

The Great Spring Tonic and Body Builder

EMBLEM OF PURITY AND EXCELLENCE SINCE 1860. It is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain, and as none but sound, clean grain can be malted it is made from the most carefully selected grains. It is a predigested liquid food in the form of a medicinal whiskey; its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

It is a gentle, invigorating stimulant and tonic that influences for good every important organ of the body. It is especially valuable for use at this time because it aids digestion that it enables you to get from the food you eat all the nourishment it contains, thus enriching the blood and rebuilding the system that has become run down and weakened from the long strain of winter.

To-Morrow People.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

"When to-morrow comes it will be to-morrow."

"We are going to be so happy next fall," a friend of mine told me the other day. "We are going to move into one of those beautiful new apartments they are building on the Avenue, and I'm going to buy the greatest room furniture we have been saving up for so long, and at last I shall be able to entertain my friends as I want. It seems to me I can hardly wait for fall to come."

"As I look back across my friendship with this young woman, I remember a time when she could 'hardly wait' for the day to come when she and her husband were to leave the place where they were boarding and really go to housekeeping in their first little apartment; and before that, a time when she could 'hardly wait' for her wedding day; and before that a time when she could 'hardly wait' until July for the summer vacation which we planned in the spring.

"And when to-morrow comes, it still will be to-morrow."

There are a great many people in the world who are always about to be happy. In the to-morrow of their fulfilled anticipations they are sure they will find happiness; and they are so intent upon looking forward that they quite forget to realize that today is the to-morrow of yesterday's anticipation. The very best time to do kind deeds is to-day; the very best time to start any good undertaking is to-day; and the very best time to be happy is to-day, this hour, this minute.

"If an inhabitant of some other planet were to visit America," says Orison Swett Marden, "he would probably think that our people were all en route for something beyond, some other destination, and that where they happen to be living is merely a way station where they unpack only such of their luggage as they need for a temporary stay. They are not really settled to-day, do not really live in the now, but they are sure they will live to-morrow or next year when business is better, their fortune greater, when they move into their new house, get their new furnishings or their new automobile, then they will be happy. But they are not really happy to-day."

That is a great indictment of the American people and I am afraid a just one. It is peculiarly our national tendency to be in too much of a hurry getting ready to live, to have any time left for living itself. "Mama" is as much our failing as the Spaniard's, only in a far different sense.

Anticipation has its uses, but it also has its abuses. Look forward to to-morrow's joy by all means, but don't look forward so eagerly that you miss the delights of to-day. Be happy this day, this hour, this minute. You are sure of that happiness.

WOMAN'S WISDOM.

The worried mother wakes up to hear her baby's heavy breathing—little cough—perhaps the croup or whooping cough. She does not want to send for the doctor when perhaps the trouble does not amount to much. Finally she thinks of that medical book her father gave her, The Common Sense Adviser, by R. V. Pierce, M. D. She says "Just the thing to find out what is the matter with the little dear," two million households in this country own one—and it's to be had for only six cents in stamps—1,000 pages in splendid cloth binding. A good family adviser in any emergency. It is for every use. It is what many women write Dr. Pierce—in respect to his "Favorite Prescription," a remedy which has made thousands of melancholy and miserable women cheerful and happy, by curing the painful womanly diseases which undermine a woman's health and strength.

"My desire is to write a few lines to let you know what your valuable medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. MARGARET ZUBERT, of 203 S. Benton Street, Baltimore, Md. "Before the storm came to our house I was a very sick woman. I wrote you for advice and was kindly given and which made me a different woman in a short time. After taking the first bottle of 'Favorite Prescription' I began improving so that I hardly knew I was in such a condition. I did my own housework—washing and ironing, cooking, sewing, and the worst of all nursed three children who had whooping cough. I hardly knew of the advent ten minutes before—so easy was it. The baby is as fat as a butter-ball. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine for any woman to take when in this condition. I recommend it to all my friends."

Fashions and Fads.

The sashed Eton jacket is one of the new things. Coatees for net toilettes are of embroidered linen.

Some of the newest boots are white, with violet tops.

Sometimes the draped mantlet is in colors to match the sash.

The newest panama hats for wear with sports suits have new curves.

Sashed skirts are worn over elaborate petticoats of net or lace.

