The copy of the report of the committee on the subject of the proposed new school building, which I have every reason to believe has been sent to several Hon. Members of the House and many leading men of the Province. I know no one who has had daily intercourse with the committee, and every member of the House who has had any communication with them, I trust, will be glad to see a copy of the report, and a copy of which I have every reason to believe has been sent to several Hon. Members of the House and many leading men of the Province.
