BIRTH OF THE WALTZ

THE DANCE HAD ITS ORIGIN EITHER IN FRANCE OR GERMANY.

Its Introduction into England Caused a Great Scandal in That Country and For a Time Had Fashionable Society in an Uproar.

No exact date can be ascribed to the introduction of the waltz into England from France. In 1800 Gilray published a caricature of a couple waltzing, with the note that "this was intended for a quiz upon the then foreign dance, waltzing." Again in 1810 the same artist published another sketch, entitled "La Walse, Le Bon Genre," with the note, "The walse was at this time new in England and just coming into fashion."

The fame, or, rather, notoriety, of the new dance had, however, reached England some years previously. Dr. Burney had seen it danced in Paris in 1780 and was moved to write, "How uneasy an English mother would feel to see her daughter so unfamiliarly treated and still more to note the obliging manner in which the freedom is returned by the females."

Raikies in his journal declares that "no event ever produced so great a sensation in English society as the introduction of the German waltz," which he attributes to Baron Neumann and others about the year 1811. He relates how the mornings, which had hitherto been dedicated to lounging in the park, were now absorbed at home in practicing the figures of a French quadrille or whirling a chair round the room to learn the step and measure of the German waltz.

It was danced at Almack's by a few very bold spirits, notably Lord Palmerston, Mme. de Lieven, Princess Esterhazy and Baron Neumann, and thus became a matter of exhibition, the whole company standing on benches to view the performance.

However, the anti-waltzing party took the alarm and cried it down. Mothers forbade it, and every ballroom became a scene of feud and contention. How profound was its unpopularity in certain quarters is proved by the pasquades leveled against it. The famous seven lines commencing "What! the girl I adore by another embraced!"

are commonly attributed to Byron, though they were published anonymously in 1812, and some authorities give Thomas Moore as the author. An impromptu purporting to be addressed by an indignant lover to his betrothed and her partner echoes Byron's feelings:

You've brushed the bloom from the peach,
From the rose its soft hue;
What you've touched you may take.
Pretty waltzer, adieu.

Another poet delivered himself of the following distich:

How arts improve in this inspiring age!
Peers mount the box, and horses tread the While waiting females, with unblushing face,
Disdain to dance but in a man's embrace.

"The waltz, however," continues Raikies, "struggled through all its difficulties. Flairault, who was 'la fleur du po' in Paris, came over with a host of others drove the prudish into their trenches. And when the Emperor Alexander was seen waiting around the roof at Almack's, with his tight uniform and numerous decorations, they surrendered at discretion."

It is a moot point whether the waltz originated in France or Germany, whether it came from the French "La Voita" or the German national dance, the "Landler." According to French authorities, La Voita was simply the waltz a tris tempo. Provenance was its birthplace, and it was first introduced at the court of Henry II. at Fontainebleau in 1555 by the Comte de Saulte, who is said to have invented it, for many called it La Voita de Saulte, and the name is suitable both because of the etymology of the word and the character of the dance.

It enjoyed a great run throughout France and even penetrated to Scotland, where it met with furious opposition, one writer averring that its importation into France had been effected by the power of witches. Mary Stuart once exhibited her agility in this dance, but she was careful not to repeat the experiment, and this was about the last heard of it.

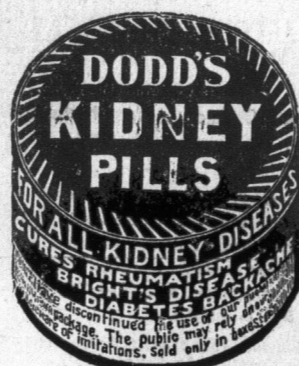

The case for Germany is that the first waltz tune appeared in 1670 in a popular song called "O du lieber Augustin." From Germany the dance made its way to Vienna and was introduced into the opera, while by and by it found its way to France, whence it came to England—"the insidious waltz, this imp of Germany, brought up in France."

