

RUGGED SONS OF HEBRIDES MAY FIND LODGEMENT IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Major R. I. Donaldson Tells of Plans Made to This End.

Present plans of the Soldiers' Settlement Board materialize it will not be long before a party of Hebridean lads, not to pass through the prairie lands in Western Canada, but destined to points in New Brunswick to take over farms and till the soil.

Major R. I. Donaldson, district superintendent of the Soldiers' Settlement Board, in conversation with a reporter for The Times yesterday outlined a plan by which it is hoped that some of the Crofters will be induced to settle in New Brunswick. He said that when Rev. Father MacDonnell, who came with Monday's party, arrives at Deer, he will remain there only a short time and will then return to Hebrides to complete arrangements for bringing another party to Canada. On this trip he will be accompanied by a delegation of farmers and business men who will make a special trip to the Maritime Provinces to ascertain what conditions and opportunities await the settler.

To be ready to assist this delegation will be secured by means of a survey of New Brunswick to learn of all lands available for Hebridean settlers. The Maritime Provinces have been explored as yet for these desirable settlers, but action in this regard will be taken immediately and it is expected that good results will obtain.

As a result of a survey already made by the field men of the board it is known there are 100 farms in the province willing to take either single or married men, who have some knowledge of agriculture and will engage them by the year or for a season. Forms are made out describing the kind of help required, the nationality, age, and whether married or single. These are desired, and these are then forwarded to the head office in Ottawa. From there this information is sent to England and it is expected that the near future some of the immigrants arriving on the ocean liners will be destined to points in the province where employment and lodging will await them. This campaign started early this spring and has so far obtained suitable results for development in this line.

Last Saturday Major Donaldson met Captain Desborough, who was former Indian army, on his arrival here on the steamer Montrose. Arrangements have been made by the board to have him suitably located in Kingston, N. S., where he is to have a year's training in musketry. He left yesterday morning for there.

On the arrival of the large party of Hebrideans here yesterday Major Donaldson was on hand to greet his friend Father MacDonnell and render any assistance possible. The men of the party are all going to assured positions in the west, arrangements being made by the board to have them placed in the Soldiers' Settlement Board. E. H. White, an official from the Soldiers' Settlement Board, on their arrival party to the west. On their arrival at Red Deer many of the families will find comfortable cooking utensils, as well as a number of blankets. Some branches and Ladies' Aid Societies, through the co-operation and interest manifested by the board.

ASKS DEFINITE PROPOSAL BE MADE

That he had written the Minister of Marine and Fisheries in connection with the proposed exchange of properties on the west side and pointed out to him that no proposition of any kind had accompanied the plans of the proposed exchange. It was stated this morning by Commissioner Bullock. In his communication he asked for a definite proposal which he could lay before the council and have the matter disposed of as soon as possible.

The properties which it is proposed to exchange are the C. P. R. wharf, so called, owned by the city and the extension to No. 6, owned by the Government. At the present time the city gets very little revenue from the C. P. R. wharf and would have to spend a considerable amount in repairs in the near future, and estimate of $25,000 having been included in this year's budget for that purpose.

THEY MUST REPORT AT TEN TOMORROW

German Reparations Question Will Enter on New Phase—The Ruhr Problem.

Paris, April 8.—The time of the official delivery to the Allied Reparations Commission of the reports of both the expert committees will be definitely fixed today for ten o'clock Wednesday morning.

In connection with the Ruhr, the experts indicate that the economic re-establishment of Germany can be durable only on one condition; namely, the economic unity of the country must be entirely re-established.

Without raising the question of the military occupation of the Ruhr, the experts indicate that it will be necessary for Germany to resume free disposal of the customs and trade in the Ruhr territory occupied by French troops.

(British United Press.)
Paris, April 8.—The Matin today publishes what it calls a "complete resume of the Dawes report." It stresses the various sources from which funds for reparations payments are to be obtained, and understands these are to be interdependent, so that if one source of revenue from the others will be increased proportionately.

For example, says the Matin, a deficit on the railways will result in a supplementary tax on Germany's fiscal resources.

"The project," the Matin says, "is based on the following alternative: Either assure a reparations minimum annuity of two and one-half billion gold marks and a maximum of three billions, or mobilization of capital of at least sixteen billions to which a minimum of one and one-half billion of his real estate interests in the city and county, Queens county and Moncton.

BURIED TODAY.
The funeral of Mrs. Caroline Maynes was held this afternoon from the residence of her nephew, William Kilpatrick, Rothesay, to the family lot at Hammond River. Service was conducted by Rev. Canon Daniel.

PRESENTATIONS TO J. S. FLAGLER

Two Gifts Handed Retiring Postmaster at the Post Office Today.

The esteem in which J. S. Flagler, who is retiring from the office of Postmaster at St. John after a service of 34 years in the department here, of held by those whom he has been connected for so long a period was shown this afternoon when a double presentation was made at the office, one gift being from the clerks and the other from the letter carriers.

