

Dean Brady

blisses all, and brightens all our daily lives.

We rejoiced sincerely with you in the well-deserved honor, the distinction of divinity conferred upon you recently by your alma mater, Laval University. We trust that it may be only the prelude to other and more distinguished honors.

The Young Men's Tribute.
On behalf of the Young Men's Catholic Club, Mr. Roy McGraw read the following address:

Very Reverend Father:
The celebration of your silver jubilee in the holy priesthood arouses a universal feeling of loyalty and affection throughout the parish of St. Basil's, but to none does the occasion appear with greater force than to the members of the Young Men's Club, in whose behalf I have the honor to address you to-night.

In common with all children of Catholic parents, we had conceived an exalted opinion of the priest as the representative of God to us in the important events of our early life. We possess that ideal still, and we are proud to hear Father Brady, those exalted ideals are fully realized. The clasp of your hand conveys all the warmth of true kindness and sincere friendship; and, as to a father and friend, we gladly look to you for guidance and counsel.

"There's nothing so kingly as kindness. And nothing so royal as truth."

Our club rooms, our debating society, our bowling green and the other facilities for our physical and intellectual development have been made possible by your kind help and encouragement. Patiently and persistently you point out to us "the road that leads to an honorable career, and strive to fire us with the ambition to be true Catholics, useful citizens—men worth while."

We eagerly embrace this opportunity, then, of congratulating you on this joyful anniversary. It is for you a day of many Te Deums; and to-day eloquent messages will pour in upon you from the multitude of friends you have made during those sacred years of faithful well-doing. But, be assured, dear Dr. Brady, none will come from true hearts or deeper wells of gratitude than the good wishes of the young men of St. Basil's Club. We congratulate you, but we congratulate ourselves also on being the beneficiaries of all the experience, the wisdom, the holiness garnered by you in the quarter of a century just completed. May you march happily past many more of life's milestones ere you climb the last hill that faces the sunset.

We hope to be here, dear Doctor Brady, to greet you on your golden jubilee, and to strengthen the anointed hands that must then have grown weary with long service. Those coming years may steal from us in passing, our youth, mayhap our health and happiness, but they can never take from our hearts the memory of your goodness and the esteem and gratitude we owe you.

Signed,
The Young Ladies

Miss Laura McCusker, on behalf of the Young Ladies' Sodality, read the following address:

Very Rev. and Dear Dr. Brady:
Five and twenty years ago to-day you were ordained a priest of the Most High. Nature was clothed in all the fresh glory of the Maytime, and Spring's choristers sang their glad hymns of praise as you stood with hands consecrated but empty at the entrance to the "fields" that were "white with the harvest," and received your commission to teach.

The sweet holy memories of that glad day must have come to you of those you trod in your Master's steps down the twenty-five years that culminate to-day in your silver jubilee.

You stand now as then, at the altar of God—the brightness of your boyhood somewhat dimmed by the rough hand of time, but bearing honored scars from many a hard-won field in the cause of God's glory and the salvation of souls. Your hands are no longer empty, but laden with your sheaves to lay at your Lord's feet.

"O beautiful years of consecrated service! What has earth that can compare with you!

But even this glad day is not without its note of sadness, and we touch the chords lightly but with tenderest sympathy. Some of your nearest and dearest who gathered around you that bright May morning long ago are missing from your side to-day. In the Divine decree they were destined to fulfil their course in a short life. They have finished their task and laid their burden down—

"They died as the stars brightly die Whose death is—day."

But the place of each one is taken by a multitude whom no man can number, and whose lasting esteem you have earned by those qualities that in all ages have rendered the Catholic priesthood illustrious.

In that throng we stand, Our Lady's Sodality of St. Basil's—few in number but yielding to none in our love and devotion to you, our honored pastor, and we ask you to accept our heartfelt congratulations on your good wishes, our greetings, on this your twenty-fifth anniversary. God has visibly blessed those past years, may His blessing and peace shine upon all the future ones until they blend with the golden glory of another jubilee; and may the harmonious strains of love's heartfelt music, awakened to-night, swell, and continue until they too blend into the music of eternity.

Dean Brady's Reply
Dean Brady showed indeed marked emotion when he rose to respond to the three presentations and addresses.

He referred to St. Basil's congregation in flattering terms. A generous and good people. He had looked for a quiet celebration, and they had made it doubly solemn by the three presentations and addresses. He had not merited this, for his best energy had been spent in other fields. He thanked Bishop Dowling for celebrating Mass for him; he thanked the priests and sisters for their kindness, and made special mention of Rev. Father Cloherty.

Then turning to the eternal priesthood of the Catholic church, he said: "Twenty-five years ago our loving Saviour placed the royal mantle of priesthood, with all its weighty responsibilities upon my shoulders, and by ordination inculcated my soul with the indelible character of the priesthood."

"It carries with it grace to bless, wisdom to teach, power to rule, to absolve and to offer the holy sacrifice."

