

Red Devils split home series

By STEVE GILLILAND

Last weekend the Red Devils played host to SMU Huskies and Acadia Axemen. The Huskies laid a sound thrashing on the Red Devils Saturday to the tune of 10-2. But the Devils came back

Sunday to defeat the Axemen by a 7-4 margin.

The Devils stayed with the Huskies for the first part of the game, the score being 2-1 for SMU after the first period and 3-2 for SMU midway through the second.

The Huskies must have realized it was time to start playing hockey as they started to really outskate and out hustle the Devils. The Huskies also put on a fine display of forechecking, passing and body checking in the last half of the game.

The second period ended with the score 7-2 in favor of the Huskies.

SMU added three more unanswered goals in the third period, to end the game 10-2.

Three players who had pairs of goals for the Huskies were Mike Backman, Grant Thomson and Mac Davis. Adding singletons for the winners were Frank Donnelly, Dean Hartwell, Mike Ready and John Phillips.

Red Devils goaltender Bob Jones stopped 47 shots, while the combination of Steve Davis and Tim Cuppage of the Huskies turned away 22 shots.

The only bright spot for the Red Devils was the play of center Dave Kent, who fired in both of UNB's goals. Kent's first goal was assisted by Bob McSorley and J.J. McInness. Kent's second goal, an unassisted effort, was the prettiest goal of the game.

Coach Bill MacGillivray changed the squad somewhat for Sundays 7-4 victory over the Axemen.

The power play goals made the difference in the first period with Acadia leading 3-2 at the end of the period.

Acadia and UNB exchanged power play goals in the second period, with Acadia still leading by a one goal margin 4-3.

The Devils scored 4 unanswered goals in the third period to win the game by the tally 7-4.

The main responsible for these four unanswered goals was none other than man who did all UNB's scoring Saturday night, Dave Kent. Kent scored two goals himself and assisted the goals of Pat Murray and Bob McSorley.

Other scorers for UNB were Gerry Chesholm and Dave Wright, with singletons in the first period. Mark Rickard added a fine unassisted goal in the second period.

The third period was the best period of hockey that UNB has played this year. The reason behind this performance was the hard work determination and good example set by the play of veterans Mark Rickard, Dave Kent and Dave Neill.

Mark Rickard turned in a fine performance on defence for the Red Devils both offensively with a goal and two assists, and defensively with his checking, and all out hustle.

Bob Jones also turned in a fine performance for UNB between the pipes, making many fine saves.

Let's hope that UNB can keep playing like they did in the 3rd period against the Axemen, this weekend in Moncton and Sackville against the Blue Eagles and Mounties.

Canadian Championships for Harriers

Although the university cross-country season officially ended two weeks ago, the UNB Red Harriers will be wrapping up their season tomorrow, Nov. 20th when they compete in the Canadian Cross Country Championships being held in Halifax. A UNB team composed of Ralph Freeze, Shawn O'Conner, Pete McAuley, Brian McKinley and Mike Theriault will be competing in the Junior (under 20) age group over an 8,000 meter course and should finish high in the standings on the basis of top competitors O'Conner and Freeze.

The two youngest UNB runners, Jacques Jean and Martin Brannon, will join three FHS runners to form a juvenile (under 18) team which has an excellent chance to winning that particular age group. Their race will be run on a 6,000 meter course.

Four other Red Harriers, Sandy McAuley, Joe Lehman, Ron McCarville and Vince Fay along with their coach, Wayne Stewart, will compete as a team in the open race in a 12,000 meter (7.5 miles) course.

UNB Harriers Nancy Wheatley will also be competing this weekend in the Women's Open event since there is neither a juvenile or a junior category indicating a fault in the national organization of women's cross-country in Canada. Wheatley usually competes in the juvenile age category in New Brunswick.

With one national calibre meet already behind them, the Harriers should be well-prepared for this meet.

The Harriers will be running against the best competition throughout Canada, as well as some of the best international runners from different countries, most notably the U.S.

Coach Stewart expects a good all round showing by the UNB Red Harriers and is hoping for at least a few outstanding performances from his runners.

Mermaids open strong

Last Saturday the swimmers of the UNB Mermaids hosted an exhibition meet with the University of Maine (Orono), which proved to be good competition for the Mermaids.

This year's team is strong and consists of rookies Brigitte Boesenberg, Margrit Bckholz, Joanne Dittomass, Liz Hubbard, Darlene MacDonald, Brit Mathisen, Tierney Ness, Carol Rodgers, Kathy Shane, Pam Stewart, Betty vander Grient and veterans, Ginny Bradley, Louise Camber, Kathy Gaul, Kathy Miller, Laura Mullins, Kim Myles, Maryse Pelletier, Debbie Prince, Cathy Smith, and Randi Stangroom. The Mermaids came through with firsts in 4 x 100 m. freestyle relay, 200 m. Individual Medley, 100 m. freestyle, and 50 m. freestyle. Seconds and thirds were also picked up by the Mermaids to add to their total.

The most improved swimmer of the meet, Pam Stewart, received the mascot, Emile, for her efforts in 800 m. freestyle, 200 m. I.M., 200 m. Breaststroke, and 4 x 100 free relay.

In diving, Cath Melrose; scoring highest; was backed up by her teammates; Sharon Paquette, Celeste Smart, and Lorna Calder, to win both 1 m. and 3 m. diving for UNB.

The final score was UNB 51; U. of Maine 62. The next meet is Sat. Nov. 27 when UNB travels to Mount A.

The Mermaids are coached by Gail Reynolds and managed by Maureen Brennan.

Recently three UNB divers had the opportunity of travelling to Montreal to compete in the ARPAMM championships. The New Brunswick team brought back a total of six medals.

Cathy Melrose, a UNB freshman, dove with grace and style to win three gold medals. Melrose outscored her opponents on tower, 3 meter and 1 meter and be a name to look for in future meets.

Dale MacLean, a junior at UNB and also a third year diver for UNB, was also a triple medalist. MacLean, diving tower for the first time, dove consistently to a silver medalist being beat by a small margin of 6.05 points. MacLean was also UNB's silver medalists in the 1 and 3 meter events.

Lorna Calder did well in her first competition of the year placing fourth on both the 1 and 3 meter boards.

UNB showed strong in the competition and this year's team will be the strongest UNB has ever had. This year, the men's and women's rare teams hoping for 1-2-3-4 finishes in intercollegiate diving action.

The intercollegiate diving season opens Nov. 27 with a meet against Mt. A. in Sackville.
