SURRENDERED AND SENTENCED TO DIE

Admiral Nebogoff and Others Convicted—Sentence However May be Changed

NO EXAMPLE

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 27.—The court-martial which has been trying Rear-Admiral Nebogoff and 78 officers of his squadron for surrendering to the Japanese at the Battle of the Sea of Japan on May 28, 1905, handed in its decision at 10 o'clock tonight.

Vice-Admiral Nebogoff, Commander Lyche, of the coast defence fleet General Admiral Apraxine; Rear-Admiral Gropoff, of the coast defence ship Admiral Zhelezny, and Lieut. Smirnov, who succeeded to the command of the battleship Nicolai, were sentenced to death, but, in view of the extenuating circumstances and the long and otherwise blameless careers of these officers, the court will petition the Emperor to commute their sentences to 10 years' imprisonment in a fortress.

Four other officers are sentenced to short terms of imprisonment in a fortress, while the remainder are acquitted on the charges brought against them.

The Government prosecutor in his closing address declared that the infliction of the death penalty under these circumstances was out of harmony with the spirit of the times, but he declared that the guilt of the officers in question found no example in history. Rear-Admiral Nebogoff, he averred, could have transferred all his commands to one battleship and then sunk the rest of his squadron. The Rear-Admiral made an emotional reply in which he dwelt upon the ignorance of the prosecutor, who, he said, has worn the uniform of the navy for only one year.

The binding of hundreds of people together in one grand trust, for the furtherance of unlimited progress in commerce, is the exclusive scheme of the foremost business school in Canada. Those who purchase a course in this school are life members of the organization. They do not buy a six month course with the hope of getting a situation, but they do purchase and secure a first-class business training which entitles and secures a position of responsibility. Does it and they? No. The pupils pin their faith to the unlimited progress plan—after securing position they go back to the school in their spare evening hours and by interchanging ideas with scores of experts they become expert themselves in many securing three and a half advances, in salary, within a year. "Once a pupil always a pupil," is the rule of this school, and every ambitious finished pupil knows what immense value this unlimited progress scheme has been to them individually.

This sensible and appealing proposition is offered by the Currie Business University, Ltd., until the New Year, at present rates, after which the prices will advance $1-1-2 per contract. Contracts should be closed at once. Only one-half the tuition fee is required in advance—balance held by the pupil until position is secured.

The police took charge of the case, and discovered that Dina Alma was the son of a physician who used to practice in Berlin and was 35 years old. He had been knocking about Europe for years, and was believed to be touched with insanity. The magnificent diamonds were all false.

BERLIN, Dec. 28.—A remarkable story comes from Breslau. A teacher of that city a short time ago went to Paris to perfect himself in the French language. While there he made the acquaintance of a woman named Dina Alma de Breslau, daughter of a French Consul there. She wore magnificent jewels, and was altogether charming.

The Breslau teacher fell in love with her, they were engaged, and the happy teacher returned to Breslau to make preparations for their marriage. Dina Alma arrived in Breslau shortly afterward and took up her abode in a fashionable pensionnat there. She went about with her fiance making purchases for their future home. In some unexplained way, however, the people of the pensionnat began to have misgivings about Dina Alma. Like Charley's Aunt, who was also from Breslau, she was not what she seemed, and the suspicion that she was a man in woman's clothes was strengthened. She was accused of false pretences. Dina Alma thereupon took poison, and in a few minutes was dead. Her hair, bust and hips were all false.

ENGLISHMAN LOST IN ALPINE SNOWSTORM

He and a Guide are Without Food in Hut for 48 Hours.

GENEVA, Dec. 28.—Mr. Turner, an English Alpineist of about 30, arrived at the Hotel National, at Adelboden, on Monday with the intention of crossing the Col Bonderkrindon—7200 feet high—and descending to Kandersteg, where friends awaited him. The guides refused to risk their lives, but finally a guide named Amislaw accepted a liberal payment, and the couple set out, in spite of warnings, on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

The ascent was watched through telescopes until the couple were lost to view in a violent snowstorm near the summit. Their only hope of life was to reach a hut on the pass, and the couple struggled on through six feet of snow. They arrived at the hut exhausted and without food, for they had brought none, as the Col in ordinary conditions is easy to climb.

The couple were buried alive in the hut, and on Monday ten guides left Adelboden to search for them at great risk of being swept away by avalanches. Several of the rescuers were injured and the party returned.

A second search party, arranged with the greatest difficulty, for the guides were unwilling to face the avalanches, finally dug their way to the hut Thursday and found Mr. Turner and his guide starving, frozen and in the last stages of exhaustion. They had been imprisoned for forty-eight hours. The rescuers carried the couple to Adelboden.

The director of the hotel telephoned that Mr. Turner is in bed and a doctor is attending him. His wife has arrived from Lausanne. No serious consequences are feared in his case, but the guide's hands and feet are badly frost-bitten.
