

PARIS SCIENTIST VISITING CITY

PROF. CRISTON WILL LECTURE IN THEATRE
On Wednesday — Thursday Next—
Some Impressions Received During Travels in America.

An eminent French medical scientist, Professor Criston of Paris, France, ex-president of the School of Beauty, Culture, and Dermatology, of that European metropolis is visiting the city. He intends delivering lectures on Wednesday and Thursday afternoon of next week at the Victoria theatre. His discourses are reported to be exceptionally instructive and particularly interesting in view of the fact that the practicability of his methods is demonstrated by Madame E. M. Maye, who, although 38 years of age, looks as young again as a direct result, the professor claims, of the French and Roman Arts in the practice of which he is an acknowledged authority.

Professor Criston has been touring the American continent for the past several months, and the impressions received during his extensive travels are exceedingly edifying. While in the eastern parts of the United States he was struck with the friendly relations existing between that country and the British. He was there during the recent visit of the Prince Louis of Battenberg and his squadron, and was present at a diplomatic gathering of the representatives of the different nations presided over by President Roosevelt. Those who occupied the positions of honor, he remarked, were the consuls of Great Britain and France, demonstrating that the sentiment of animosity, so long existing between the two latter nations, was gradually being overcome. In fact he added that the English speaking people and the French were becoming friendly as they have hitherto been estranged, something which he looks upon as most desirable. Naturally Professor Criston entertains a lofty admiration for his countrymen, and gives expression to the opinion that with the Anglo-Saxon and French races combined other nationalities will have to stand aside. "I noticed one remarkable thing while in the East," he went on, "and that was the friendliness existing of the French and British sailors—some warships of the former nationality being in port at that time. They fairly hung upon each other's decks, a thing that would hardly be credited by those who remember conditions some fifty years ago."

Of British Columbia, and the great West generally, Prof. Criston speaks in the highest terms. He thinks that there are fortunes lying in wait in this province, and that only development is required to bring them to light. Capital and labor is what is needed, he contends, and with those two essentials there will be a wonderful advance throughout Canada.

When his attention was drawn to the possibilities here for settlers, and France contributed to the emigration flowing in this direction Prof. Criston stated that his countrymen were not a roving people. They were fond of their homes, and in most cases found occupation upon their own shores. In any case they were not the class necessary in an infant country. While as agriculturists, that is in its ordinary forms, they were a failure, their forte was in the mechanical or professional line. For the most part they were skilled workmen, specialists in trade or whatever branch might have been chosen for their life's work. Again the professor showed his love of his country by entering upon a glowing account of their many estimable attributes, while acknowledging that they were by no means as desirable settlers as the British, German or Scandinavian. Those who were leaving for South America, he said, were mostly merchants, not farmers, and believed that there were more openings there for business enterprise than in Canada at the present time.

Scientifically, Prof. Criston says the World is making phenomenal advances. While he did not attend the recent convention of medical men at Paris personally he is well acquainted with what occurred from information supplied by his brother, who is one of the most prominent in professional circles in France. He could not say anything in support of the theory of Behring's reported discovery of a remedy for that dread disease tuberculosis. Such a thing, however, was by no means improbable, and with announcement as to whether or not it has proved effective. Already the distinguished visitor has met a number of local practitioners. He was particularly pleased to meet Dr. Ernest Hall, who took a post-graduate course at one of the universities he attended. While in the city Prof. Criston is making his headquarters at the Dominion hotel.

Secretary H. Cuthbert, secretary of the Tourist Association, has received two diplomas from the management of the Lewis and Clark centennial exposition as awards for the best display of grain and fruit, and for stuffed and mounted game birds of this province. The former carries with it a gold medal and the latter a bronze medal. The Victoria Tourist Association has also been advised that it has been awarded a silver medal for stuffed animals, a silver medal for a collection of ores, a silver medal for a mounted game fish of British Columbia, a silver medal for a mounted game bird, and a silver medal for a mounted game animal.

