LAST WEEK'S LOSSES ON THE GREAT LAKES

Terrible Storms Which Raged All Week Causes One Fatality and Numerous Wrecks in the East

PORT HURON, Nov. 24.—Last week was a costly one on Lake Superior. There have been numerous wrecks and the accident to the lock at the Soo cost many thousands of dollars. Boats that were in shelter did not venture forth in the storm that lasted most of the week.

The Canadian steamer Ottawa was wrecked near Passage Island early in the week and the crew suffered great hardships in getting to land. The shifting of the cargo of wheat is given as the cause of the wreck. The crew of the American schooner Paisley escaped after a thrilling battle with the waves, not until that boat was swept clean of her cargo and cabins.

The steamer Mack was driven on the bank near Muskegon, Michigan, during the fiercest storm of Tuesday. She suffered but little damage and was taken off Thursday. One life was lost and ten were saved by the crew. The schooner Fallow was wrecked on Lake Michigan. She was a lumber boat and on her way to Chicago.

The steamer Rome burned to the waters edge at the Soo Wednesday. She was a wooden vessel. The origin of the fire has not yet been determined. The crew escaped safely. The crew of the steamer Dunham had a thrilling battle with the waves near Ashland and were saved by means of a life in a bottle, found by an Indian. The tug went from Ashland to Chicago. The steamer Odanah, bumped a pier while trying to leave the Duluth harbor and sustained about $10,000 worth of damage.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Nov. 24.—The steamer Bramford, which stranded here Royal Wednesday, was released yesterday by the tug Whalen of Bowman which returned today with two barges. The tug worked five days on the steamer but got her off in good shape so that she could proceed on her trip. A wrecking outfit was sent by the tug to the steamer but it was not needed. The steamer Harmonic arrived from Sarnia with 2,700 tons of passenger freight.

NO DIVISION BEFORE TUESDAY

British Government's Plan For Extension of the House of Commons Upset Today

LONDON, Nov. 24.—The government's plan for the early prorogation of the House of Commons was upset today. As soon as the House of Commons met this afternoon it was announced that because so many peers would speak on the budget bill it would be necessary to prolong the debate next week, and a division would take place until next Tuesday. It was hoped that a vote would be reached tomorrow and the belief in the House of Commons would be rogued on the final day of the present session.

Some surprise was caused when J. Rosebery, who spoke late in the afternoon, announced that he was not to vote for Lord Lansdowne's motion to give an opinion favoring the policy urged by him. Lord Rosebery declared that the budget measure would poison the source of national supremacy. It vital but in view of the immediate even remote future there was something more vital to the country, that was the strength and efficiency of the second chamber. The archbishop of Canterbury said that the bishops would stand from the discussion at the occasion was one of strictly party character.
