Special to the Daily Nugget. Seattle Feb. 16. - Disguised in Cabello male attire, two women entered the home of Mrs. Sophia Reeves of 1043 Main street and robbed Mrs. Reeves and Mrs. Edward George of diamonds worth $3000. In a struggle which ensued, the women highwaymen returned the jewels and disclosed their identity as two sisters of Mrs. George' Detectives from the polices department chose to consider the matter a joke until last evening, when gave their names as Mrs. Emma-Butts and Miss Nellie Creston. They spent the night in jail. Detectives made an investigation, but wrote no report, so Chief Sullivan is trying to learn what is going on in his department. Whether the affair was intended as a colossal joke or a genuine robbery planned with no small skill and executed with great daring the police say they are unable to decide
