SPORTING SPOTLIGHT Frosh Capture

The Batherst game may well be termed "the game with the story book ending". Saturday was Jimmy Ross' birthday and so the boys decided to buy Jinmy a present. Well to cut a long story short the gang ran out of cash, six goals was all they could gather together between them and the gosh darn storekeeper say, "Sorry boys but six goals won't buy that present but seven will. Well it's just about this time that Jimmy went down to defeat beneath the Joy Riders being the winners. walks in and hears of the plight of the gang. He rather liked the look of the present and decided he would hate to lose it, consequently Jimmy made up his mind to help by centributing the seventh goal. So with ten seconds to go the Sussex Flash dashed in, swooped around the defence (closed his eyes—said a prayer) then let it go. You ail know the rest showed pleuty of spirit but found and defeated the Freshmen 1275of the story—the puck went in and once mere U.N.B. was on the long end of the score as the final whistle blew.

This game was the best played by Varsity up until that time. The team was minus their regular coach, Shorty Clark, however George Bond is to be congratulated on his fine job as Shorty's representative in Bathurst. While on the subject of Varsity hockey it might be well to mention that the Junior Oddfellows suffered a 7-2 defeat at the hands of the Red and Black puck squad. U. N. B. showed a definite weakness around the net until the third period when they shoved in four goals in quick

Eke Out 7-6 Win

Last Friday night Bathurst hockey fixtures of the current season when Boog Young's battling six squeezed slip one by the uprights before the Frosh, and were literally run ragged out a close 7-6 win over the Papermakers. The teams were very even in every department and it was whistle blew. The weather man with a fine sheet of ice and a fast, thrill-packed game was the resuit. Jimmy Ross, Varsity wingman, was the hero of the game when he put the goods on the shelf for U.N.B. with his winning counter in the dying minutes of the game.

At the end of the first period the Frosh game was tied 1-1. The teams took Sophs the ice in the second stretch to each 'Seniors

The Wond

I idly traced the date, January 21st, 1944, across the top of my loose leaf, in the first stage of my doddling exercises which usually result in a surrealist nightmare that would put even Giorgio de Chirico to shame. Besides wasting my ink it keeps my mind off the Prof's vacant mutterings and is much more amusing than watching a fly walk across the ceiling. In the midst of my weighty reflections, I noted by calculation to three places of decimals that 1944 was divisible by four, which meant of course that this was Leap Year, and memories of a quaint tradition associated with such a year immediately put new life in me. But being a careful creature I decided to check up on my suspicions before proceeding to take violent action, so I hustled over to the library and seizing the Encyclopaedia Britannica, thumbed my way to page 884. vol. 13 (just in case you want to look it up for yourself) and behold

there I found the most interesting

It all started back in 46 B.C. when Julius Caesar of Freshman History fame changed the calendar around so that an extra day was needed every four years just to keep the thing in running condition. Being of a conservative nature the Brit annica declines to let out the secre of just when the female sex begar to woo on their cwn initiative However the Scotch lassies weren' so dull for in 1288 they got a lav passed which said that "it is statu and ordaith that during the rein o hir maist blissit Megeste, for ill yeare knowne as lepe yeare, ill mayden ladye of bothe highe an lowe estait shall have liberte to bespeke ye man she likes, albeit h refuses to taik hir to be his lawfu wyfe, he shall be mulcted in y sum ane pundis or less, as his esta: may be-" in other words "marr, me or pay a pundis" which wa rather expensive in those days.
