District News

CHARLESTON
Our school has been closed for the past week, the teacher being very ill with jaundice, which is quite prevalent in this section. George and Clifford Morris are also ill.

A Warning
To feel tired after exertion is one thing; to feel tired before is another. Don't say the latter is laziness—it isn't; but it's a sign that the system lacks vitality, is running down, and needs the tonic effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

DELTA
Rev Mr and Mrs George Connors are soon to move away from us, much to the regret of their neighbors. They will be very much missed.

CAINTOWN
Making maple syrup is now the order of the day. Mr Edward Nowlan is somewhat improved in health. Mr Eli Hayes is on the sick list.

Spent Eighteen Dollars
"Gentlemen—I have pleasure in stating that I have used $18.00 worth of Psychine, and as a result was cured of very serious throat and lung trouble. My case was a most difficult one, and the doctors had practically said that I could not get well. I tried Psychine, and it did me so much good that I continued its use until I had taken $18.00 worth, with the result that I am now a new man physically. I have gained thirty-five pounds.

Local Items

The Rev S. J. Hughes will preach at Glen Elbo next Sunday afternoon and re-organize the Sunday School. All who are interested in S.S. work are invited to be present and assist in the good work.

Home Missions
Rev Mr Munt, Temperance Missionary to the lumber and mining camps of New Ontario, will address a mass meeting in the Methodist church on the evening of Easter Sunday, immediately at the close of the regular public service (about 8.30). He will exploit his work in this interesting home field. The general public invited.

Rules for Right Eating.
The rules for eating, which ought to be a part of every child's A B C's, are few and simple, though neglected by half of the adult population. Expressed in don'ts, they are: Don't eat in a hurry; don't eat when tired; don't forget to chew well; don't drink much with meals—do it before—take much cold food at one time.

Hard Island Honor Roll
*Those marked with an asterisk were present every day during the month.

KINDNESS APPRECIATED
The sending of "comfort bags" as a part of their missionary efforts among lumbermen has for several years been practiced by the W.C.T.U., and the following note shows that this feature of their work is duly appreciated:—
Huntsville, Mar. 17, '08.
Mrs W. V. Lee, Athens.

Prominent Physicians
Endorse Our Cod Liver Preparation, Vinol.
Many of the most eminent physicians are now prescribing Vinol as the most satisfactory cod liver preparation. Thus it is fast superseding other forms of cod liver oil and emulsions.
W. N. Rand, M. D., of Evans Mills, N. Y., writes: "From personal experience, I am able to appreciate the value of your cod liver preparation, Vinol. I have used it and prescribed it largely during the past eighteen months, and I want to say that Vinol is all you claim for it and more."

How She Helped.
A servant girl who had been through the mill before was being cross examined the morning after her new engagement. Said her mistress: "And did your last mistress assist you in cooking, Maggie?" "Weel, aye, in a way she did," admitted Maggie. "How did she do it, now?" asked her mistress.

A Cabby Stung

Foreigners often fall a prey to the unscrupulous wiles of the British cabby, who basely takes advantage of the stranger's want of familiarity with English idiom, costume and locality. We have heard of the intelligent foreigner being driven about six statute miles in a journey from London bridge to Charing Cross. That cabby got the best of the transaction, but a recent attempt to impose upon foreign credulity was frustrated cleverly by a son of Gaul, whose taste for joking led him to try to bamboozle a cabby into attempting it with him. He demanded in exceedingly broken English to be driven to a certain place, the fare to which was exactly a shilling. It may be remarked that he really could speak English as well as he could his mother tongue. On arriving at his destination he asked, still in a struggling fashion:

"Ow mooch 'ave I to pay?" "Five shillings," promptly responded the cabby. "And 'ow mooch is 5 shillings?" queried the traveler, taking out three half crowns and laying them across his palm. "Them three's right," said the cabby, pointing to the coins. "Oh?" said the Frenchman. Then, dropping his assumed imperfect acquaintance with the vernacular, "Well, here's a look for you," he said and departed, leaving his erstwhile job standing with a perplexed expression on his face which took some time to disappear.—London Tit-Bits.

He Hung on to the Record.
A fish story I heard while camping involves an old man who had little regard for the truth. Two young men made it up to go to the old gentleman's house and to the old man, who held the record. After being at the old man's house some time one of them asked the old gentleman if he had heard about the big fish. He said he had not and asked them where it was. The young man told him a gasoline launch had exploded on the river and the whole river was on fire. The old man sat quiet for a moment, then turned to his wife and said, "Mother, I told you something terrible had happened days ago, today when I caught that catfish with his fins all burned off."

A Hot Knife.
"A knife that cuts butter when it is hot" (and under no other circumstances) we sometimes meet with, and the reason of this is easily explained. Heat expands metal and in proportion to the amount of heat is the expansion of a blade than in its thickness, and the former therefore is expanded immensely more than the latter. In other words, the wedge-like shape is lengthened, and the tool becomes "sharp."

The Greater Ache.
"You might think you've got such a headache," said the woman, "that you can't stand it at all. You'll never get over it, never in the world! You can't stand it another minute without dying of the toothache good and hard, then stand by and watch the headache go away back and sit down."

Anatomy.
"Have many ribs have you, Johnny?" asked the teacher. "I don't know, ma'am," giggled Johnny, squirming around on one foot. "I'm so awful ticklish I never could count 'em."

"What's Dad A-doin'?" "Mammy's knittin' dad a pair o' socks." "An' what's dad a-doin' o'?" "Prayin' to the Lord for shoes."

Makin' a Monkey of Him.
"I have something to tell you. I have a tale about my ancestors." "I presume your ancestors had tails about themselves."
