Ont., Sept. 22, 1908.-(From Our Own Correspondent.)-The Nova Scotia Mine, one of the new and promising properties of this district, I have visited to-day in the course of my inspection of the mines of Cobalt. This property, by thoro and systematic development, is showing splendid results and promises soon not only to become a dividend column shortly. I have seen at the Nova Scotia some of the highest grade ore to be found any-where in this camp, and I have found that, locally, as well as thruout Canada, it is regarded as one of the great mines location of the Nova Scotia is one The location of the Nova Scotia is one factor greatly in its favor; and another is that it is backed by men strong financially, who have great faith in its future and are rapidly pushing its development. I find that very many of the best-posted mining men in Cobalt, as well as in Toronto and Montreal, are quietly buying the stock with the expectation of a good, substantial advance in price in the near future.

BUYERS

Improvements at the Nova Scotia are going forward rapidly. There are two shafts on the property, No. 1 being 120 feet deep, and No. 3 150 feet deep. Thru these shafts the mine has been opened up with 1300 feet of drifting and 500 feet of cross-cutting. The main pay chute was encountered in No. 3 shaft at a depth of 100 feet from the surface, and on this chute in eight equal annual prest at 4 per cent. Survey feet and found the ore continuous for this entire distance.

In examining the ore from this vein I found some of it to be bonanza, assaying very high. Rich seams of native silver are scattered thru it, and as soon as stoning is begun considerable high-grade shipping ore will be available and will yield handsome returns.

The Nova Scotia Mine is in good hands, and will, I believe, be heard from in the near future in a very favorable way. It is surrounded and in close proximity to several of the most important mines here, and its owners have good reason for their strong faith in its richness and value.

It is estimated by well-posted mining men in Cobalt that upward of $1,000,000 worth of good ore is already blocked out in this mine.

NELSON, B.C., Oct. 3.—Despite shutdown of Boundary smelters during the early part of the year, the production for 1908 is now nearly the same as corresponding period of last year. Owing to reorganization of Dominion Copper Company's plant at Boundary Falls, the output for the week is slightly less than it was this week last year, being 43,118 tons, as against 44,066 tons. Total output to date is 1,324,364 tons, as against 1,364,271 tons a year ago. Boundary shows an increase of 70,061 tons, and Rossland 5937 tons. The falling off is in the output of the Slocan mills, and is more apparent than real, several not reporting.
