

A YOUNG ATHLETE VICTIM OF STORM.

thought was a coat washing through the canal on the crests of the waves, which swept over the bridges of the Italdal and Grand Trunk. This must have been the body of Jamieson. This morning the dead man's brother identified the boat at the Beach as the one his brother had gone out in and the last hope was gone. At the present time the body must be out in the lake, and as a strong current was running east all day and night, the body may have travelled miles. That it would float as long as the water was in such a trouble state was stated by boat owners, who know the bay, and there can be little doubt but that what was seen going through between the Beach piers was the body of Jamieson.

The captain of the Wasaga told the dead man's brothers that he had his glass on Jamieson for an hour after he went out on his attempt to reach the hat. Jamieson struggled with his oars to the very last. When he passed the Smelting works ore dock in all likelihood he was thrown from the boat. At the piers the oars were still with the boat, but Jamieson and all trace of him had vanished. About 5.30 men at the Beach saw an empty boat being driven towards the canal.

Besides his mother Jamieson leaves two sisters and two brothers to mourn his loss. He was well known in sporting circles as a wrestler and athlete. He played scrummage for the intermediates, and his good work with the team drew the attention of the seniors to him, and he was spare for them on their trips away and their home games. He was in several of the big games, and was conceded to be one of the coming players for the senior team. He showed class that old staggers at this game would be proud to have and was an all round utility man to sportsman, too, and his sad end will cause great regret.

TO IMPROVE THE FORCE.

and 58 smaller bumps. The Council authorized only 732 lights. The map will be laid before the Board of Works tomorrow, and some alterations made.

Engineer Montgomery and City Engineer Barrow yesterday decided upon the site for the air tanks and power house to pump water up the mountain side. The Fire and Water Committee, on Engineer Barrow's recommendation, decided last night to build the power house by day labor at an estimated cost of $600 and to purchase a 50-horse-power motor. This will only be used half an hour or an hour each day to pump air. The Mayor says it must be placed on a meter basis.

Last night the Fire and Water Committee awarded the contract for supplying six-inch wrought iron pipe to carry water up the mountain side to the Wood, Vallance Company at 43 cents a foot, for 800 feet, less 2 per cent.

The following building permits have been issued: Thomas Allen, two brick houses, on Young street, between Walnut and Ferguson streets, $3,000.

Stewart & Witton, alterations, corner of Hughson and Young streets, for Alex. Turner, $500.

James McNaught, brick house on Murray street, south of Delaware avenue, for D. Campbell, $1,800.

William Theaker, brick house, on Slater street, between King and Main streets, for George Armstrong, $2,500.

William Theaker, brick house on Sophia street, between Head and Marguerite streets, for John L. Long, $2,000.

R. Thompson, brick addition, 286 Charlton avenue west, for Thomas Taylor, $350.

SORRY NOW.

Inspector Nicholson Apparently Thinks He Spoke Unwisely.

The License Commissioners held a meeting on Tuesday, when it was decided to make a personal examination next week of the hotels applying for licenses. Some objection was taken to the published report in the Times of Inspector Nicholson's remarks at the Local Option meeting last week. The Inspector said the report contained a sprinkling of truth, but the reporter had put words in his mouth which he had not uttered, and while he may have been led to give advance information in regard to his report on the hotels, after more mature consideration, he came to the conclusion that it would have been better had he not done so, but no one was injured by his so doing.—Dundas Star.

It might have been well to have pointed out where the "sprinkling" of truth came in. As the matter now stands, the public have no means of determining what portion of the report the Inspector admits was correct. The words that it is claimed the reporter put into his mouth might also be mentioned. The Times has it on the authority of people who were present that its published report of what Mr. Nicholson said was eminently fair and substantially correct.

TO GOWGANDA.

Government Railway May Run From Charlton to There.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Toronto, April 8.—The probability of a Government railway from Charlton to Gowganda was given a boost at the Legislature this morning, when the Hon. Dr. Reaume, Minister of Public Works, introduced an amendment to the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway, giving the commission power to so extend the road.

Incidentally, Sir James Whitney intimated that the Government system of railways might not end at the Gowganda extension, or even at Sudbury.

