

my making, nor can they be avoided by anything I might say or do. The Indians want to meet you face to face.
They want to hear you question Mr Walsh, or in other words perhaps more appropriate they want to hear Mr Walsh question you. They want you to prove to their satisfaction that their agent is either a crook or an honest man.
I do not think they are expecting anything more and anything less would be unfair to me.

Yours faithfully
