

THIS machine seals your letters 100 a minute, counts them and delivers them stacked, ready for mailing.

It seals envelopes of any kind, size, or thickness, without sorting, and better than can be done by hand.

It is motor-driven—turn the switch to start, turn it again to stop. The saving it effects makes the cost unimportant.

Let us show you the sealer at work in your own office.

Editor's Talk

SOME subscribers are generous and some quite critical. We confess that we like the generous kind, though the others may be better for us. The following letter, with several others of a like hue, was a help on our last "blue Monday":

"The Canadian Courier,
"Toronto.

"Gentlemen,—Please find enclosed $3.00, amount due on subscription. We enjoy the Courier very much and although we take other papers, still I feel that I can get general news from your paper with less reading than any other.

"Wishing you every success, I am,

"Yours faithfully,
"BENJ. FULLER."

"Nipigon, Ont."

THIS week's story is from the pen of a young Nova Scotian who was just making his earliest mark in journalism when the Grim Reaper reached out his sickle. It has a greater interest on that account. For itself it is direct evidence of the peculiar effect which the story of Captain Kidd still makes on the Nova Scotia imagination.

THOSE who go on holidays should bear in mind two points. The first is that if they do not send in a change of address, they will surely find The Canadian Courier arriving late. Secondly, they should remember that the editor is always in need of unusual and attractive photographs.
