THE SITUATION IN CUBA.

It is the opinion of a great many people who have been closely observing events in Cuba during the past few years, that the troubles of that unhappy island only really began when it secured its independence, and set up house keeping as a republic. There is a belief also that the final outcome of the present condition of affairs in Cuba will be to land the island in the American union, and prodirection. bably such a fate would be best for all concerned.

The United States spent much blocd , this place for a visit. She returned to and treasure to secure Cuba's freedom from the Spanish yoke, but retains a sort of protectorate over the island, but the new relations are not working satisfactor- up with erysiplas in his hand is improvily. The fact is that the United States navy has had no intention of establishing naval station at the arsenal, but is evidently desirous of keeping a hold for that purpose on Triscornia, acress the bay from Havana, where there is already a supply of coal, which the Cuban Government weeks ago requested be removed. This has not been done, a fact which inpresent creases the Coban fear that it is the plan of the United States to establish a naval station under the shadow of Morro Castle.

The Navy Department would have verdict as having more significance than liked to establish the naval stations at any single election since the late Mr. once. Plans were laid in that direction, but President Roosevelt expressed the opinion that it would be good policy not to proceed with negotiations for concessions for coaling or naval stations until the United States had discharged, in part at least, its pledges to Cuba. As a result of the delay the naval stations may be domestic legislation, and with a cooler far less advantageously located than temper than it could during the South would have been the case had reciprocity African war.
