LABOR CONGRESS OF CANADA CONVENES

The Report of Executive Committee at Opening at Winnipeg

[Canadian Press by Lease Wire.]
Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 22.—We do not feel that we are unduly optimistic in expressing our utmost confidence in the ability of the congress to successfully meet the present crucial condition, and continue to function successfully in guiding the interests of its affiliated membership.

In this way does the report of the executive committee of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada express its opinion of the situation confronting that body, which opened its thirty-seventh annual convention here today with delegates in attendance from all parts of the Dominion.

"In Canada as in practically all other countries, the trades union movement has suffered from those who—boring from within—aim to bring about the disruption and destruction of the trades union movement, and throughout the Dominion these tactics are being carried out insidiously and persistently," read the executive report. "There has been no let up in the campaign (dictated by the Third International of Moscow) of belittling, slandering and in every way possible undermining confidence and respect for all who hold office in our movement whether local, national or international. This has brought about in many places a temporary weakening of the morale and the self-discipline of our members, with the result that the efforts of greedy employers and entrenched interests to bring about reduction in the standards of the wage earners and to destroy the growing power and influence of the trades union movement, have been far more successful than otherwise would have been the case."

After denouncing as considerable length the work of the congress in connection with the parliamentary legislation at Ottawa, the committee said:

"It will be noted that the session resulted in very little legislation designed to improve the social and industrial condition of the workers. When the trades union movement was under attack the absence of men from the ranks of the workers, who had knowledge of its principles and platform, was particularly noticeable. Its defence being left with few exceptions, to the good will and such information as they possessed of corporation lawyers, employers and representatives of financial institutions.

"The number of orientals at present in Canada and still coming to this country remains a serious menace, especially in British Columbia, and so far efforts to have this matter officially dealt with by the government have been unsuccessful.

"The question of immigration is of the utmost importance at this time, because of the serious condition existing in this country and whilst the workers of Canada have no desire to debate any workers from another country and especially from the British Isles from securing the opportunity to improve his position, yet we realize at the present time that these opportunities do not exist in the Dominion of Canada."