The waltz when first danced in London was a slow movement a tris tempo, and the early English waltz compositions were very poor. Strauss came to London in 1837 to play at Almack's, and his waltz music created a perfect furore. It killed the old tris tempo waltz, and the deus tempo usurped its place. Now that the fascination of the waltz is all powerful, it is difficult to realize the commotion its introduction caused.—London Globe.

Sidetracked. "I was looking about in Bargen's millinery department today," began the scheming wife, "and I saw the sweetest thing!"

"Yes," interrupted her foxy husband, "that's a great idea of Bargen's to put mirrors all around where you women congregate."—Exchange.

Begin His Rule.

Gotha, Duchy of Saxe-Cobourg and Gotha, July 20.—Duke Charles Edward of Saxe-Cobourg and Gotha assumed the reins of government yesterday on attaining his majority. The formal ceremony of taking the oath of installation occurred in the presence of Emperor William and King Edward and others, the Cabinet Ministers and a brilliant assemblage of officials and deputations from various parts of the duchy.

THE SOURCE OF NEURALGIA.

It runs hand in hand with poor blood and weak nerves. Health runs down, nerves get irritable, neuralgic torture follows. For the moment applications may relieve; but to thoroughly cure, the system must be strengthened with nutritious blood. What can equal Ferrozone? It increases the appetite, forms abundance of rich, life-giving blood, supplies nutrition and building material for worn-out nerves. Ferrozone completely cures neuralgia. Every root and branch of the disease it kills. Absolute success in every case. Stop suffering—fifty cents buys Ferrozone. Fifty chocolate coated tablets in a box at any drug store.

Released and Re-Arrested.

Toronto, July 20.—Alfred Hall, the Victoria street lawyer, was before Judge Morgan yesterday on the charge of stealing the proceeds of a draft for £150 from George C. Briggs, a young Englishman. He was defended by H. H. Dewar, and Mr. Drayton prosecuted. His honor dismissed the charge against Hall, remarking that he could not find the accused guilty of theft on the evidence, but he thought there were ample reasons for the charge being laid against him. Hall was immediately re-arrested by Detective Duncan, at the request of the Attorney-General's Department of British Columbia. He is wanted in Vancouver on the charge of defrauding Sylvester G. Faulkner of $75 by a worthless cheque on July 20, 1903. There is also another charge of giving false evidence for him to answer.

WHAT CAUSES APPENDICITIS.

The commonest cause of appendicitis is constipation. When you require physic don't use cheap drastic pills—get Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which strengthen the stomach, regulate the bowels and prevent any tendency to appendicitis. In consequence you'll feel the tremendous benefit of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. By purifying the blood and cleansing the system they prevent headaches, lift depression and drive away weariness. No medicine so successful as Dr. Hamilton's Pills, sold everywhere in 25c. boxes with yellow cover; get the genuine.

Irish in Ireland.

A cartman of Dunsfingh, County Donegal, has been fined 1 shilling and sentenced to jail for one week for having his name and address printed on his cart in the Irish language. The case has been before the Court of King's Bench on appeal, and the issue to be passed upon is whether Irish is a legal language or not. In the matter of addresses on letters it has been decided that an address written in Irish must also be given in English translation on the envelope.

CHILLS PROVE FATAL.

If warmth and circulation are not promptly restored, chills result in fatal pneumonia. This necessitates keeping Nervine on hand. Taken in hot water it breaks up a chill in two minutes. By rubbing freely over throat and chest it prevents colds. No liniment so strong, so penetrating, so swift to kill pain and inflammation. Nearly fifty years' record has proved the value of Polson's Nervine. You should get a bottle today.

Only a small man will blame his circumstances for his size.

The men who make history have not time to write it.

