LONDON, July 20.—The Liverpool Board of Trade has been investigating the causes of the wreck of the City of Chicago. Officer Squarcy said that the steamer, from sighting Cape Clear until striking on the rocks near Kinsale Head, wentant a uniform speed not between twelve and thirteen knots an hour. This speed was not reduced, although the weather was thick, and the scundings of 27 fathoms ought to have given warning of danger. Capit. Redford testified that the look-out was doubled, owing to the fog prevailing previous to the accident, but the speed of the steamer was unaltered. At 7:25 p.m. the fog lifted. Beacident, but the speed of the steamer was unaltered. At 7:25 p.m. the fog lifted. The log then showed 35 tathoms. Land was invisible, and the course was altered with a view to finding land. At 8:45 the fog came down again, and the log showed sixteen fathoms and a rocky bottom. The engines were reversed at once, but three minutes later the vessel struck, being then at a four-knot speed. essel struck, being then at a four-knot

There was an animated discussion on the motion by Wor. Bro. Maicolm Gibbs that the use of intoxicating liquors be discontinued at all refreshment tables in connection with Masonic lodges. A substantial minority favored the motion, but the majority approved of local option, believing that the best interests of the craft would be served by permitting local lodges to decide the nature of their entertainment. It was generally conceded that temperance sentiment was on the increase, and that the large majority of the lodges did not use intoxicating liquors at their entertainments. The motion was therefore decided lost.

The City Assessment.

In your issue of this date I read a letter signed "Several Workingmen." I don't know anything about the case referred to, viz., the Carling Brewing Company, but this I do know: That the system of assessment in this city is rotten to the core, and that many who are able to pay deliberately lie to the assessors and escape paying their proportion of the taxes that they are honestly entitled to pay, and saddle the amount on the workingmen of this city. For example: The assessor goes to Mr. A and asks him what is his income; he says $500, while it is $5,000 (ten times the amount). So he pays about $10 taxes, where he should in all fairness pay $100. Thus he escapes $90, which is and must be collected from the workingman and property-owners. In the same way personal property is assessed most unfairly. I know of cases where some escape and others pay more than they are entitled to but dare not "squeal" for fear of injuring their credit. Something must be done and soon too. It is a wonder to me that workingmen and property-owners have stood the opression so long. I have lists of the assessment roll for 1892 that would make any man cry shame. Some assessed on income for less than they pay for their board, they having pledged their words to the assessment roll for Rey to the assessor that the amount was their income, and I regret to say that some of them call themselves Christians and shining lights in our fashionable churches. I expect there will be a real estate association formed in the near future in this city, when the lists I have referred to will be open to public inspection, and they will all be appealed. I think it is high time that the workingmen and property-owners were alive to their own interests, and that a proper system of assessment, and the open to public inspection, and they will all be appealed. I think it is high time that the workingmen and property-owners were alive to their own interests, and that a proper system of assessment, and the open to public inspection, and they will