Waistcoats to the new French tailored costumes are really enormous.

Wide girdles of black velvet are much liked with white charmusee gowns.

Sashes are used in a score of different ways, and always with fascination.

Plain black taffeta stocks are embroidered on the tabs with bright-colored woods.

Eton jackets of tojally different color from the rest of the costume are very smart.

Young girls' graduation gowns are being made of net trimmed with shadow lace.

Some of the prettiest white blouses are made of most delicate white net.

Plain and eyelid embroidered volles are, often combined for afternoon dresses.

Kerchiefs of tulle form pointed square collars worn over toulard and crepon silk dresses.

A semi-tailored suit can be made quite formal by wearing with it an elaborate blouse.

Some of the newest American combinations have decorations of colored handkerchiefs.

Some of the prettiest bolero coats are tied in front with bands of silk, instead of buttons.

One of the new collures shows a slight fringe in front, suggesting the "bang" of years ago.

The side closing with side frills is still a favorite on summer dresses, particularly of dresses.

Flowered crepe de chine is used for bolero habit corages to crepon and charmusee skirts.

Wool embroidery will actually be seen on some of the new lingerie dresses of tulle or net.

The plainer the cut the smarter the costume. This is the dictum for country daytime dress.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited, Yarmouth, N.S.

Gentlemen.—In January last, Francis Leclaire, one of the men employed by me, working in the lumber woods, had a tree fall on him, crushing him fearfully. He was, when found, placed on a sled and taken home, where grave fears were entertained for his recovery, his hips being badly bruised and his body turned black from the ribs to his feet. We used MINARD'S LINIMENT on him freely to deaden the pain and with the use of three bottles he was completely cured and able to return to his work.

L'AUVEUR, DUVAL, Elgin Road, L'Islet Co., Que.

A good story is told of a Welsh churchwarden, to a most lovable old gentleman, who not very long ago passed away. He was persuaded by his Vicar on one occasion to accept an invitation from the Bishop to attend a conference in London and to stay at the Palace. It was very late when he arrived, and, after a cordial welcome, he retired to rest. Next morning, when the guests had assembled at the breakfast table, the Bishop noticed that the Welshman was missing, and, calling the butler, asked what had become of him. "He's gone out, my Lord," was the reply. "He came down about seven, and telling me he didn't like any fuss, came and had breakfast with me in the kitchen."

C. C. C. Reserve Dance.

A BRILLIANT SUCCESS. The C. C. C. Reserve Corps held their first annual dance in the British Hall, Friday night, the eve of Empire Day. It was thoroughly enjoyed by the four hundred persons who were present and proved one of the biggest successes ever held under Cadet auspices. The ball room was artistically decorated and illuminated, presented a strikingly attractive scene as well as reflecting credit on the skill and good taste of the reserve members who were responsible for it. Dancing commenced at 9.30 p.m., the C. C. C. band discoursing the music in their usual excellent style. At midnight the entire company repaired to the lower hall where sumptuous teas, provided by the lady friends of the Corps, were partaken of. After the intermission satisfied dancing was resumed. At 5 a.m. the affair was brought to a happy termination. The Reserve people who must have been delighted with the success that attended their efforts deserve congratulations.

Minors Drunk.

The police say they never saw as much drunkenness as was evident on Saturday in the city. Even youths were celebrating the holiday with the "blowing bowl." Saturday afternoon a boy aged fifteen, was seen on Church Hill; he had both sides of that thoroughfare to himself and his condition was disgraceful and disgusting to pedestrians. Two police officers happened to come along and arrested the youthful inebriate, who is being held in custody while an investigation is made as to who served the minor with liquor.

Collection for the Cemeteries

At the masses in the Roman Catholic Churches yesterday, it was announced that on next Sunday the annual collection for Belvidere and St. Carmel Cemeteries would be taken up at the Cathedral, St. Patrick's and St. Joseph's. At the Masses yesterday the matter was referred to the clergy with a hope expressed that the collection would be a liberal one. The energetic committees in charge of the cemeteries deserve all the encouragement that can be given them. At no small expenditure of energy and with commendable zeal, these gentlemen have worked to beautify the resting places of the dead and we feel confident in saying that Sunday's collection will be most liberal and an encouraging tribute to them to continue their good work.

DON'T BE DOWN-HEARTED.
