

CONDEMNED TO DEATH.

O'DONNELL, THE SLAYER OF CAREY, FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER.

Only One Witness Called For the Defense—Sentence of Death Passed—Extraordinary Behavior of the Prisoner on Hearing His Doom.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The trial of O'Donnell for the murder of Carey was resumed to-day. The court room was crowded, but there were few persons outside the building.

Walter Young, a Port Elizabeth cab driver, was called for the defence. He testified that he frequently drove the Carey family around Port Elizabeth, and they ought to know him.

Another witness was called for the defence, and Mr. Russell began his address to the jury. He urged the jury in considering the case to dismiss from their minds all that they may have heard upon the subject of the killing of Carey.

Russell said these were only newspaper charges, which he warmly denounces. Judge Denman remarked that counsel was hardly promoting the interests of his client.

Russell said the accusation had an important bearing, because it suggested the words, "It was sent to do it," which were put into O'Donnell's mouth by Mrs. Carey.

When the jury had retired Mr. Sullivan expressed the doubt whether the judge had given a correct direction to the minds of the jury.

When the jury returned the second time, the judge asked the meaning of "malice aforethought." His lordship carefully defined the law of murder bearing upon that point.

The jury again retired and returned in four minutes with a verdict of wilful murder. When his lordship asked O'Donnell if he had anything to say, he made no reply.

The judge then passed the sentence of death in the usual form. The prisoner now wanted to speak. The judge, however, ordered his removal.

Russell spoke four hours, and upon concluding was loudly applauded by the crowd. The judge sternly repressed the applause.

Attorney-General James closed the case for the government. He said so much had been said to blacken Carey's character that people might be misled.

The question for the jury to consider was: "Did the prisoner let no doubt as to the fact that he saw his solicitor at Port Elizabeth and that he saw the evidence?"

Mr. Sullivan, counsel for O'Donnell, objected to the remarks of the attorney-general, and said the woman had not been in the evidence as Mr. O'Donnell had no right to throw suspicion upon her.

Judge Denman said he considered the attorney-general contended, saying that it was evidence she was not called. The attorney-general contended that she was called only on a technical point.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty of wilful murder, and was asked to sign a petition in order to proceed to a public execution. The attorney-general said he thought Mr. O'Donnell's remark—"Never mind, O'Donnell, you are no better than I really am."

ALL QUIET AT NEWRY.

SOME STONE-THROWING BUT NO SERIOUS RIOTING.

The Town in Possession of the Military and the Police—The Nationalist Meeting Postponed.

NEWRY, Dec. 1.—Three hundred policemen, two troops of Hussars and 400 infantry arrived here to-day to preserve order in the town.

The crowd amused itself by shouting and shouting at the soldiers. The police were ordered to disperse all gatherings on the streets.

The magistrates issued an order forbidding the proposed public procession of the Nationalists. They also ordered all public houses to be closed at nightfall.

Newry to-day was in a state of excitement. At Newry to-day the police were ordered to disperse all gatherings on the streets.

Police are patrolling the streets. A body of lanceurs occupy the court house. The police are patrolling the streets.

Police are patrolling the streets. A body of lanceurs occupy the court house. The police are patrolling the streets.

Police are patrolling the streets. A body of lanceurs occupy the court house. The police are patrolling the streets.

Police are patrolling the streets. A body of lanceurs occupy the court house. The police are patrolling the streets.

Police are patrolling the streets. A body of lanceurs occupy the court house. The police are patrolling the streets.

Police are patrolling the streets. A body of lanceurs occupy the court house. The police are patrolling the streets.

Police are patrolling the streets. A body of lanceurs occupy the court house. The police are patrolling the streets.

Police are patrolling the streets. A body of lanceurs occupy the court house. The police are patrolling the streets.

Police are patrolling the streets. A body of lanceurs occupy the court house. The police are patrolling the streets.

Police are patrolling the streets. A body of lanceurs occupy the court house. The police are patrolling the streets.