Nature "makes all things beautiful in their time." Every one of life's seasons, when life moves on Nature's lines, has its own charm and beauty. Many women dream that period when they must experience a change of life. They fear that face, and form may suffer by the change; and that they may fail to please those whom they love. The value of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription in this crisis of woman's life lies in the fact that it assists Nature. Its use preserves the balance and buoyancy of the mind and sustains the physical powers. Many women have expressed their gratitude for the help and comfort given by "Favorite Prescription" in this trying period. Its benefits are not passing but permanent and conduce to mental happiness as well as physical strength.

It is seldom the heavy play that has the most weight with the public.

A COSTLY BREAKFAST.

When Eggs Were Worth Their Weight in Gold in San Francisco.

Hens' eggs were worth their weight in gold, writes Thomas E. Farish in one of his stories of the very early days in San Francisco. A couple of young men who had recently landed from Tennessee dropped into Aldrich's for breakfast one morning. Not being aware of the rarity and consequent prices of eggs in California and having five dollars still left with which to pay for breakfast for two, they calmly ordered their usual breakfast of eggs and toast. When the bill was presented the young gentlemen saw, to their consternation, that the amount was $10. They had only $5. What was to be done?

After a consultation together it was decided that one of them should remain while the other went out to look for Colonel Gift, an old time friend whom they knew to be in the city. The colonel was soon found, who, after hearing the story of his young friend and asking who was with him, inquired what they had had for breakfast. "Eggs," was the reply.

"Eggs! Eggs!" exclaimed the colonel. "Did you not know, you blankety blank fool, that hens lay gold in California?" "I did not, but I do," said our young friend. "Well," continued the colonel kindly, handing over a fifty dollar gold shilling, "take this and remember after this that you are not in Tennessee, where eggs are given away."

THE GAME OF GOLF.

A Pastime of Kings, With a Record of Over Four Hundred Years.

A game with a history of more than 400 years must necessarily have some interesting records. Golf has been greatly liked by kings. In the time of James I. it was generally practiced by all classes. The unfortunate Charles I. was devoted to golf. While on a visit in Scotland in 1641, as he was deeply engaged in a game news was brought him of the breaking out of a rebellion in Ireland, and the royal golfer threw down his club and retired in great agitation to Holyrood House. When he was imprisoned at Newgate his keeper kindly permitted him to take recreation on the golfing links with his train. It is said that Mary, queen of Scots, was seen playing golf in the field beside Seaton a few days after the murder of her husband. In 1837 a magnificent gold medal was presented to St. Andrew's by William IV., to be played for annually. One of the earlier kings forbade the importation of golf balls from Holland because it took away "a small quantity of gold and silver out of the kingdom of Scotland, and at one time 'golfe and futeball and other unprofitable games' were forbidden in England because archery, so necessary in the defense of the nation, was being neglected in their favor.

COWARD ADAM.

The Franchise of Man to Lay the Blame Upon Woman.

"Never kiss and tell" is, I believe, an "unwritten law of chivalry." This law, as I understand, Coward Adam does sometimes manage to obey, albeit reluctantly. Because he would like to tell—he would very much like to tell—if the story of the kiss did not involve himself in the telling! But at this juncture "the unwritten laws of chivalry" stop in, and he is saved. And chivalry is the tree up which he climbs, chattering to himself the usual formulae, "The woman whom thou gavest to be with me," etc. Alas, poor woman! She has heard him saying this ever since she in an unselfish desire to share her food with him gave him the forbidden apple. No doubt she offered him its rosiest and ripest side! She always does—at first. Not afterward! As soon as he turns traitor and runs up a tree she takes to pelting him, metaphorically speaking, with coconuts. This is quite natural on her part. She had thought him a man—and when he suddenly changes into a monkey she doesn't understand it. To this cause may possibly be attributed some of the ructions which occasionally jar the harmonious estate of matrimony.—From Marie Corelli's "Free Opinions."

The Battle of a Week.

