

IN THE WORLD OF AMUSEMENT

Another large audience at the Savoy last night enthusiastically applauded Edith Helena, the great American soprano, who has proved one of the biggest hits "advanced vaudeville" has brought here this season. Her remarkably clear tones are certainly wonderful. She sings "The Last Rose of Summer," most impressively and displays a compass of voice abnormally developed in the region of the upper C. Her final effort is a remarkably clever imitation of a violin solo, an item, applauded to the echo. In these high notes there is no screaming or appearance of effort. They come easily and ring out clear as a bell. In every other act there is something to please and delight. Mme. Etouille's society circus horses and Vinelli's boxing stallions; Charles Kenna, another of advanced vaudeville's brightest lights; W. S. Harvey's unique and sensational juggling act; the Elite Musical Troupe; the Max Tourbillon Acrobatic Bicycle troupe; Josephine Davis, in singer with a pleasing voice, charming appearance and catchy songs; and Carney and Wagner, clever dancers, are all pleasing attractions. Next week Komorah, a lighting calculator, will be the chief attraction. The act is a novelty that is sure to prove a hit. Blindfolded and with her back to the audience this clever woman gives an exhibition of mystifying mental mathematics. Another strong feature will be La Esmeralda, the famous Spanish Dancer, who comes here direct from the New York theatre, Klaw and Erlanger's largest theatre.

At the Bennett.

With the country fairs and the race meeting on the go now "The Sailor and the Horse," which is being presented at Bennett's this week, is easily the best bet of the day because it combines the two of them in one of the most laughable farces of the age. In addition there is a David Harum air about the piece which makes up for any possible deficiency about it. There will be many a patron who will witness the act this week, and who will say, "Oh how natural it looks," and what is more than that who may share the feelings of the show man who has a good thing and doesn't realize it until it is too late. There is an air of originality about the act which, combined with the clever manner in which it is put on makes it a favorite. Jules Garrison and Helen Conklin, in their burlesque on some of Shakespeare's characters are making friends while the audiences cannot get enough of the act. Minnie from Minnesota, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Allison. Dillon Brothers and all of the other acts come in for a large share of the audience's endorsement.

Manager Driscoll says he has a bill for next week which will enable the numerous visitors in town to go away firmly convinced that this city is not in the back woods in the vaudeville line. Gus Edwards will present his famous act "School Boys and Girls," a combination of the handsomest and most talented juvenile players on the road. The act comes direct from New York after a long run there and it is playing only the best houses in the States, with Hamilton as its only stop in Canada. Herman Timberg, a mere boy, plays a violin in a manner which is marvellous.

while Maude Earle, a sister of Virginia Earle, who was here recently, does her work in a manner which augurs well to make her as famous as her sister in a very short time. The Musical Avollos is another act which will create a sensation here as it has in New York and wherever it has appeared, and Belleclair and Kramer in a physical culture act known as "The Strong Man" will give a realistic portrayal of the science of bodily development. Charles Barry and Hulda Halvers from the "Babes in Toyland" company; Cook Brothers, jugglers; Bank and Newton, singers and dancers, and Harry Thorne and company in a farce, "An Uptown Flat," will complete the bill.

"The Ninety and Nine." The 2,500th performance of "The Ninety and Nine" will be celebrated in appropriate style by James D. Barton, the owner of the play. This milestone in the history of the wonderful play will be reached Tuesday night, November 12, and a banquet will be tendered by the management to both companies now presenting the piece on the stages where they happen to be playing at the time. "The Ninety and Nine" is now in its seventh year.

"Fighting the Flames." The reserved seat plan for the performance of "Fighting the Flames" at Association Hall to-morrow night opened at Nordheimer's yesterday, and there was a good demand for seats. There is sure to be big houses at the three performances. The Edward Shields Co. will present Hale's Five Fighters and motion pictures of the Hamilton Fire Department on the run, the Veteran Volunteers and the International Harvester Co.'s fire department. In addition to these novel features, Sadie Sherman, the noted baritone and mimic, will appear in songs and stories, and Mr. Shields will give an illustrated talk.

Altogether the programme should be highly interesting and enjoyable. On Saturday afternoon a special children's matinee will be put on. Children will be admitted to the best seats for 10 cents.

AN IMPOSSIBLE MONSTER.

British Scientists Discredit Story From Vancouver.

London, Sept. 24.—Dr. F. A. Bather, assistant keeper of the Department of Geology, discounts the story told of a Vancouver monster theoretically reconstructed from relics found in Queen Charlotte Islands. He says a creature of such vast size is altogether imaginary, and impossible. Bather never heard of Dr. G. E. Bayfield, Vancouver, who made the calculation.

TO PAWN SULTAN'S JEWELS.

Tangier, Sept. 24.—Mohammed Jazi, brother of the Moroccan Minister of Finance, has started for France to negotiate a loan for Sultan Abdul Aziz on the jewels and precious stones belonging to the crown, which are valued at $3,000,000.