Police are patrolling the streets. A body of lanceurs occupy the court house. The police are patrolling the streets.

Police are patrolling the streets. A body of lanceurs occupy the court house. The police are patrolling the streets.

CONFERRATIONS AT CHICAGO.

Two Irish Generals—of Three or Four Hundred Thousand Dollars.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Numbers 168 and 170 Market street, forming part of the Farwell block, the largest business building in the city, were destroyed by fire this evening.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

THE BOND STREET PULPIT.

THE EXISTENCE OF A GOD OUTSIDE OF THE BIBLE.

Every Effect Must Prove a Cause, and the Moving World Must Have a Divine Guide—Proof in Nature and in Man.

Dr. Wilson's text last evening was chosen from the 20th verse of the 1st chap. of Romans: "For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse."

After some introductory remarks the doctor pointed out that there are primary ideas that belong to us which are not provable.

Our consciousness, our sensations, our individuality, our instincts, as well as our ideas of distinction, of nationality, of property, are all unprovable.

Our consciousness, our sensations, our individuality, our instincts, as well as our ideas of distinction, of nationality, of property, are all unprovable.

Our consciousness, our sensations, our individuality, our instincts, as well as our ideas of distinction, of nationality, of property, are all unprovable.

Our consciousness, our sensations, our individuality, our instincts, as well as our ideas of distinction, of nationality, of property, are all unprovable.

Our consciousness, our sensations, our individuality, our instincts, as well as our ideas of distinction, of nationality, of property, are all unprovable.

Our consciousness, our sensations, our individuality, our instincts, as well as our ideas of distinction, of nationality, of property, are all unprovable.

Our consciousness, our sensations, our individuality, our instincts, as well as our ideas of distinction, of nationality, of property, are all unprovable.

Our consciousness, our sensations, our individuality, our instincts, as well as our ideas of distinction, of nationality, of property, are all unprovable.

Our consciousness, our sensations, our individuality, our instincts, as well as our ideas of distinction, of nationality, of property, are all unprovable.

Our consciousness, our sensations, our individuality, our instincts, as well as our ideas of distinction, of nationality, of property, are all unprovable.

Our consciousness, our sensations, our individuality, our instincts, as well as our ideas of distinction, of nationality, of property, are all unprovable.

Our consciousness, our sensations, our individuality, our instincts, as well as our ideas of distinction, of nationality, of property, are all unprovable.

Our consciousness, our sensations, our individuality, our instincts, as well as our ideas of distinction, of nationality, of property, are all unprovable.

Our consciousness, our sensations, our individuality, our instincts, as well as our ideas of distinction, of nationality, of property, are all unprovable.

CONFERRATIONS AT CHICAGO.

Two Irish Generals—of Three or Four Hundred Thousand Dollars.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Numbers 168 and 170 Market street, forming part of the Farwell block, the largest business building in the city, were destroyed by fire this evening.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

Beak & Butler, furniture merchants, were the only ones who escaped. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock, and in half an hour the building was a mass of flames.

THE SLAIN AT SOUDAN.

DETAILS OF EL MAHDI'S VICTORY STILL ARRIVING.

No Prisoners Taken to El Obeid—A Spy sent to Reconnoitre—Rings at Darfour and in Nubia.

KHARTOUM, Dec. 1.—Capt. Merchant, who witnessed the battle between the Egyptians and El Mahdi's forces, saw the governor of Khartoum killed at the opening of the battle.

It is reported a rising has occurred in Darfour and that Staalin Bey, the governor, has been killed.

Col. Sartorius starts for Suakin to-morrow with 2000 men. Two hundred more will follow on Tuesday.

Col. Sartorius starts for Suakin to-morrow with 2000 men. Two hundred more will follow on Tuesday.

Col. Sartorius starts for Suakin to-morrow with 2000 men. Two hundred more will follow on Tuesday.

Col. Sartorius starts for Suakin to-morrow with 2000 men. Two hundred more will follow on Tuesday.

