The first lecture was enjoyed by a very large audience and it is assured that this lecture is equally instructive and interesting. Admission free, and all interested are invited.

THE PERKINS BUILDING IS TAKEN OVER

Hall & Fairweather Secured Transfer Yesterday—Third Property Sale in This Block in Few Months

The Perkins building in Prince William street, which has been owned by Hall & Fairweather, Ltd., will be occupied by that firm after May 1, 1911, as their wholesale grocery business. Negotiations for the purchase of the building have been under way for some months, but were completed only yesterday, when the money was paid over and the transfer made.

The Perkins building adjoins the Chubb building, near the corner of Prince William and Princess street, and extends from Prince William to Water street. It is four stories in height in Prince William street and five stories in Water street. D. J. Seely & Son occupy a part of the lower floor in Water street. The S. J. McGowan Manufacturing Co. have quarters in the upper part of the building. The ground floor in Prince William street has been vacant for several months.

It is probable that Hall & Fairweather will rent the store in Prince William street and possibly other portions of the building. There have been many applications for space in the building, and several very flattering offers to buy were received since the firm secured their option. Only recently a banking institution endeavored to secure an office in the building.

This is the third building in the block between King and Princess, in Prince William street, to change hands within a few months. The Merchant's Bank secured the Pugsley building at the corner of Church street, the Chubb building was secured by a syndicate only last week, and now the Perkins building has new owners.

Wilfrid Gatz will deliver the third sermon of the series to men, subject, "To the Man Who Has to Fight Doubt;" Mrs. Robertson will render a solo from the Holy City.

WOMAN MISSING ALL WEEK

Mrs. Douglas Robertson of Norton Last Seen in Union Depot

WAS WITH NIECE

Here on Business and Missed Train—Was Waiting for the Next One Home When Last Seen—Widespread Search Unavailing

Mrs. Douglas Robertson, wife of a well known storekeeper at Norton, disappeared from the St. John depot on Saturday evening last, between 5:30 and 6:30 o'clock, and has not since been heard from. The circumstances are such that it is feared she became deranged and wandered away perhaps to her death. Her husband and her family are in a state of terrible grief, and every effort is being made to find some trace of her movements since her disappearance. Miss Anne Clark, of Carleton, last saw her at the depot.

Mrs. Robertson is about five feet six or seven in height, and thin, with pale face and black curling hair. She is forty-four years of age. She wore a long black hat with willow trim, a dark blue skirt and reddish colored waist. Any news of her would be gratefully received by her husband, Douglas Robertson, or her sister, Mrs. James Clark, Victoria street, Carleton.

Mrs. Robertson came to St. John on Wednesday last week, with some produce, as had been her custom at frequent intervals for some years past. She went at once to her sister, Mrs. James Clark, in Carleton. That day and the next she spent attending to business, disposing of the stuff she brought down and paying bills at some wholesale houses who supply her husband's store.

WAS ON FRIDAY

On Friday she complained of being ill, and talked of going home. Her sister prevailed on her to remain until Saturday. On Saturday she still complained of illness, and set out to go home on the 5 o'clock train. Her niece, Miss Annie Clark, went with her to the depot, but they arrived there just a little too late for the train which had departed.

WAS WITH NIECE

Mrs. Robertson decided to go out on the 6:30 train, and suggested that her niece go home and get her supper. For herself, she said she was not at all hungry. Miss Clark went away, leaving her sitting in the waiting room. She was seen there later, with her head leaning her hand as if she were tired. Miss Clark came back again before the 6:30 train went out, but Mrs. Robertson was not there, nor has she since been seen or heard of. Her husband came to the city. Her relatives have presented a search in every direction, but without solving the mystery.

WAS WITH NIECE

Mrs. Robertson was in the most cheerful mood when she left home, and when she arrived in St. John, and up to the moment of her disappearance there was not the least suggestion of any cause for her search, unless the theory that her illness of Friday and Saturday led to mental derangement be accepted.

WAS WITH NIECE

She was devoted to her family, and her husband and children are sorely stricken with grief. The police have been told of the case, but all search has thus far proved fruitless.

WAS WITH NIECE

It is a curious fact that while Mrs. Robertson checked some parcels to Norton, including toys for her children, she also checked some for Suez, with no apparent reason.

DIED IN CHICAGO

James Alfred Cullen of St. John Passed Away There Yesterday

A telegram was received today announcing the death of James Alfred Cullen, in Chicago. He passed away in a private hospital after a brief illness from pneumonia. He was thirty-nine years of age and is survived by his wife and two children. Mr. Cullen left St. John about four years ago and had since then been following his calling as a painter. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Wm. McKee, of City Line, west side, and Mrs. George Fleet, of 31 Broad street; and two brothers, Fred, of St. John, and John, of Newburyport.

Mr. Cullen was very well known here and many will hear with regret of his death. He will be buried in Chicago.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

The special evangelistic service in Waterloo street U. B. church last evening was attended by many and there was good interest manifested. A feature was the presence of several who were personal workers in the recent Torrey meetings, and some who had taken a stand during that time. One business man said he had been converted during the campaign, and if any other place would have been present at Christmas he would have seen what a great change had been effected by his taking on the new life. The pastor, Rev. F. N. Wentworth, gave an interesting sermon on "Spiritual Illumination," and after the close, in response to an appeal to the audience, some present decided for Christ. The service will be continued every night next week, except Saturday. Tomorrow at 4 o'clock there will be a special meeting for men and boys over fourteen years of age. All men are cordially invited to attend and bring their friends.

MEETING TOMORROW.

Evangelist Knight will be the speaker at 8:15 tomorrow evening at a meeting in the Unique Theatre to be conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. His subject will be "Son, Remember." He will address men only.

Store open till 11 p. m. St. John, Jan. 14, 1911.

OAK HALL'S Annual Mid-Winter Sale HAS AN AUSPICIOUS OPENING

Among the Clothing Sales—which, with one excuse and another, have been thrust upon your attention lately—this one stands out like a giant among dwarfs.

Yesterday the opening day of our Sale the store was thronged with eager buyers all day, resulting in the greatest volume of business ever done in any one day during the month of January—and we've held very successful Sales during January in the past few years—but this one promises to surpass them all. Today—Saturday—we expect to do one of the greatest day's business we have ever done, and all next week while the Sale lasts we expect to surpass all previous Sales' records—the interest taken at the opening promises that. And the values! The greatest ever offered in the clothing business in St. John. Make comparisons, and prove this statement to your own satisfaction. Prices in themselves mean nothing—any store can advertise worth so much and reduced to so and so but—its what you get for what you pay that counts.

You cannot afford to miss this extraordinary event. Come every day while the Sale lasts. Get your share of the truly remarkable values.
