There are a large number of contestants from out of town. The Edmonton club has a round dozen entered here. There are several from Medicine Hat and Lethbridge, Red Deer and other towns.

The local club has made most hospitable and pleasant arrangements fon the entertainment of visiting players. Tea is served by the ladies of the club seach afternoon, which is a delightful function for ail, with the possible exception of those engaged on the courts when this is served, who have added to the discomfort of the brolling sun the tinkle of tea cups and the vision of others seated comfortably in the cool veranda enjoying good things between their rbursts of applause.

Today's play will see some exciting matches and the increasing interest.