A lot in the rear of Porter's butcher shop on Government street has been leased and fenced for the use of the Victoria meteorological station. On the premises certain instruments will be kept for the observation of atmospheric conditions.

LANOLEY-BAISS

Military Wedding at Christ Church Cathedral Wednesday Afternoon.

Wednesday afternoon the marriage of Miss Gladys Annie Monn, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bais, of Cook street, and Capt. W. H. Langley, acting adjutant Fifth Regiment, C.A., second son of the late Mr. A. J. Langley, was solemnized at Christ Church cathedral. The wedding was a military one, the officers of the Fifth Regiment, and the men of No. 2 Company attending and lining the aisle of the church. As the bride party left the church they passed beneath an arch formed by the groom's fellow officers, and the bride's fellow officers.

The members of No. 2 Company in attending paid a high compliment to Capt. Langley, who is one of its officers. No. 2 as now constituted was formerly Nos. 3 and 4, the former of which was commanded by Capt. Langley.

The bride was attended by Miss Amy and Miss Dorothy Bulver. The groom was supported by Mr. C. B. Strickland, and Capt. Angus, Fifth Regiment, C.A.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Beauland, assisted by the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Columbia.

After the ceremony at the church the party returned to the residence of the bride's parents, where a wedding repast was served.

COURTS RESUME AFTER VACATION

LOG SEIZURE CASE
HAS BEEN POSTPONED
The Chinaman Accused of Keeping a Gambling House Will be Tried on February 2nd.

The court vacation is over and business was resumed to-day. Next week the Pull court will sit in this city, opening on Tuesday. In consequence of this all other business will have to take its chance on being heard. This morning sitting in Chambers Mr. Justice Martin, referring to this condition of affairs, expressed the hope that before long the act would be amended so as to permit of the County court judge here taking Chambers applications under circumstances of this kind when the Supreme court judges were occupied with the Pull court sitting.

Mr. Justice Martin presided in Chambers this morning. Before proceeding to dispose of the list, His Lordship said that it was the first occasion since the new year upon which he had been permitted to meet the members of the bar. He wished them the compliments of the season, which was returned on behalf of the bar by A. D. Taylor, K. C., of Vancouver.

The following applications were disposed of:

Richards vs. Williams et al.—An application for examination and discovery of documents. A reciprocal order was made. A. D. Taylor, K. C., for the plaintiff; J. Walls for defendant.

Re Lenora M. Sicker Mining Co.—An application as to direction was abandoned.

Levy vs. Levy—An application to extend the time for an answer. The order was made. J. Walls for plaintiff; A. McLean for defendant.

In the estate of Francis Miller, deceased, directions were asked as to paying out of court the remaining sum of $250. The direction was given. H. D. Twigg made the application.

Emerson vs. Skinner, a petition relative to the seizure of logs at Nanaimo, was allowed to stand over until the 11th. A. D. Taylor, K. C., for the plaintiff; H. A. McLean, deputy attorney-general for the plaintiff. This action arises out of the seizure by the provincial government official of a boom of logs which it was claimed was to be taken to the United States. Mr. Emerson, the owner of the logs, claims, and says the logs were not to be taken out of the province. The logs remain under seizure until the trial.

In the estate of Jas. A. Hughes, deceased, on application of J. Walls a probate will was granted.

In Rossland tax sale, H. A. Courtney asked to have a sale confirmed. The order was made.

County Court.

In the County court this morning the case Rex vs. Chan Chu Lan came up before Judge Lampman. In this the accused is charged with keeping a gambling house, and elected for speedy trial. W. C. Moresby appeared for the crown, and Alexis Martin for the prisoner. Mr. Moresby applied for a month's adjournment in order to secure certain necessary witnesses.

This was granted, and the trial fixed for February 2nd.

The County court will sit on Monday.

MARRIED AT SIDNEY.

Happy Function Took Place at Residence of Mr. J. J. White Wednesday.

A very large gathering of friends and relatives assembled Wednesday at the residence of Mr. J. J. White, Sidney, to witness the marriage of Miss Ethel St. John Robertson, a niece of the Messrs. Roberts, to Mr. Robert Forson, of Quenselle, B. C. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Reid.

