

THE PLANET JUNIOR

A weekly paper published every week for the young people of the Maple City.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1905.

THE ESSAY COMPETITION.

Nowhere in the Province of Ontario can be found a more thorough or complete system of Public and Separate School education than the one which exists in Kent County.

VIEWING OUR SCHOOL

Young Student's Charming Pen Picture of the Pleasures and Tribulations of School Life

By KATHLEEN MANNION, St. Joseph's School.

(This description was awarded the Silver Medal by the Minister of Education in THE PLANET JUNIOR Essay Competition.)

OUR SCHOOL

One of the Essays which was Written by Jerome Ebers and Received Honorable Mention.

The public school of North Chatham was first situated on Head St. a short distance from Victoria Ave. It was then called the Model School. It was deserted, and a new school built near Victoria Ave. on Forest St. after one of the trustees who did much for the school and was a faithful member of the School Board.

PLUCKY GIRL'S ADVENTURE

There is a plucky Irish girl, named Beatrice Grimshaw, who is probably having a higher average than any other girl living. Becoming tired of editorial work on an Irish cycling paper, she conceived the idea of setting out, alone, to roam the south seas.

OUR SCHOOL--THE CENTRAL

A Glowing Tribute from a Talented Writer--Education in its Truest and Broadest Sense

By LAURENCE THORNTON, CENTRAL SCHOOL.

This composition was awarded the Silver Medal by the Minister of Education in THE PLANET JUNIOR Essay Competition.

A DAY IN PATTY'S LIFE

Madame Patti, the great prima donna, lives for her art. Before breakfast, which she takes at 8.30, she stands before an open window and inhales the fresh morning air. She devotes very little time to her papers, for her husband, Baron Cedersrom, regularly keeps her posted, in a few words, as to the progress of events.

GAVE HIM THE RETORT COURTEOUS

There are some persons who take a sordid, utilitarian view of everything, including the achievements of science. A public-spirited citizen who was trying to arouse funds to assist a well-known Arctic explorer, called out on an expedition for polar research.

THE LAUNDRY OF LIFE

Life is a laundry, which we are born, are ironed out, or, soon or late, Who has not known the irony.

ST. CUTHBERT'S

By R. E. Knowles

Present adversity is easier to bear than past prosperity. The biggest sin is the one for which we have no appetite. It never occurs to a woman that betting ranks as gambling.

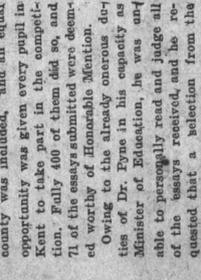

VIEWING OUR SCHOOL

Young Student's Charming Pen Picture of the Pleasures and Tribulations of School Life

By KATHLEEN MANNION, St. Joseph's School.

(This description was awarded the Silver Medal by the Minister of Education in THE PLANET JUNIOR Essay Competition.)

Hold the fair gem of knowledge! And the tree, fruitful in beauty, golden with its fruits. To this loved school shall trace back its life.

KATHLEEN MANNION.

their size, others for grandeur and architecture but some are more artistic. It is beautifully situated and the lovely green, flower-boxes and vines make it look more attractive and dainty.

Do come and take a peep inside. We shall take the front entrance and as we enter the large portico we see, to the left of us, a famous school with a large sum of money to purchase works of art. Step inside the first door to the right and here we are in the highest grade, which are artistically decorated with moment toward the THREE year-- LITY--PRICE in tinsel without quality to ut at any but a fair price it. st but must have both style rrant it.

s for years--they're our daily business accomplished much in each of them it--many of them exclusive with us the highest standard, an consistently be made.

COWAN

VERY CURIOUS CHINESE CUSTOMS

With the Chinaman the left hand is the place of honor. He carries a pig instead of driving him. He whistles instead of blowing his nose.

His favorite present to a parent is walking with others on his steps in own hands instead of his friends. He deems it polite to ask a casual caller's age and income.

He often throws away the fruit of the melon and eats the seed. His mortars often bring a tittle not to women folk to huff snappers. His sets, accompanied by men in gowns.

S. S. NO. 2, DOVER.

The following are the names, in order of merit, for the month of October-- Class V--M. Mackenzie, A. Mackenzie, Ethel Elgie, Class IV--M. Cantley, I. Rhincke, C. Elgie, F. Watson, B. Taylor, Class III--C. Williams, Rydell, J. Mackenzie, M. Cantley, S. Boyle, J. Hind, O. Hind, N. Husley, D. Taylor, C. H. James, E. DeCew, D. Chapelle, M. James, T. O. White, Teacher.