Levitt's Easter Parade.

In this issue Mr. H. Levitt, 62-64 James street north, makes a reasonable offer to any man and woman who would be well dressed for Easter. He gives the customer the benefit of the cash price, but allows him time to pay for the garment on the weekly or monthly plan. Mr. Levitt has recently returned from an extensive buying trip to New York, where he secured hundreds of the most distinctive costumes to be seen anywhere. His ladies' two and three-piece costumes range in price from $10 to $20. They are graceful in line and are the smartest of spring models. Gentlemen's suits in black and blue or fancy worsteds sell on the same terms from $10 to $25. Mr. Levitt's store is open evenings, and he will be glad to show his fine stock of exclusive garments.

BRITANNIA RINK.

Scenes that are familiar with country life will be seen by those who patronize the rule carnival at Britannia Rink on Monday evening next. This carnival is sure to be a funny one, and those who attend will be given a fine treat. To-morrow the rink will be one of the finest places in the city to spend the evening. There will be three sessions—morning, afternoon and evening, and, as an added attraction for the evening, special music. Lomas' band has been engaged for Saturday evening. The east end rink is becoming more popular every day, mostly because of extra attractions that greatly please the public. The balcony is a pleasant place to spend the evening, and those who attend receive the most courteous attention.

McMichael, the champion, and Crispin will race on Friday evening, April 16.

The Easter Hat or, The Talk of the Town

Place—A swell residence in Hamilton. Time—The present. Dramatis Personae—Mrs. Smith and Miss Jones.

Mrs. Smith—O, Clara, I'm so glad to see you, I'm in a terrible trouble. Miss Jones—Indeed, Angelina! What's on your mind?

Mrs. Smith—Hats, hats, hats—the everlasting and indispensable Easter hat. I want a fine one, but they charge such awful prices, and really I am at a loss to know where to go and get what I want without having to fork over a small fortune.

Miss Jones—Is that all that's troubling you? That's easy. I can tell you just where to go and you can get just what ever you want and it won't cost you any small fortune, either.

Mrs. Smith—Where, my dear Clara, where? Miss Jones—Why, at Mrs. Hinman's—the Hinman-Atkinson place, they call it now. I was there yesterday, and never before set eyes on such a wonderful display of choice millinery. It was more than beautiful. It was exquisite, superb, ravishingly lovely.

Mrs. Smith—Really, now, Clara, is that a fact? Miss Jones—Yes, there is everything imaginable there in the way of Parisian, London, Glasgow and New York novelties. And the best of it all was the prices, considering the quality and style offered, are exceedingly moderate. I lost no time in ordering my Easter hat there. You know George is such a connoisseur in hats, and I want to please—

Mrs. Smith (interrupting)—Yes, dear, you must do all you can to get that fine young fellow engaged and—

Miss Jones (blushing, and in turn interrupting)—Yes, yes, Angelina, I know, and—but as I was saying, the place for you to go to get the very best goods for the very least money is the Hinman-Atkinson place. As regards choice hats in all sorts of styles, shapes, trimmings, etc., at low prices, their display is the talk of the town. My advice is, go now before the rush sets in, and before the latest creations in the millinery art are snapped up.

Mrs. Smith—Thank you, my dear, I'll take your advice. The early bird catches the hat. I'll get ready and go now. The ladies kiss good-bye, and presently Mrs. Smith is on her way to THE HINMAN-ATKINSON MILLINERY PARLORS, 4 John St. North.

BEAT MOTHER AND SISTER.

Worthless Toronto Man Given Six Months' Hard Labor.

Toronto, April 8.—Benjamin Katz, a tall, powerful man of the Weary Willie class, was sentenced to six months' hard labor in the Central Prison, at the Police Court yesterday. The charge against him was vagrancy, but it came out in the evidence that he was an idle, worthless fellow, who would not work, and beat his aged mother and sister if they did not promptly supply him with food and pocket change.

Katz, in a whining tone, told the magistrate that he had tried hard to get work and failed, but he really wanted a job, to which the "Beak" replied, "If that is the trouble, your wants will soon be gratified."