"Pray for me, dear friends, and in return I shall ever ask Jesus Christ, the Great High Priest, to bless and protect you and yours."

Pupils' Concert
The pupils of St. Basil's Separate school held a concert in the school room in the afternoon, during which hours, Bernard Miller, on behalf of the children, read an address to Dean Brady, and Miss Norah Mather presented him with flowers.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies in the church, the congregation waited on the sidewalk in front of the church until Dean Brady came out and stepped into his new automobile, which was waiting for him, and went off for a short spin.

MANY DOWN WITH PLEURISY.

Doctors say the country is full of it. First comes a chill then cold develops—the inflammation grows—can't draw a long breath—lungs and sides get sore and pleurisy sets in. A good home cure consists in taking twenty hops of Nervine every four hours. Supplement this by vigorously rubbing the sides and chest with Serviline and when warmth and circulation are established put a Nervine Porous Plaster over the aching spot. Nervine treatment is always successful in colds, neuralgia and pleurisy. Try it yourself.

Getting Ready

that the proper picquets are on duty. Sentries must be placed at the doors of the coaches, no men being allowed to pass in or out without permission.

Dufferins Get Ready.
There was an excellent Dufferin Rifles recruit class held last night in preparation for the camp at Niagara-on-the-Lake on June 9.

Col Howard and Capt. Ballachey left this morning to take part in the military staff ride in the Niagara peninsula.

Caterer Crumback will cater for the officers' mess while in camp, and Mr. Art Burnley will look after the sergeants' mess. Capt. Ward and Staff Sergeant Taylor, are looking after the catering for the men, and have engaged a staff of first-class cooks.

Sentries and Picquets.

The officers superintending the loading of the troops will see that the necessary stable picquets and sentries at coach doors are placed as soon as the car is loaded and the men entrained.

Parade State.

Lieut. Wilkes will report in writing the names of the non-commissioned officers and men and numbers of horses in their respective troops and Lieut. Wilkes the names of all dismounted men to the "O. C." the squadron after the train starts.

Horse Orders.

No horse order of over $15.00 will be accepted. All horses must be sound well shod and fetlocks clipped.

Transfer of Stores.

Lieut. Wilkes and 12 men detailed by Sergt. Major White will before or after parade on Thursday night 29th inst. transfer rifle cases, tents, tables, etc. from the Squadron Armouries to the floor of the Drill Hall at the rear.

The Late Mr. Caton

There passed away this morning James Caton, of Owen Sound, at the residence of his son, Mr. William Caton, Echo Place.

The late Mr. Caton was in his 71st year, and was visiting his son. He was a member of the Customs Department staff and a life long resident of Owen Sound.

He leaves to mourn his loss three sons, James of Vancouver, William, of Echo Place, and John of this city and many friends.

The funeral will take place on Friday at Owen Sound.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarh. Hall's Catarh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY and CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by all druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

CITY NEWS

Dog Destroyed.

A dog ran over Mr. E. L. Gould's collar dog this afternoon and broke the back of the animal.

Taking Western Trip.

City Treasurer A. K. Bunnell left last night for an extended trip to the Pacific slope and through the Western Provinces.

Canton Brantford.

Canton Brantford F. O. O. F. will hold a rehearsal in the Oddfellows hall to-night in preparation for the coming Grand Lodge ceremonies.

Woodmen Busy.

Local members of the Woodmen of the World are busy completing arrangements for the big day here early in June.

Will Hold Meeting.

A meeting of the Secretaries of all the Benefit Societies in the city will be held in the Mayor's office to-morrow night for the purpose of talking over hospital affairs and relief work.

Will Preach at Opening Services.

Rev. Clark of Westmount Presbyterian church, Westmount, Que., will preach at the morning and evening services in conjunction with the opening of the new Alexandra Presbyterian Church on Sunday June 8th.

A Mighty Swatter.

At the formal opening of the Soft Ball League at Recreation Park last night Dr. Wilkes took up his position in the box while John Blakney stood behind the bat. Alderman John H. Spence then stepped to the plate; he missed the first ball the doctor pitched but hit the second one out of the lot. J. H. certainly is some hitter.

Passed Examination.

Major Gordon J. Smith of the 25th Brant Dragons has received notice from military headquarters informing him that he has been successful in passing his Theoretical examination which paper he wrote on during March last. Major Genet and Major Brooks were also successful in writing on the same paper.

AT ST. PAUL'S

Miss Charles was present at St. Paul's church, Holmedale on Monday evening of this week on behalf of the Girls' Friendly Society. A very impressive admission service was gone through with, the rector, Mr. Miller, and the assistant Mr. Moulton, assisting Miss Charles in the service.

Twenty were presented for membership and each was given the G. F. S. Badge. Miss Ellen Creasler and Miss Emma Carter, sang very appropriate solos. The G. F. S. Hymn was sung and the benediction brought the service to a close. Dainty refreshments were then served in the school room. Miss Charles being the guest together with other friends from the city, of the G. F. S.

