ARCHDIOCESE OF TORONTO.

FEAST OF THE BLESSED DE LA SALLE, IN ST. MICHAEL'S CATHEDRAL.

Special to the CATHOLIC RECORD.

The 4th of May is now a red-letter day for the Brothers of the Christian Schools and their pupils and friends throughout the world.

Since His Holiness Leo XIII. declared on the 19th of February, 1888, that the venerable De La Salle would be hereafter venerated as Blessed De La Salle, and selected the 4th of May as his annual feast, the Catholic world has rejoiced with the Brothers of the Christian Schools, and henceforth Blessed De La Salle will be honored and invoked as the patron and protector of Christian education and education.

The venerable Archbishop Lynch, of happy memory, attached great solemnity to the Triduum celebrated last year in memory of the newly beatified, and so arranged, by his happy thoughtfulness, to close the Triduum on the day the Church selected for the saint's feast, May 4th. This was the last time that the venerable Archbishop presided at the Triduum, and his death, as we all know, was the result of the illness which he contracted on the day of the anniversary Mass—the first Friday the Brothers' pupils, as a tribute of filial love and heartfelt remembrance, received Holy Communion for the repose of the soul of their very devoted friend and father in Christ.

The pupils of the Christian Brothers, and the pupils of the various educational establishments conducted so ably and so zealously by the Ladies of Loretto; several Sisters of St. Joseph, and a large number of friends formed the congregation when Rev. Administrator Laurent, with Rev. Father O'Brien, as deacon, and Mr. Carberry as sub-deacon, officiated at the altar to celebrate solemn High Mass in honor of Blessed De La Salle. The following is a translation of the Mass approved by the Church for the feast:

Oh! where hast thou been all the year? Day-dreaming in thy home of roses? Or swelling youthful hearts averse? To breathe the sigh that love discloses?

Oh! where hast thou been all the year? Day-dreaming in thy home of roses? Or swelling youthful hearts averse? To breathe the sigh that love discloses?

IRELAND'S STRUGGLE.

On Mr. Parnell's new libel suit, the Times has paid to our £5,000 as damages, thus acknowledging the libel. It is now for the court to decide whether that the Times shall pay the expenses of the defence before the Commission, and the general, even the universal, opinion outside of the Tories, is that the demand in fact, Attorney General Webster will not appear to defend the Times in the libel suit, though he will continue the case for judgment before the Commission. The charge is that the Times published forged letters, which even after the trial it called genuine.

The Liberal Union Club showed its antipathy to Ireland by inviting ex-Mayor Hewitt, of New York, to be its guest at a banquet held on 7th inst. The banquet was given in honor of the Earl of Derby. Mr. Walter's partner in the Times intend to bring suit to compel him to bear personally the expenses of the Special Commission trial, as he printed the articles on Parnellism and Crime against the wishes of his more cautious associates, as well as the accusations against Nationalist members of Parliament which were used against him. If he succeeded in compelling Mr. Walter to bear the expense he will probably be financially ruined.

The London correspondent of the Birmingham Post says: "Mr. William O'Brien, having become acquainted in prison with the statements concerning himself made by Lord Salisbury in his recent speech at Watford, has determined to commence an action against the noble Earl for libel. To this end he has instructed Mr. F. A. Chance, M. P. for South Kilkenny, who is an old associate of plain legal matters, the now dissolved firm of Chance and O'Brien having been solicitors for Mr. O'Brien in the actions arising out of United Ireland's attacks five years ago upon Mr. Cornwall and Chief Inspector French, in connection with what were known as the 'Dublin scandals'."

The absolute barbarity of which the Government is guilty in sending its officers to evict the poor tenants of Donegal, and to enforce the rapacious demands of landlordism on tenants who have not the means of subsistence, still less to pay exorbitant rents, is well exposed by the Bishop of Raphoe, who, while acknowledging the right of the Government to edicting rents of £50 from Mr. Davis for seed potatoes for the sufferers, says: "The sad failure of the potato crop last year in many parts of Donegal has rendered this spring charity an absolute necessity for the numerous families in several districts are to be saved from utter ruin. It is in these circumstances that a Government which takes upon itself to deprive Irishmen who have having devised any remedy for the situation in Donegal exemplifies its own peculiar beneficence by helping to evict a famine-threatened population."

