Death of Mr. G. H. Lennon.
The death occurred at his residence, Larch street, Toronto, Tuesday night about eleven o'clock, of Mr. George H. Lennon, one of the earliest residents in Sudbury and numbered amongst the town's most prominent citizens. Not only in Sudbury with the news he received with deep regret, but throughout practically the north country where he was well and favorably known. For years Mr. Lennon was a Hudson Bay Co. factor at many points throughout the great North, preceding the railways and the white man there. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Dr. Parkin, formerly of Upper Canada College, and Mrs. Parkin, who have been visiting friends in Canada, sail shortly for their home in England.

The engagement has been announced of Vivian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melfort Boulton, of Toronto, to Mr. Walter Willison, son of Sir John and Lady Willison.

Invitations have been issued by the president and members of the Toronto Hunt Polo Club to a ball on Wednesday, the 15th of January, under the patronage of his Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario and Lady Gibson.

The committee of the Royal College of Heraldry, appointed to draw up an official roll of baronets, has finished its task, and the complete list of "recognized" baronets is promised shortly. It is declared that twenty-five persons styling themselves baronets have no right to the title.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bane of Rosetown, Sask., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Virtue, 348 Dalhousie Street.

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—A notable society event took place at the church of St. Alban this afternoon when Miss Hope Forsythe, younger daughter of the late J. Wilfred Wautele and grand daughter of the late Hon. Mr. Justice Wautele was wedded to Mr. Alexander Lorne McDougall, eldest son of Mr. Samuel McDougall of Ottawa. The guests included members of the social set from Montreal, Toronto and a number of other Canadian cities.

London, Ont., Jan. 8.—A society and military wedding took place this afternoon at St. Paul's Cathedral when Flora Adeline Wilson, eldest daughter of the late Dr. John D. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson, 60 Queen's Ave. E., London, Ontario, was married to Dr. Archibald V. Becher, son of the late Henry Becher and Mrs. Becher of "Thornwood" this city.

The church was decorated with holly and regimental colors. Miss Wilson was given away by her brother, Dr. J. Cameron Wilson. The bridesmaids were: Miss Dorothy Goutley of Montreal, Misses Aileen Broderick, Toronto, Miss Jean Labatt and Nancy Niven of London. The maid of honor was Miss Mona Wilson, sister of the bride. Three flower girls, twin sisters of the bride were, Barbara and Augusta; and a cousin, Daisy Bailey. Mr. Campbell Becher was best man, and the ushers were Chas. Hunt, Woodman Leonard and Mr. Biggar.

The bride wore her mother's wedding dress of white satin, trimmed with brussels point lace, the gift of her grandmother and a limerick lace veil worn by the groom's mother on her wedding day and the groom's gift of a diamond necklace. The bridesmaids wore white crepe motor veils with chiffon and shadow lace with white satin toques and ostrich feathers. A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, where the militia idea was carried out in decorations. The bride's travelling costume was brown cloth lined with amber, satin and ermine furs.

The death took place recently in Pietermaritzburg, South Africa, of Sir Henry George Elliott, K.C.M.G., C.B., at the advanced age of 86 years. Deceased was a brother of Mrs. George Rennie, and Mrs. C. M. Tringham of Stratford. Deceased was born in the town of Perth, Ont., in 1826, and was the son of Maor John Elliott, who was for many years collector of customs at Windsor. He joined the Royal Marine Light infantry in 1847 and later served in the Crimean war. He resigned on account of failing health and went to South Africa in 1870, where he resided until his death.

Miss Grace Macgowan of New York, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leeming, who entertain in her honor, Friday afternoon, following the Women's Musical Club concert.

LAUGHTER LINES

THE GIRL WHO SMILES.

The wind was east, and the chimney smoked,
And the old brown house seemed dreary,
For nobody smiled and nobody joked,
The young folks grumbled, the old folks croaked,
They had come home chilled and weary.
Then opened the door, and a girl came in,
Oh, she was homely—very;
Her nose was pug; and her cheek was thin,
There wasn't a dimple from brow to chin,
But her smile was bright and cheery.

She spoke not a word of the cold or damp,
Nor yet of the gloom about her.
But she mended the fire, and she lit the lamp,
And she put on the place a different stamp
From that it had without her.

Her dress, which was something in sober brown
And with dampness nearly dripping,
She changed for a bright warm crimson gown,
And she looked so gay when she came down,
They forgot the air was nipping.

