English dates, via New York, are to the 29th May; they contain a mass of more various and more interesting intelligence than has been lately received, whence we have extracted freely for to-day's number.

We congratulate our fellow subjects in the United Kingdom, on the restoration of good order in the Manufacturing districts, where many had been hurried on to acts of outrage, the cause whereof (the pressure of the time) must be deplored; that no further calamity should befall the manufacturing districts, and that the almost universal peace and order, which appears to be in a state of gradual improvement. While we advert with pride to the brilliant and glorious successes of our Country's Arms in India, we deeply sympathize with Greece, and profess no inconsiderable share of alarm for the perilous state of her rising liberties; let us still, however, not despair that something more may be effected to terminate this war of devastation, horror and blood, by the intervention and negotiation of other powers, than by the desperate valour, the almost incredible heroism of this gallant but devoted people exerted in the heat, the most sacred of causes, but, unfortunately, unable to contend with the combination of insulted courage, overwhelming numbers and reckless bigotry.

The Weather, during the last ten days, has been particularly favourable for vegetation; the refreshing showers which have fallen, have removed all apprehensions, of the consequences of the previous extreme drought.

For obvious reasons, the Editor has much pleasure in giving publicity to the following letter.

Marine Insurance Office,

July 4, 1826.

Sir,
In consequence of an unanimous Resolution of the Board of Directors of the Saint John Marine Insurance Company, I am desired to request your acceptance of Twenty-five Pounds, as a testimonial of their unqualified approbation of your conduct, in carrying into her port of destination, the Brig Rose Bank, of which you were master; after struggling with, and successfully overcoming difficulties, which evinced great ingenuity and perseverance.
I am Sir,
Your most obt. Servt.

Secretary.

To Capt. S. Risk.
Masonic.—On Saturday the 24th ult. being the Anniversary of Saint John the Baptist, the different Masonic Lodges of the place met at Masonic Hall, pursuant to an order from the Right Worshipful Edmund Ward, Esquire, Deputy Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Nova Scotia, and its Masonic jurisdiction, to attend the installation of Worshipful Past Master Benjamin L. Peters, Esquire, as Right Worshipful Deputy Grand Master for the District of Saint John and St. Andrews.

A Grand Lodge was opened in due form by the Right Worshipful Deputy Grand Master, when in conformity with the ancient usages of the fraternity, the ceremony of installation took place. The Brethren then moved in procession to Trinity Church, where the Church Service of the day was performed by the Rev. William Gray, and an appropriate and impressive address delivered by the Right Worshipful the Rev. B. G. Gray, Grand Chaplain, from 1 John, 5, 2. By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments.

The Procession then returned to Masonic Hall, when the Right Worshipful Deputy Grand Master delivered a solemn address suitable to the occasion, taking an affectionate farewell of the Brethren, and committing the charge of the craft into the hands of the Right Worshipful Deputy Grand Master for the district.
The Grand Lodge was then closed, and the Brethren returned to their Lodge Rooms under their respective banners.—Corr.

Upwards of 1550 Emigrants have arrived in this City since the 30th April, many of whom are in a very distressed condition.—Id.

MILITIA GENERAL ORDERS.

The Saint John County Regiment of Militia, will be inspected on the days and places hereafter mentioned, instead of those named in the General Order of the 29th May last:—
1st Division at Carleton, on the 2d day of October.
2d Division at Loch Lomond, on the 3d day of October.
3d Division at Quaco, on the 5th ditto.
By command,
Geo. SMOKE, Adj. Gen. M. F.

MELANCHOLY.—On Wednesday evening last, while in the act of bathing in company with other young men, George Fearerby, a promising youth about 16 years of age was unfortunately drowned, owing, it is generally supposed to having taken a fit of the cramp. His body was found the same evening and interred on Friday last.

From the Halifax Nova Scotian, June 28.
H. M. BIRD DORRANCE.—We are happy to give insertion to the following contradiction of a report which was inserted in the Nova Scotia of the 15th inst. relative to the detention of some American fishing craft in the Bay of Fundy by H. M. B. Dorrance.

PORTSMOUTH, (N. H.) June 8.
The schr. Hammond, Tallyho, from the Bay of Fundy, arrived here yesterday, with a full fare of fish; and informs us, that the articles which appeared in the Eastern Sentinel relative to her capture by H. M. brig Dorrance, has no foundation in truth. Capt. T. states that while on the fishing ground he was boarded by the crew of a large boat from the ship, who treated him with politeness; that the officer merely inquired of him whether he was not fishing too near shore, and on being informed that he was more than 3 miles distant from land, he was left unmolested, with an offer to accompany him to another fishing ground if required. Capt. T. requests this contradiction to have as general a currency as the original report, which has been extensively circulated.

From the New York Albion of June 24.
Lord Charles Somerset, Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, of whom so much has been said in disparagement, has returned to England and challenged his traducers to bring forward their charges. Before leaving the colony, a public dinner was given to his Excellency by the inhabitants; addresses were presented signed by all classes of people, expressive of their esteem for his person and character, and indignation at the conduct of his accusers. The investigation is not to take place before next year.

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEEDINGS.