The Irish prison inspector has made an enquiry into Mr. Wm O'Brien's treatment in Clonmel jail, but it was conducted secretly. Mr. O'Brien's representative present to examine the prison, as a matter of course the enquiry was entirely conducted in the interest of the Government, and the prison officials testified, according to the report, that Mr. O'Brien was treated with great respect, and that he did not faint. Mr. O'Brien's evidence, which the people will believe in preference to that of the prison officials, given under such circumstances, was quite contrary to theirs. Mr. O'Brien states that the Governor of the jail, the chief warder, and three other warders were present when he was ill-treated. He says further: "Four warders seized me, and after flung me on my back on the floor, brought me down and twisting my arms while they tore off my clothes. I continued to struggle violently, and one man placed his knee on my chest. . . . My clothes continued to be pulled off one by one, and I struggled again to my feet; ANOTHER VIOLENT FUSILLADE TOOK PLACE, I WAS THROWN DOWN A SECOND TIME, THIS TIME TO THE FLOOR."

The struggle continued on the floor. I became very faint, and they gave me some water. . . . I was by this time utterly exhausted, and they gave me water a second time. He then describes how the governor gave orders to cut off his hair and beard; he resisted to the utmost, and goes on to say: "I can't remember anything more about the warders holding me." On this evidence the prison inspector reports that "on all material points Mr. O'Brien corroborates the evidence of the governor and the chief warder, and what slight discrepancy there is, appears to be only what might be expected in the description of a struggle by those who took part in it." Mr. O'Brien, in his evidence, declared that there were any conflict as to facts be protected against its being disposed of any other way except by a public sworn inquiry.

Mr. O'Brien has been released unconditionally since the above occurred. Sir Charles Russell has decided, as arbitrator, that the tenants on the Vandaleur estate shall pay a year's rent to March, 1887.

On a motion of censure against the Government for fostering spirit drinking in India the Government were defeated by 113 to 103. The vote of censure was moved by Mr. Samuel Smith, Liberal, on 30th ult.

Mr. Dixon Hartland, M. P. has tendered an ample apology to Rev. Father Covey for saying in a speech at Staines that the rev. gentleman had extolled the murder of District Inspector Martin. It is also stated that the Belfast Evening Telegraph has settled the libel suit against Father Covey instituted against it by paying the rev. gentleman £100 and apologizing.

The breach between the Liberal Unionists and Tories of Birmingham is far from having been healed. Mr. Chamberlain stated that Lord Randolph Churchill declared in November last that he (Churchill) would not contest the parliamentary seat of central Birmingham. Lord Randolph now replies that Mr. Chamberlain's assertion is utterly false. It is expected that an excited correspondence will follow between the two gentlemen.

Mr. Chamberlain has also written a reply to the recent letter addressed to him by Lord Randolph Churchill, in which he says: "I will endeavor in all humility to profit by your advice, although I fear the task of reconciling our conflicting views and interests is not made easier by your communications." In regard to future action he says: "The Conservatives and Liberal Unionists ought to make it a point to canvass and ascertain their relative force in Birmingham, and afterward to submit their differences to arbitration. In conclusion, Mr. Chamberlain says he will welcome any assistance from Lord Randolph Churchill which will tend to promote unity."

In Cork County a cruel eviction of two poor widows named Lombard and Carver took place on April 2nd, at a place called Groma, near Millow, on the estate of the Messrs. Bewitt. The Mallow Guardians have voted to give £1 a week as outdoor relief to the poor widows.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

Miss Lucy Allen, who for about eight years, held the position of organist in St. Joseph's Church, Stratford, was presented by the members of the choir with a handsome easy chair on the eve of her departure. The presentation was made at a meeting of the choir, which was held at the residence of Mr. D. Douglas, in a few well chosen words. Miss Allen is held both as to her capabilities as an organist, and her lady-like manner, which has endeared her to the members of the choir. Miss Allen was taken by surprise, but found fitting words to express her thanks for the gift and appreciation of the similar position which existed between herself and the choir, as well as the many kind wishes of all her Stratford acquaintances.