They forgot that the house was a dull old place,
And smoky from base to rafter,
And gloom departed from every face,
As they felt the charm of her mirthful grace,
And the cheer of her happy laughter.

Oh, give me the girl who will smile and sing,
And make all glad together!
To be plain or fair is a lesser thing,
But a kind, unselfish heart can bring
Good cheer in the darkest weather.

—Mary A. Gillette, in The Port Hope Evening Guide.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

To boil a ham without much fuel place it in a boiler, cover with cold water and allow it to boil one hour. Then cover up all crevices to keep in the steam and leave it for about 12 hours. The ham will be thoroughly cooked, and if the hour's boiling is done in the afternoon it will be ready for use next morning.

Peasant fashions will be the spring's keynote, according to modes now sweeping Paris, in which is seen the fashion of the peasants—the gay colors of Bulgaria, Roumania, Servia, the characteristic short coat reaching just below the shoulders, the colored embroidery and wooden beads, the short sleeves—all generally peasant, but translated by Paris into beautiful clothes for every woman.

Pretty flowered crepe hats to match or correspond with the latest gowns, the new beret in straw and white, the new beret with colored crowns, are seen among the new spring hats on view in New York for wear at the southern resorts.

Don't fail to buy a supply of vegetables now when they are cheap. A little care will keep them fresh all winter.

Don't fail to remember that in keeping kitchen utensils clean this includes the dish cloth. A dish cloth soon becomes a germ carrier.

Don't forget that all matings should be wiped off with a cloth wrung out of lukewarm salt water.

Don't fail to drain coffee from the grounds, and to scald the pot after each meal.

Don't fail to keep the kitchen sink perfectly clean. Germs take delight in an unclean sink.

Don't neglect your canned fruit after the furnace is started. Look it over for any signs of fermentation, and then be sure it is in a cool, dark place.

Japanese Health Rules

The following rules for the general guidance of the people in health matters in health matters have been printed and widely distributed by the Japanese government:

First—Spend as much time out of doors as possible. Bask much in the sun, and take plenty of exercise. Take care that your respiration is always deep and regular.

Second—As regards meals, eat meat only once a day and let the diet be eggs, cereals and vegetables, fruits and fresh cows milk. Take the last named as much as possible.

Masticate your food carefully.
Third—Take a hot bath every day, and a steam bath once or twice a week if the heart is strong enough to bear it.

Fourth—Early to bed and early to rise.

Fifth—Sleep in a very dark and very quiet room, with windows open. Let the minimum of sleeping hours be six or six and one-half hours. In case of woman, eight and one-half hours is advisable.

Sixth—Take one day of absolute rest each week in which you must refrain from even reading or writing.

Seventh—Try to avoid any outbursts of passion and strong mental stimulations. Do not tax your brain at the occurrence of inevitable incidents or of coming events. Do not let unpleasant things nor listen, if possible to avoid it, to disagreeable things.

Eighth—Be married! Widows and widowers should be married with the least possible delay.

Ninth—Be moderate in the consumption of even tea and coffee, not to say tobacco and alcoholic beverages.

Tenth—Avoid places that are too warm, especially steam heated and badly ventilated rooms.

PARIS

(From our own correspondent.)

The No. 1 mill of the Penman Co. Ltd., Paris, has installed a new dynamo in the factory. They have decided to make their own "juice" and cut down expenses. Now the same water power that runs most of the machinery, also furnishes light.

The time of starting work at the Penman Mills in Paris, has been changed for the New Year. Formerly, work started at ten to seven; now seven o'clock is the appointed hour. This change meets the approval of most of the employees.

CATHCART

(From our own correspondent.)
Owing to the very stormy night, there was a very slim turnout to hear Rev. Mr. Neil, on Sunday.

The Christmas tree in connection with the Methodist church Sunday school, was a grand success. Rev. Mr. Neil was unable to get there, on account of the marriage of Miss Gurney, and Rev. Mr. Harrison took his place as chairman and filled the office very agreeably. The program was all that could be desired.

The holidays and elections being over, everybody has settled down to business again. Everyone is satisfied with the prospects of the New Year.

Quite a number of weddings have taken place during the holidays. A number more is anticipated.

Miss Hazel Aulsebrook is improving nicely after her operation last week.
