FELL OVER WHARF TO ROCKS BELOW

Chamberlain Sandall's Son Ewing was Picked up Unconscious, But His Injuries are Not Serious

Ewing Sandall, the 18 year old son of Fred Sandall of Pitt street, fell over the railway wharf at the foot of Mecklenburg street, and received very painful injuries.

The young man was standing on the wharf and in some manner lost his balance and fell to the rocks below, a distance of about twenty feet. The accident occurred yesterday afternoon, and as the tide was out there was nothing to prevent him lighting on the rocks.

Some men who were working in a factory near by picked the boy up and carried him home. He was unconscious and Dr. Berryman was immediately summoned.

The doctor after working with him for a short time restored him to consciousness. He was found to have received very severe bruises on the back, but fortunately no bones were broken. Dr. Berryman said that the injuries were not of a permanent nature. Late this night the injured youth was reported to be resting as well as could be expected but was suffering considerably pain.

All Vermont, who was appointed by the safety board to obtain the record of the city's legal adviser yesterday.

It is understood that the recorder has expressed the opinion that the board can legally investigate the matter on the ground that, although the appointment, suspension and dismissal of policemen is vested in the chief of police the board is placed in control of the department under the act, and is responsible for its efficiency. In consequence of the decision, the investigation has been asked for by Almore Snow, father of John Snow, and the communications from his counsel, Daniel Mullin, K. C., will be laid before the common council tomorrow together with the recorder's opinion. It is probable that an investigation under oath will now be held.
