WILLIAM ETTY born 1787. A famous English R.A. who contributed to the Royal Academy some of its most admired pictures between 1820 and 1849. Among his famous pictures are "The Coral Finders," "Cleopatra," "Joan of Arc."

KING EDWARD VII. married 1863. Our late King who was happily married on this date to Alexandra, Princess of Denmark and now termed the "Queen-Mother."

MAZZINI died 1872, aged 67. Italian patriot, who, in his endeavours to secure the independence of Italy, incurred the disfavour of the authorities and was compelled to leave the country. In 1848 he was back to Rome and was elected dictator of the Roman Republic. He was not allowed to hold this position long, however, and was driven to England again. He lived to see Victor Emmanuel King of United Italy. Mazzini was the idealist and spiritual founder of United Italy and all his writings are inspired by the noblest thought, the deepest feeling, and passionate eloquence. One of his best works is "On the duties of Man."

You are not guilty because you are ignorant; but you are guilty when you resign yourselves to ignorance. —Mazzini.

AS HE CROSSED THE BAR.

An officer at the front told a London paper representative the following story as within his own experience:

A soldier who had been almost riddled with shrapnel, as he was laid tenderly on the hospital's bed, suddenly began to sing—Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar," to Sir Joseph Burby's beautiful setting.

His voice was one of the sweetest tenors I ever heard. While everyone listened in silence he went right through to the end, but his strength was ebbing. He managed, however, to sing on to the end, while fainter and fainter grew the voice till he reached

And may there be no moaning at the Bar
When I put out to sea.

And then he died. I shall never forget that experience.

THE MODERN MAID.

I met a little maid whose glance, so winsome, made me glad; her lid, she said, was brought from France, her furs from Petrograd. "Will marry me?" I asked. "Sweet maid, you suit me to a T." Then all her molars she displayed; her laugh was large and free. "This marriage bunk," the maid replied, "gives me an oblong pain; what profits it to be a bride? What does a dame's gain? The housewife is a total loss, a drudge up and down; but my employers come across with fifteen boxes a week. The wife must beg her tightwad man for every dime he sheds; a girl becomes an also ran the minute that she weds. Oh, cheerfully my way I jog, I find this old world nice; I'm independent as a hog that has been placed on ice. And if I wedded you, I fear, the change would make me ill; I'd have to work you for a year to get a dollar bill. My bank account is on the boom, I smile and dance and sing; oh, not for me the orange bloom, white gloves or wedding ring." So she went giggling on her way, and would not be a frau; I wonder if she'll be as gay some twenty years from now?

Britain Will Explain How Order Will Be Enforced.

London, March 3.—The order-in-council putting the English declaration against German commerce into effect, it is stated authoritatively, will explain the details as to how the Admiralty will proceed in enforcing the sweeping order.

The exact date of the order has not yet been decided upon, but it will probably be published in a few days.

Great Britain has not yet prepared her answer to the American note, submitted to the British and German Governments, looking to the withdrawal of the submarine blockade and the continuance of food movements to Germany for the civil population. The publication of the text of the American note and Germany's reply in the London papers has attracted wide attention.

The English view, which will undoubtedly be embodied in the note to the American Government, is that the suggestions propose that Great Britain shall virtually forego the strength of her position due to her superior navy. In other words, Great Britain feels that Germany is trying to have the neutral states perform duties for her which she could possibly carry out had she a superior navy.

Furthermore, the British Government, it is asserted, will ask what assurances the United States can give that Germany would not resume her submarine activities after she had obtained sufficient food under the relaxed regulations to enable her to carry on the war indefinitely.

England's reply to this suggestion that the belligerents cease the use of floating mines will be that she has never used them.

The English position as to the use of neutral flags and the arming of merchant ships is that no general order has been issued for the use of the flags of neutral states, and that merchant ships are only armed after Germany had declared a submarine blockade.

London, March 1.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Copenhagen wires:

"Seven more lists of Prussian casualties are published. They contain the names of 11,418 officers and men killed, wounded or missing, and bring the total of the Prussian casualties up to 102,212."

"To these must be added 156 Bavarian, 113 Saxon, 125 Wurtemberg, and 19 naval lists."

Awarded Victoria Cross

FOR CONSPICUOUS BRAVERY.

London, March 1.—Lieutenant Arthur Martin-Leake, of the Royal Army Medical Corps, has been awarded a clasp to the Victoria Cross, an extremely unusual honor.

Lieut. Martin-Leake won the Victoria Cross in the South African war, and, as this decoration is bestowed only once on any individual, the clasp has been given him for "most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty throughout the campaign, especially during the period from the 29th of October to the 8th of November, near Zonnebeke, in rescuing, while exposed to a constant fire, a large number of wounded who were lying close to the enemy's trenches."

Lieut.-Col. E. W. Alexander, of the Royal Field Artillery, has been awarded the Victoria Cross for saving his guns at Lougres, Belgium, while under a flank attack, and for rescuing a wounded man while under a heavy fire.

Among others who received the Victoria Cross are Drummer William Kenny, for rescuing men on five different occasions while under fire and twice saving machine guns by carrying them out of action; Lieut. J. A. O. Brooke, of the Gordon Highlanders; Captain John Franks Vaillet and Lieut. P. A. Depass, all of whom were killed, for leading attacks on German trenches and rescuing wounded; Jas. Mackenzie, of the Scots Guards, who also was killed, and Privates Henry Robson, of the Royal Scots, Abram Acton and James Smith, of the Border Regiment, and Lieut. Philip Neame, of the Royal Engineers, for rescuing wounded, and Lance Corporal Michael Leary, of the Irish Guards, for conspicuous bravery at Cuijnby, Feb. 1st.

Leary, according to the official account, formed one of a storming party, which advanced against the German trenches. He rushed to the front and killed five Germans who were holding the first barricade, after which he attacked the second barricade, which he captured after killing three Germans and taking two others prisoners.

Leary, thus, says the official report, "practically captured the enemy's position by himself and prevented the rest of the attacking party from being fired upon."

A large number of military crosses and other honors have been awarded to officers and men for conspicuous services during the operations in Flanders.
