To Mrs. Mary Lord:

Dear Sister: We the officers and members of Golden Rod Lodge, No. 212, desire to extend our warmest sympathy in this your hour of deep grief. It is impossible to express the sympathy we felt when we heard of the death of your beloved husband Sydney Lord, who was taken so suddenly from his loved ones. Knowing that words fail to comfort such sorrow as yours, we therefore direct you to Him who heals every pain. By committing you all to Him who will find help in every time of need. Our prayer is that our Heavenly Father will give you grace sufficient to overcome your sorrow and say "Thy will be done." We cannot always see the purpose of those afflictions but God knows what is best for us and we should humbly acknowledge His will. We therefore point you to the Great Comforter who doth all things well and look for that bright and happy day when friends will meet again and where parting will be no more.

Signed on behalf of Golden Rod Lodge No. 212, L. T. B. A.

CATARRH STAMPED OUT!

LOATHSOME DISEASE CURABLE.

Chronic Cases Cannot Exist with Morriscy's No. 26 for Internal and External Use.

ROGERSVILLE, N. B., April 6, 1910

A few words as to the merit of your Catarrh Cure. For the last 10 years I was troubled with Catarrh of the head and stomach, and during that time tried all kinds of remedies with no results. I was, however, determined to find a cure, and hearing of your No. 26 decided to give it a trial, and am glad to say it has cured me, and I highly recommend it to all Catarrh sufferers.

A. C. Philocheant, General Merchant.

The above prescription is not a "Cure-All" or so-called patent medicine. Dr. Morriscy prescribed it for 44 years, and it cured thousands after other doctors failed.

Price, 50c. for the combined treatment at your dealers, or Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Limited, Montreal, 70c.

The Age Of Animals.

By Emmett Campbell Hall.

Undoubtedly the longest lived animal on earth is the whale, its span of existence being estimated by Cuvier at 1000 years. The next largest animal, the elephant, will, under favorable conditions, live 400 years. When Alexander the Great conquered Porus, king of India, he took a great elephant that had fought gallantly for the defeated king, named him Ajax, dedicated him to the sun, placed upon him a metal band with the inscription, "Alexander, the son of Jupiter, dedicated Ajax to the sun." The elephant was found alive, three hundred and fifty years later.

The average age of cats is fifteen years; of squirrels seven or eight years; of rabbits, seven; a bear rarely exceeds twenty years; a wolf, twenty; a fox, fourteen to sixteen. Lions are comparatively long-lived, instances having been recorded where they reached the age of seventy years. Pigs have been known to live to the age of twenty years, and horses to sixty, but the average age of a horse is twenty-five to thirty. Camels sometimes live to the age of 100, and stags are very long-lived, one having been taken by Charles VI. in the forest of Senlis which bore about its neck a collar on which was engraved, "Caesar hoc mihi donavit."

Whether or not this stag had actually lived since the days of one of the Caesars, it is impossible to say, but the evidence seems good.

Eagles occasionally, and ravens frequently, reach the age of 100 years, and swans have been known to live 300 years. A tortoise has been known to live 107 years.

Efforts have been made to connect the capacity of the pulse-beat with longevity, no logical conclusion can be reached, as will be seen from the fact that the pulse of a lion beats forty times a minute; that of a tiger, ninety-six times; of a horse, forty times; of a wolf, forty-five times; of a fox, forty-three times; of a bear, thirty-three times, and of an eagle, one hundred and sixty times. It has been impossible to count the beats of an elephant's pulse, but that of a butterfly beats sixty times to the minute.

The wise man carries two kinds of cigars, one kind that he himself smokes and the other that he gives to people who bore him.

It is like a man to buy his wife a dress and select a blond dress for a brunette woman.

Salesclerks are apt to prefer male customers because they are such easy marks.

The small boy's ambition has shifted from baseball to aviation.

Some of our most upright legislators are those who never felt the tug of a cable pulling them into oblique courses.

Look out for the woman who feels it her duty to tell you the mean things that Mrs. Brown said about you.

It takes a great mind to prefer criticism to praise.

Any man can advise another how to build a house, but no man can build one that will suit himself a week.

Face a problem firmly and you can sometimes stare it out of countenance.

He who is gifted with a strong sense of his own importance is never at a loss for a grievance.

On Getting.

Get money, run the saying—er, honest, if you may—At once, without hesitating, but get it anyway.

But in the getting frantic, be sure you do not make the oyster of the ante that keeps a man awake.

It's pleasant to have plenty. To make things come across. As you may lay up a twenty. And never feel the loss. But if the stuff is tainted it isn't you will earn. As long as its carried. To have the cash to burn.

A conscience that can slumber. In hours to close the eyes. You easily may number. As something of a prize. One that is ever ready. Your easy ways to trap. Is not a comfort steady.

When you would take a nap. Get money, that's the ticket. But, have a little care. When from the oven you pick it. That you are on the square. Thus peace that is adding. It brings instead of strife. When you are gently aiding. The shady side of life.

Friends No Longer.

"Jones doesn't speak to Brown now."

"Is that a fact?"

"True as preaching."

"Money matters?"

"No, babies."

"How is that?"

"Brown's baby can climb up and say 'Goo!'"

"Well?"

"The Jones' baby, the same age, can just creep."