Col. Sartorius starts for Suakin to-morrow with 2000 men. Two hundred more will follow on Tuesday.

Col. Sartorius starts for Suakin to-morrow with 2000 men. Two hundred more will follow on Tuesday.

Col. Sartorius starts for Suakin to-morrow with 2000 men. Two hundred more will follow on Tuesday.

Col. Sartorius starts for Suakin to-morrow with 2000 men. Two hundred more will follow on Tuesday.

Col. Sartorius starts for Suakin to-morrow with 2000 men. Two hundred more will follow on Tuesday.

Col. Sartorius starts for Suakin to-morrow with 2000 men. Two hundred more will follow on Tuesday.

Col. Sartorius starts for Suakin to-morrow with 2000 men. Two hundred more will follow on Tuesday.

Col. Sartorius starts for Suakin to-morrow with 2000 men. Two hundred more will follow on Tuesday.

Col. Sartorius starts for Suakin to-morrow with 2000 men. Two hundred more will follow on Tuesday.

Col. Sartorius starts for Suakin to-morrow with 2000 men. Two hundred more will follow on Tuesday.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Threatened Trouble with the Indians of the Province.

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 1.—Advices received by the government of British Columbia point to the probability of early trouble with the Indians of that province.

The Indians of that province are reported to be in a state of excitement, and it is feared that they will soon take up arms.

The Indians of that province are reported to be in a state of excitement, and it is feared that they will soon take up arms.

The Indians of that province are reported to be in a state of excitement, and it is feared that they will soon take up arms.

The Indians of that province are reported to be in a state of excitement, and it is feared that they will soon take up arms.

The Indians of that province are reported to be in a state of excitement, and it is feared that they will soon take up arms.

The Indians of that province are reported to be in a state of excitement, and it is feared that they will soon take up arms.

The Indians of that province are reported to be in a state of excitement, and it is feared that they will soon take up arms.

The Indians of that province are reported to be in a state of excitement, and it is feared that they will soon take up arms.

The Indians of that province are reported to be in a state of excitement, and it is feared that they will soon take up arms.

The Indians of that province are reported to be in a state of excitement, and it is feared that they will soon take up arms.

The Indians of that province are reported to be in a state of excitement, and it is feared that they will soon take up arms.

The Indians of that province are reported to be in a state of excitement, and it is feared that they will soon take up arms.

The Indians of that province are reported to be in a state of excitement, and it is feared that they will soon take up arms.

The Indians of that province are reported to be in a state of excitement, and it is feared that they will soon take up arms.

The Indians of that province are reported to be in a state of excitement, and it is feared that they will soon take up arms.

The Indians of that province are reported to be in a state of excitement, and it is feared that they will soon take up arms.

THE WORLD WOULD LIKE TO KNOW.

If Jim Miller has brought the Winnipeg field battery in his valise.

Why he didn't bring Ned Farrar with him. If the red light in the street was caused by Jim's approach.

If the two attorneys-general will link arms and go to Romney Eye to-night. If John Carling has determined to give us two cent postage.

What they are saying. I'm no Winnipeg fresh; I used to live in St. Catharines—Jim Miller.

Do you guarantee that I'm a Grand River man?—Ex-Adjutant James Lobb.

We are parading down the Globe-Edg and Jeff.

Put more grubs into the Great Northwestern service—J. Ghoulid.

Yes, master—Erastus.

Yes, Hardy.

Yes, Mr. Attorney-general.

We've got two roses in the cabinet.

Yes, Mr. Attorney-general.

A. M. Ross and G. W. Ross, I believe.

Yes, Mr. Attorney-general.

How shall we distinguish them?

Oh, call one Forenoon Ross and the other Geewhittie Ross.

I will give your proposition my most serious consideration.

Yes, Mr. Attorney-general.

JOHN ROSS'S MASTERS. Here, boy, is that the World!

Do you guarantee that I'm a Grand River man?—Ex-Adjutant James Lobb.