Scottish Currency.—In the committee of the House on Monday, 18th of May, it was finally settled that Parliament should not meddle with the currency of Scotland for the present. The evidence that came out in the course of the inquiry is stated as such, that both Mr. Peel and the Chancellor of the Exchequer voted with the majority of the Committee.

Free Trade.—Mr. Huskisson, on the 12th of May, on moving for certain returns of shipping, made a most luminous speech in defence of his measures, comprising a mass of matter on practical trade and navigation scarcely now where else to be found.

West India Slavery.—On the 20th of May Mr. Brougham brought the Slave Question before the House of Commons, and after a most voluminous speech offered the following resolution:—

‘That this House has observed with deep regret that nothing effectual has been done by the Legislature of His Majesty's Colonies in the West Indies, in compliance with the declared wishes of his Majesty's Government, and the resolution of this House of the 15th of May, 1823, touching the condition of the slaves; and this House will, therefore, early in the next session of Parliament, take into their most serious consideration such measures as may appear to be necessary for giving effect to the said resolution.’

This resolution having a tendency to pledge the House to adopt compulsory measures against the colonies, was of course opposed by Ministers.—Mr. Canning advocated a mild and conciliatory course of proceeding, and expressed himself desirous of giving the Colonial Legislatures more time to consider and carry into effect the plans for meliorating the condition of the slaves recommended by Earl Bathurst and his Majesty's Government. Mr. Brougham's motion was lost—36 to 100.

Mr. Canning in the House of Commons on the 19th of May, in reply to Lord Milton, who enquired if it was the intention of His Majesty's Government to apply a sum of money to the relief of the distressed manufacturers, stated that, from all the accounts he could collect, the sufferings of the people were essentially mitigated, and that he had good reason to believe that the worst had passed. As to the plan of his Majesty's government applying a sum of money from the national coffers, he was, after mature deliberation, averse to it: because it went to establish a precedent which might hereafter prove inconvenient, and to check the tides of benevolence which were now flowing in such bounteous streams: and because, as he had stated before, the causes which seemed to render such an appropriation necessary, were in a state of alleviation. The subscriptions advertised in the London papers at the last date, amounted to £90,000, nearly four millions of dollars. A correspondent informs us upon the authority of a letter from Kendal, that £100,000 had been in the whole subscribed.

The Communication of J. C. M'Pherson in reply to R. Robertson's of the 27th ult. is received, but came too late for insertion. It will be attended to in our next.

OBITUARY.

At the house of Mr. F. Cameron, in this City, on the 29th ult. Mr. George M'Cook, in the 25th year of his age, formerly a resident in Boston.
At Hampton, King's County, on the 30th ult. after a long and severe illness, in the 43d year of his age, Mr. Joseph Fowler; he has left a wife and nine children to lament his loss. In the death of Mr. F. his numerous connections are deprived of an affectionate relative, and his neighbours of a highly esteemed and valuable member of Society.
On Saturday morning, Sarah, infant daughter of Mr. John Hammond, Junior.
On Friday last, aged 13 months, Isabella, daughter of Mr. Robert Wescott.

GENERAL POST OFFICE, LONDON.

CAUTION.

TO Carriers, Masters of Stagecoaches, Coachmen, Watermen, and Bargemen, Masters of vessels or Passage Boats, either Coastwise, within Great Britain, or to and from Ireland, or to or from Paris beyond the Seas, against unlawfully collecting, carrying, or conveying Letters; AND TO ALL PERSONS whatsoever, against sending Letters otherwise than by the post.

By the Act of the 24th Queen Anne, c. 10,
No person whatsoever shall receive, take up, order, dispatch, convey, carry, re-carry or deliver any Letters, or Packet of Letters, or make any collection of Letters, or employ any vessels or boat, or other conveyance, by sea or land, either coastwise, within Great Britain, or to or from Ireland, or beyond the Seas, on pain of forfeiting £5 for every offence, and £100 for every week that the practice is continued.

This Act renders Carriers, Masters of Coaches, Coachmen, Watermen, Bargemen, and Masters of Vessels, liable to the penalties, even if they carry Letters without hire or reward.

By the Act of 42d Geo. III. c. 81,
No person whatsoever shall send or cause to be sent, or order or deliver, in order to be sent otherwise than by the Post, or to the nearest Post Town, to be forwarded by Post, any Letters or Packets, on pain of forfeiting £5 for every offence.
These penalties may be recovered with costs by any person who will inform and sue for the same; one moiety to the King, and the other to the Informer.

There is an exception as to Letters which concern Goods sent by Common Carriers, so as they are sent with and for the purpose of being delivered with the Goods, without hire, reward, or advantage. Also as to the letters sent by any private friend on his journey, or by any messenger on purpose.

Under this Law a person carrying a Letter may inform against a person sending one.

By an Act of 55 Geo. III. c. 153, masters of vessels opening sealed bags of letters, intrusted to them, or taking thereout letters, or not duly delivering the bags at the Post-office of the Port of Arrival, forfeit £200.

Masters or others having letters in their possession, after the masters, delivering their letters at the Post-office, forfeit £5 for every letter found on board.

The Postmaster General will feel it his duty to enforce payment of the several penalties imposed, on breach of the laws above referred to.

By Command of the Postmaster General, r. s. w.