LONDON HAD A HEAT WAVE

Damage is Reported in Old Land From Storm Which Followed.

NEW YORK, May 28.—A cable from London says: The heat wave of the last four days has been broken, as was expected, by thunderstorms. Unfortunately, these were accompanied in some parts of the country by terrific hail, which did great damage to fruit trees, vegetable crops and greenhouses. Hail stones, which are variously described as resembling marbles, hens' eggs, sparrow eggs and pigeons' eggs, weighed in some cases twelve ounces to one pound. London for the most part escaped the storm, but in some of the suburbs there was a heavy fall of rain last night and Walworth church in south London was struck by lightning and set on fire, but the flames were quickly extinguished.

LORD AVEBURY PASSES AWAY

Man Who Added Four Holidays to Calendar Had Great Career.

LONDON, May 28.—Lord Avebury died to-day of heart disease after a short illness at the age of 79 years.

Lord Avebury, formerly Sir John Lubbock, was prominent as a banker, famous as a scientist and popular as an author of nature studies. He was president, amongst others, of the corporation of foreign bondholders. Lord Rector of St. Andrews University, president of the Society of Antiquaries, president of the Central Association of Bankers and officer of nearly a score of other organizations having to do with finance, education and natural science.

Before his elevation to the peerage, Lord Avebury under his former name, Sir John Lubbock was probably the most popular man among the working people of the British Isles, for it was he who in 1871, as a member of parliament succeeded in having enacted the Bank Holidays Act every year to the statute book, and these were for a long period known as "Lubbock Days."

Besides banking, on which he was a recognized authority, he also took great interest in natural history on which he published many books. He was also one of the foremost men in the reform of municipal life, and was at one time vice-president of the London county council.

His great care for the welfare of the working classes was shown by his introduction of legislation to rescue open spaces from the bulldozers so as to provide play grounds for the children. He also devoted himself to the conditions under which clerks worked in stores and succeeded in passing a bill regulating their hours of labor. Another bill provided for the establishment of public libraries by municipalities.

Church Trouble

SASKATOON, Sask., May 28.—Because the First Baptist Church here recently issued a notice announcing its willingness to receive members without immersion, providing they are professing Christians, a petition is being circulated throughout the denomination in Saskatchewan calling for the disfellowship of this congregation at the annual provincial meeting. This church, one of the most popular in the city, had trouble last fall when part of the membership seceded and formed a separate church.

MASS MEETING OF WOMEN AND GIRLS

Splendidly attended by people of both sexes was Victoria Hall last evening to hear Miss Charles—the organizer of the Girls' Friendly Society—in her address on "Ideal Womanhood." Miss M. Squires in the chair.

Archdeacon Mackenzie, in a short address, spoke of the good work done by Girls' Friendly Society in England, and also in Canada in the short period of time since its inception here.

The hymn "All hail the power of Jesus Name" was then sung; very heartily, followed by a short prayer. After this the chairman's address—a very fine eulogy of woman—dealing with their influence for good and ill, cause statesmen many sleepless nights. Inherent selfishness in men and women is at the bottom of suffering troubles. Woman's place is midway between heaven and earth. (Loud applause.) Woman is the custodian of everything that is sacred in life, and warned all to allow no undue familiarity.

Ideal womanhood should be the object of all men and women. Every man should be a rough life a whole man and every woman should walk through life clothed in sanctity. (Applause.)

Then followed a solo by Miss Elsie Senn, after which Miss Charles was introduced as the speaker of the evening. A woman of magnetic personality, who knows of what she speaks and speaks with eloquence and feeling, showing deep convictions.

In the hurry and hustle of the 20th Century so many can hardly find room for Christ. "The Woman Rights" are her rights to live well. Service.

Everyone has a responsibility. The church, the Salvation Army and organizations of this kind cannot do all. The working girl has a right to expect all that is beautiful in life. Their senses are not dwarfed; they can appreciate the beauties of life the same as the more fortunate and cultured.

The housing problem in all cities. Gave as an example two girls whose parents met with reverses (very refined); visited 40 houses but were refused board; as the owners "preferred men boarders; they were less troublesome and did not stay in the house all the time." One of the reasons so many walk the streets and spend all their time in cheap theatres is because the home life is not what it should be for girls.

She then spoke of parents, advising them to warn young girls of the many pitfalls, etc., along the way. Miss Charles' address was heartily applauded. Five-minute addresses were also given.

DAILY FASHION HINT.

Lady's Waist.

The decorative appearance of this waist is due entirely to the large collar, which may be omitted if desired. The balance of the blouse is altogether plain. The sleeves may be long or short and plain in finish or with an ornamented cuff.

No better material can be found for this blouse than linen, but pongee, sander silk and other wash fabrics are also suitable. The waist pattern, No. G.208, is cut in sizes 34 to 42 inches bust measure. Medium size requires 2 3/4 yards of 36 inch material, with 3/4 yards of edging and 2 1/4 yards of filling.

This pattern can be obtained by sending 10 cents to the office of this paper.