Promptly at 2 p. m. the bride appeared, leaning on the arm of Mr. J. J. White, while the wedding March was rendered by Miss Edith Brethour. The bride was attended by her sisters, Misses Jessie and Janet Robertson, while the groom was supported by Mr. Edgar E. Brethour. The bride wore a beautiful costume of cream tulle over tulle, with the usual veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and maidenhair fern. The bridesmaids were dressed in pongee silk and carried bouquets of pink carnations. The groom's party consisted of a gold watch and chain, and to the bridesmaids' necklaces of Cariboo gold. To the groomsmen he presented a nugget pin of the same gold.

After the ceremony, amid showers of rice and old shoes, the wedding party drove to the Sidney pavilion, where the dinner had been prepared. The pavilion had been tastefully decorated for the occasion, and the tables were spread in the centre of the hall. Rev. Dr. Reid was the life of the company, and kept all amused by his witty sallies and continual flow of good humor. The toast of the bride was responded to by the groom in a neat little speech, which showed that he at least was not nervous over the occasion. Speeches by Messrs. Julius Brethour and Henry Brethour, uncles of the bride, and toasts innumerable, brought the festivities to a close.

At 9 p. m. a reception was held in the pavilion, where, under an arch of holly and mistletoe, the happy couple received the congratulations and good wishes of their many friends. Music was furnished by the Talbot orchestra for one of the most enjoyable dances ever held in the pavilion.

The bride party left for Victoria at 11 p. m., amid showers of rice, and on their way to their home in Quenselle, B. C. The bride wore a travelling dress, consisting of a green cloth suit, with hat to match. Her departure did not interfere with the festivities. At midnight the company to the number of eighty sat down to an excellent supper, most tastefully arranged in the dance hall. As soon as the tables were cleared dancing was resumed and carried on till a late hour in the morning, when the company dispersed after heartily thanking Mr. and Mrs. White, the host and hostess of the evening.

The manager of the Home for Aged and Infirm acknowledges, with thanks, the following donations for the month of December: Mrs. B. W. Pearce, Illustrated London News and tobacco; Mrs. J. A. Mara, large parcel magazines, Graphics and Black and White; Mrs. Pemberton, 1 sack pears, 1 sack apples; Mrs. R. Philson, ham and bacon; Mrs. J. H. Todd, cash, $5; Mrs. L. J. Quagliotti, turkey and San Francisco newspapers; Mrs. McCullough, parcel Saturday Evening Post; Mrs. George J. Johnston, turkey; Mrs. L. N. Mills, 3 volumes Sherlock Holmes; Mrs. Stoddart, clothing; Mrs. Van Tassel, preserves and fruit; Mrs. Bayliss, Queen's hotel, whiskey; W. H. Fernie, cash, $10; R. McFadden, Ideal Provision Store, turkey; Phoenix brewery, 3 dozen bottles of beer; M. R. Smith & Son, box cakes (mixed); Gowen & Wriglesworth, box Japanese oranges; Fell & Co., figs and wine; Mrs. J. H. Todd, cash, $5; H. D. Helms, paid a personal visit to the home, and dispensed Christmas luxuries to the inmates.

The members of the Victoria fire department wish to tender a vote of thanks to the following citizens, who contributed to the dinner held in the fire hall on New Year's Eve: Hotel Victoria, Hotel Davis, Sietz restaurant, Victoria hotel, restaurant, Dominion hotel, Queen's hotel, Commercial hotel, King Edward hotel, Empire restaurant, Brown & Cooper, Smith & Wootton, Army & Navy Cigar Store, Wootton Bros., Morris' Cigar Store. The department in return wish all contributors a happy New Year.

THE ASSESSING OF VACANT TOWNSHIPS

Act Applying to Them Gives Trouble in Interpreting—C. P. R. Appeals From Tax Levied

In the Kootenay country the Assessment Act as applied to townships is giving some trouble. The Nelson News says:

The provincial statutes relating to assessment were amended at the last session of the legislature. Chapter 51, section 51, directs assessment commissioners to determine the value according to fair market prices, not at forced sales. But section 60 of the same chapter closes with the words "but in no case shall the assessed value of any lot in a township be less than $25."