The battle of a week was the great conflict at Tours, in which Charles Martel overthrew the Saracens, A. D. 732. The members of the Saracen army are variously estimated at from 400,000 to 700,000, and the monkish historians say that 375,000 were killed on the field. It is suspected that these figures are a gross exaggeration, but it is certain that few battles of history have been either so bloody or so decisive.

Elephants in Uganda.

"Elephants in Uganda have a peculiar aspect that I have not noticed elsewhere," writes a traveler. "They cover their bodies, as a protection against flies, with the bright red volcanic dust contained in the soil. This gives them a remarkable appearance, as, instead of being a slaty gray, as in the Nile valley, their color, when thus covered with dust, resembles that of a chestnut horse."

An Idle Phrase.

There is one sentence in the English language that has an easy time, and there is no prospect of its ever being overworked. It is composed of these four words, "It was my fault."

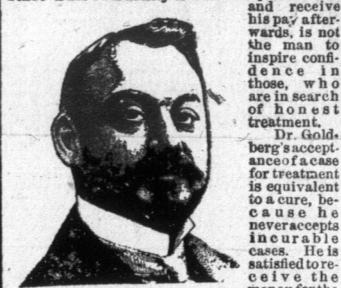

His Conclusion.

He Will Cure You First Then You Pay Him

The physician, who has not sufficient confidence in his own ability to cure his patient first value he has given the patient, but he expects to prove his worth and show positive and satisfactory results before he asks for the fee. So, should he fail to cure the case, the patient loses nothing, while the doctor, when he cures the patient, has given him what is worth much more than money—he has given him his health back. He is a known expert in his chosen specialty, and offers you the best, and only the best treatment. When your life or your health is at stake, inferior treatment (which leaves after-effects worse than the disease itself) is dear at any price.

Dr. Goldberg has 14 diplomas and certificates from the various colleges and state boards of medical examiners, which should be sufficient assurance as to his standing and ability. It makes no difference who has failed to cure you, it will be to your advantage to get the doctor's opinion of your case free of charge. He wants to hear from patients who have been unable to find chronic, nervous, blood and skin diseases, which he cures for treatment. He not only cures rheumatism, bladder or kidney troubles, blood poisoning, physical and nervous debility, lack of vitality, stomach trouble, etc. All medicines for patients are prepared in his laboratory to meet the requirements of each individual case. He will send a booklet on the subject, which contains the 14 diplomas and certificates, entirely free. All medicines for Canadian patients sent from Windsor, Ont. duty and transportation prepaid. Address, Dr. S. Goldberg, 305 Woodward Ave., Suite 511 Detroit, Michigan.

Injects Sea Water For Consumption.

Dr. Troisier of Paris recently read a paper before the Academie de Medicine claiming the discovery of a new cure for tuberculosis by means of subcutaneous injections of sea water, which he calls "marine serum." This has been tried on twenty-four patients at the Lariboisiere hospital, some only in the preliminary stages and others at a very advanced period of the disease. All the cases showed considerable improvement. The Academie has appointed a committee of inquiry.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Artificial Gold.

A new metal harder than steel, as brilliant as gold, from which it cannot be distinguished, and as good a conductor as copper has been invented by an Italian, says L'Echo des Mines et de la Metallurgie. It is composed of copper, iron, silver, phosphorus and, of course, metal. It is lighter than copper, and its beautiful color is not changed by any chemical reagent. This is wonderfully interesting if true, say The Engineering and Mining Journal. Indeed, it will go further; it is interesting if only half true.

Digby, N. S., Nov. 12, '01.

C. C. RICHARDS & CO. Gentlemen,—Last August my horse was badly cut in eleven places by a barbed wire fence. Three of the cuts, small ones, healed soon, but the others became foul and rotten, and though I tried many kinds of medicine they had no beneficial result. At last a doctor advised me to use MINARD'S LINIMENT and in four weeks the hair has grown over each one in from scarring. The liniment is certainly wonderful in its working.