THE LAUNDRY OF LIFE

Life is a laundry, which we are born, are ironed out, or, soon or late, Who has not known the irony.

We enter it when we are born, Our colors bright. Full soon they fade.

We exit, "done up," old and worn, Frayed round the edges, worn and thin-- Who has not lost a button in Life's wringer?

With other linen often tangled, In open court they are, scrubbed and mangled.

Some take a gloss of happiness, Others, alas! get a "dome-- The finish."

—Chicago Tribune.

OUR SCHOOL--THE CENTRAL

A Glowing Tribute from a Talented Writer--Education in its Truest and Broadest Sense

By LAURENCE THORNTON, CENTRAL SCHOOL.

This composition was awarded the Silver Medal by the Minister of Education in THE PLANET JUNIOR Essay Competition.

As we read the speeches of prominent men of this country, in the press of the day, we are convinced that the two greatest institutions of the country are the schools and churches. When we speak of the schools and churches as the corner-stones on which our national greatness rests, they mean that intelligence and moral integrity are the foundations of individual greatness. As the highest type of piety is not possible without intelligence, it would seem that true national greatness depends on the good work of the Public Schools.

GAVE HIM THE RETORT COURTEOUS

There are some persons who take a sordid, utilitarian view of everything, including the achievements of science. A public-spirited citizen who was trying to arouse funds to assist a well-known Arctic explorer, called out on an expedition for polar research.

THE LAUNDRY OF LIFE

Life is a laundry, which we are born, are ironed out, or, soon or late, Who has not known the irony.

We enter it when we are born, Our colors bright. Full soon they fade.

We exit, "done up," old and worn, Frayed round the edges, worn and thin-- Who has not lost a button in Life's wringer?

With other linen often tangled, In open court they are, scrubbed and mangled.

Some take a gloss of happiness, Others, alas! get a "dome-- The finish."

—Chicago Tribune.

OUR SCHOOL--THE CENTRAL

A Glowing Tribute from a Talented Writer--Education in its Truest and Broadest Sense

By LAURENCE THORNTON, CENTRAL SCHOOL.

This composition was awarded the Silver Medal by the Minister of Education in THE PLANET JUNIOR Essay Competition.

As we read the speeches of prominent men of this country, in the press of the day, we are convinced that the two greatest institutions of the country are the schools and churches. When we speak of the schools and churches as the corner-stones on which our national greatness rests, they mean that intelligence and moral integrity are the foundations of individual greatness. As the highest type of piety is not possible without intelligence, it would seem that true national greatness depends on the good work of the Public Schools.

GAVE HIM THE RETORT COURTEOUS

There are some persons who take a sordid, utilitarian view of everything, including the achievements of science. A public-spirited citizen who was trying to arouse funds to assist a well-known Arctic explorer, called out on an expedition for polar research.

THE LAUNDRY OF LIFE

Life is a laundry, which we are born, are ironed out, or, soon or late, Who has not known the irony.

We enter it when we are born, Our colors bright. Full soon they fade.

We exit, "done up," old and worn, Frayed round the edges, worn and thin-- Who has not lost a button in Life's wringer?

With other linen often tangled, In open court they are, scrubbed and mangled.

Some take a gloss of happiness, Others, alas! get a "dome-- The finish."

—Chicago Tribune.

OUR SCHOOL--THE CENTRAL

A Glowing Tribute from a Talented Writer--Education in its Truest and Broadest Sense

By LAURENCE THORNTON, CENTRAL SCHOOL.

This composition was awarded the Silver Medal by the Minister of Education in THE PLANET JUNIOR Essay Competition.

As we read the speeches of prominent men of this country, in the press of the day, we are convinced that the two greatest institutions of the country are the schools and churches. When we speak of the schools and churches as the corner-stones on which our national greatness rests, they mean that intelligence and moral integrity are the foundations of individual greatness. As the highest type of piety is not possible without intelligence, it would seem that true national greatness depends on the good work of the Public Schools.

GAVE HIM THE RETORT COURTEOUS

There are some persons who take a sordid, utilitarian view of everything, including the achievements of science. A public-spirited citizen who was trying to arouse funds to assist a well-known Arctic explorer, called out on an expedition for polar research.