Formerly many were assessed at $5. As the tax is only 3 or 4 per cent, it would amount to the levying of a single lot to 3 or 4 cents, which was wiped out by the postage. But the remedy provided produces some curious results.

Some Columbia townships by the score, many of them, probably a majority, contain not a single inhabitant. There are cases where townships of 1,000 lots could be purchased at $5,000, or even less, but the amended law they must be assessed at $25,000 and taxes paid accordingly.

Moreover a township once registered cannot be sold until the registered owner is in possession of every lot. The sale of one lot precludes cancellation, and few townships are all in the control of any individual owner. The C. P. R. company happens to be the owner of many such properties. They have appealed in every case from the assessment commissioners to the courts of review. Any one revising officer in the province is faced with the same problem.

So far, however, the C. P. R. has so far allowed the appeal in spite of the statute. In the other cases the company will probably appeal to the Supreme court for a ruling as to which of the two conflicting sections of the off-lying chapter is the law.

Some time ago the C. P. R. company gave notice of appeal from the assessment of Kitchener township. Basil G. Hamilton, of Calgary, who has special charge of the company's lands in British Columbia, arrived from Rossland Wednesday night, and the court convened at 11 p. m. in the office of the gold commissioner, Mr. J. W. Jones.

Mr. Hamilton presented his appeal, and assessment commissioners Alex. Lucas and R. A. Renwick opposed.

The appeal was preceded by several minor adjustments and corrections to errors in the number of lots and of acres in the company's holdings in the Nelson assessment district.

Mr. Hamilton—Your Honor, I appeal from the assessment of all lots in Kitchener township at $25. The figure is too high. There are no offers to purchase at that figure. The company is considering an offer that will not cover the cost of the land, and if lots already sold can be repurchased and the townsite cancelled.

Mr. Renwick—Have you ever sold a lot there as low as $25?

After the ceremony, amid showers of rice and old shoes, the wedding party drove to the Sidney pavilion, where the dinner had been prepared. The pavilion had been tastefully decorated for the occasion, and the tables were spread in the centre of the hall. Rev. Dr. Reid was the life of the company, and kept all amused by his witty sallies and continual flow of good humor. The toast of the bride was responded to by the groom in a neat little speech, which showed that he at least was not nervous over the occasion. Speeches by Messrs. Julius Brethour and Henry Brethour, uncles of the bride, and toasts innumerable, brought the festivities to a close.

At 9 p. m. a reception was held in the pavilion, where, under an arch of holly and mistletoe, the happy couple received the congratulations and good wishes of their many friends. Music was furnished by the Talbot orchestra for one of the most enjoyable dances ever held in the pavilion.

The bride party left for Victoria at 11 p. m., amid showers of rice, and on their way to their home in Quenselle, B. C. The bride wore a travelling dress, consisting of a green cloth suit, with hat to match. Her departure did not interfere with the festivities. At midnight the company to the number of eighty sat down to an excellent supper, most tastefully arranged in the dance hall. As soon as the tables were cleared dancing was resumed and carried on till a late hour in the morning, when the company dispersed after heartily thanking Mr. and Mrs. White, the host and hostess of the evening.

W. A. Jowett—As the statute is definite, and Kitchener is a registered township, I think this court must dismiss the appeal. The assessment is correct.

Mr. Hamilton remarked that the assessment of Gerrard and Robson townships had been reduced below the $25 limit, and an appeal had been filed in the case of Nakusp. The court remarked feelingly that it had bought a lot in Nakusp at $200.

Other townships were discussed in which the valuation of $25 a lot seemed even more inequitable than in the case of Kitchener. Mr. Hamilton explained that they were not controlled entirely by the company, and that others paid the taxes or a large proportion of them.

Mr. Jowett—I understand. When someone else is paying the taxes, the company's interest in the assessment ceases.