Mr. Flagler had been invited to call at the post office at two o'clock this afternoon and at that hour the men all gathered around the office to present their gifts. Mr. Flagler, with Mr. Lingley, then on behalf of the postal clerks, presented to Mr. Flagler a beautiful club bag and in doing so voiced the regret which all felt at the departure of the retiring postmaster. Mr. Lingley then, on behalf of the letter carriers, presented to Mr. Flagler a handsome walking stick, suitably engraved, and after expressing regret at losing Mr. Flagler, he voiced the hope that he would live long to enjoy his well earned holiday.

In his reply Mr. Flagler assured the donors that he appreciated the gifts and would always treasure them, but he appreciated more than the gift itself the spirit which lay behind. He accepted the remembrances as expressions of the good will which he had always striven to maintain in the office.

Mr. Flagler is taking a six months leave of absence and at the end of that time he has asked for his superannuation.

HOTEL PLANS ARE HERE TODAY

CHURCH UNION PETITION GOES TO COMMONS

Ottawa, April 8.—(Canadian Press.)—The petition for the Church Union Bill was today reported to the House of Commons by the standing orders committee, which decided, on division, that the notice had been sufficient.

Mr. Stork Comes House-Hunting

Paris, April 8.—The advent of spring already manifest in Paris was officially heralded at Strasbourg by the arrival of the famous "pilot stork."

This legendary bird, arriving at day-break swung over the majestic cathedral, dipped its wings as it passed over the prefect's residence and began to inspect the hundred and one households of the ancient quarters—its traditional secular homes of the stork.

This mission will occupy the scout several days. Then the pilot stork will leave as mysteriously as it arrived, to be replaced by the stork of the future.

Three days later the same scout will fly back into Strasbourg this time followed by hundreds of storks lined in battle formation.

At the physiological moment pains will fall out and settle on households selected by the pilot stork, for the summer of 1924.

BOWLERS PLAN FOR ELIMINATION

The Brunswick Balke Colander trophy tournament will be contested in Eastport on April 22, 23 and 24. Three local teams are to enter an elimination contest to decide which will represent this city in the play-off. They are the Y. M. C. A., Blacks and the Imperials.

It is expected that the first game will be played on Thursday evening, and the final game will be played on Saturday evening. The grand total pinfall to decide the issue.

Whether big bowling game will be played here tomorrow evening on the Imperial alley when the Y. M. C. A. and the Victoria alley teams will meet to decide the championship of the Inter-Alley League. At present time the Vics are leading by two points, so the Y. M. C. A. will have to take three points to tie or four points to win the title.

J. S. FLAGLER.

SHED IS READY ON CONTRACT TIME

New Potato Warehouse Put to Use in a Day or Two.

The new potato shed on the west side, built for the Federal Government, is about complete and will be ready for occupancy in a day or two, it was announced this morning at the office of the resident engineer.

This shed was erected by the Parsons Ed Co., of Moncton and will be completed within the contract time, which expires on Saturday, April 12. This will practically double the amount of space at this port for the handling of potatoes and enable the shippers to handle them to much better advantage and shorten the loading time of steamers here for full cargoes of potatoes.

A fire wall has been erected between the new shed and that of the city and should a fire occur in either one it would prevent it from spreading to the other.

GOVERNOR AT ST. DUNSTON'S MASS

Attends Father Boyd's First Celebration—Welcomed by Dean Carney.

J. S. FLAGLER.

In its account of the celebration of his first mass by Rev. Charles Boyd in St. Dunstan's church, Fredericton, on Sunday morning, the Fredericton Gleamer says:

"His Honor Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Todd were present at Rev. Father Boyd's first mass on Sunday morning. They were met at the church door and escorted to seats by Dean Carney. Before mass began Dean Carney on behalf of the congregation extended a welcome to the Lieutenant Governor on this, his first official visit to the church on behalf of His Majesty the King. Father Carney said that while the Governor would be welcome personally, that he was much more welcome as representing the head of our nation. He mentioned that a special prayer of the church ordered by the Pope for this month was for our civil rulers. During the prayers before mass, Dean Carney offered prayer for King George and our civil rulers.

"A delegation of residents of Gagetown, where the young priest was a school teacher before he entered upon his preparation to enter the priesthood, was here to attend Rev. Father Boyd's first mass, and there were many other visitors at the church.

"At the evening service at St. Dunstan's church Rev. Father Boyd officiated at Benediction. At the conclusion of the service Dr. Philip Cox, of the University of New Brunswick, president of the Holy Name Society, read an appropriate address and presented a purse containing $200. The altar boys presented a beautiful bouquet of roses and little John Keenan, an altar boy, acting for the Ladies' Auxiliary, handed him a handsome gold chalice and paten. Dean Carney then addressed the young priest, conveying the good wishes of the donors of these gifts."

Sure Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe, and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this, get two ounces of peroxide of hydrogen, and one ounce of salicylic acid. Mix them in a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and dry. You will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that permeate the pores of the skin. The form in the pores of the skin. The form in the pores of the skin. The form in the pores of the skin.