THE LAUNDRY OF LIFE

Life is a laundry, which we are born, are ironed out, or, soon or late, Who has not known the irony.

We enter it when we are born, Our colors bright. Full soon they fade.

We exit, "done up," old and worn, Frayed round the edges, worn and thin-- Who has not lost a button in Life's wringer?

With other linen often tangled, In open court they are, scrubbed and mangled.

Some take a gloss of happiness, Others, alas! get a "dome-- The finish."

—Chicago Tribune.

OUR SCHOOL--THE CENTRAL

A Glowing Tribute from a Talented Writer--Education in its Truest and Broadest Sense

By LAURENCE THORNTON, CENTRAL SCHOOL.

This composition was awarded the Silver Medal by the Minister of Education in THE PLANET JUNIOR Essay Competition.

As we read the speeches of prominent men of this country, in the press of the day, we are convinced that the two greatest institutions of the country are the schools and churches. When we speak of the schools and churches as the corner-stones on which our national greatness rests, they mean that intelligence and moral integrity are the foundations of individual greatness. As the highest type of piety is not possible without intelligence, it would seem that true national greatness depends on the good work of the Public Schools.

GAVE HIM THE RETORT COURTEOUS

There are some persons who take a sordid, utilitarian view of everything, including the achievements of science. A public-spirited citizen who was trying to arouse funds to assist a well-known Arctic explorer, called out on an expedition for polar research.

THE LAUNDRY OF LIFE

Life is a laundry, which we are born, are ironed out, or, soon or late, Who has not known the irony.

We enter it when we are born, Our colors bright. Full soon they fade.

We exit, "done up," old and worn, Frayed round the edges, worn and thin-- Who has not lost a button in Life's wringer?

With other linen often tangled, In open court they are, scrubbed and mangled.

Some take a gloss of happiness, Others, alas! get a "dome-- The finish."

—Chicago Tribune.

OUR SCHOOL--THE CENTRAL

A Glowing Tribute from a Talented Writer--Education in its Truest and Broadest Sense

By LAURENCE THORNTON, CENTRAL SCHOOL.

This composition was awarded the Silver Medal by the Minister of Education in THE PLANET JUNIOR Essay Competition.

As we read the speeches of prominent men of this country, in the press of the day, we are convinced that the two greatest institutions of the country are the schools and churches. When we speak of the schools and churches as the corner-stones on which our national greatness rests, they mean that intelligence and moral integrity are the foundations of individual greatness. As the highest type of piety is not possible without intelligence, it would seem that true national greatness depends on the good work of the Public Schools.

GAVE HIM THE RETORT COURTEOUS

There are some persons who take a sordid, utilitarian view of everything, including the achievements of science. A public-spirited citizen who was trying to arouse funds to assist a well-known Arctic explorer, called out on an expedition for polar research.

THE LAUNDRY OF LIFE

Life is a laundry, which we are born, are ironed out, or, soon or late, Who has not known the irony.

We enter it when we are born, Our colors bright. Full soon they fade.

We exit, "done up," old and worn, Frayed round the edges, worn and thin-- Who has not lost a button in Life's wringer?

With other linen often tangled, In open court they are, scrubbed and mangled.

Some take a gloss of happiness, Others, alas! get a "dome-- The finish."

—Chicago Tribune.

Advertisement for COWAN shoes, featuring an illustration of a man in a suit and text describing the quality and price of the shoes.

NO. 252

The New Copyright... Books

- List of book titles and authors: ST. CUTHBERT'S, NEDRA, AVESHA, THE GAMBLER, RO E OF THE RIVER, THE CHARIOTS OF THE LORD, WOOD MYTH AND FABLE, A WELSH SINGER, STARVEY CROW FARM, A SERVANT OF THE PUBLIC, SANDY, SULMAN'S BEEHIVE.

SEE THE NEW YORK HORSE SHOW. The famous New York Horse Show will be held in Madison Square Garden from November 13th to 18th.

S SHOES IN CT STYLES. moment toward the THREE year-- LITY--PRICE in tinsel without quality to ut at any but a fair price it. st but must have both style rrant it. s for years--they're our daily business accomplished much in each of them it--many of them exclusive with us the highest standard, an consistently be made. COWAN