MR. BROWN'S POPULARITY. Mr. Josiah Brown had the enviable reputation of being the most manly man in Hopedale.

One afternoon in the early summer of several years ago, he agreed that if they could only relieve his trout-pond of a goodly number of trout, and send them as a present to the orphan asylum.

At the latter group, after the discussion of several plans, all agreed that if they could only relieve his trout-pond of a goodly number of trout, and send them as a present to the orphan asylum.

With a sudden yell he grabbed the key nearest to him and shouted at the top of his voice: "I've got it! I've got it! I've got it!"

"Nepel! Of course not!" replied Billy. "Here, you fellows, every one of you has a kite meet me in a few minutes at nine o'clock to-morrow, and those of you that haven't come along to help the others."

On the appointed night six boys in stocking feet quietly slipped down the back stairs of six different houses, pausing to be sure that father was breathing regularly and that mother was not wandering around to see that all was right.

Popular Medical Opinions

AN OLD FAMILY PHYSICIAN TELLS OF SOME OF HIS EXPERIENCES. Tradition and superstition, it is said, die hard, and even in this twentieth century, the age of education and progress, it is surprising to find people who are quite under the impression that it is for their children's welfare that they should contract while young such diseases as measles, whooping cough, scarlet fever, etc.

And concludes of course that the stomach is at fault. So it is, but there is a cause away back of the stomach that must be removed to do its work. The cause is nerve disturbance.

As a matter of fact, there is no reason or necessity why any child should suffer from any one of these diseases. Happy is the family that escapes them for then there is a chance of the youngsters growing up healthy, manly and useful members of society.

At the meeting of the committee of the Board of Trade of Halifax for a more hearty and material support than has been accorded them in the past. In this Bulletin to the public they say: "A great heritage lies ahead of us to take in natural resources. We are rich in natural resources. We might as well be poor in them if we do not use them."

There was a meeting in Truro of gentlemen interested in promoting good roads in this province, on Thursday, the 12th inst. Three sessions were held, at which the question of roads, good and bad were discussed. Most of the delegates had come without any idea whatever of doing anything for their own account, more than to listen to the suggestions of men versed in Good Road construction.

Alfred A. Paylor, of Margate, says: "One bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT cured a swelling of the gambie joint, and saved a horse worth $140.00." "Thos. W. Payne, of Bathurst, saved the life of a valuable horse that the 'vet' had given up, with a few bottles of MINARD'S LINIMENT."

The special number of "The Suburban" of Rockingham, for March, was devoted to the Provincial Press, and contained historical sketches of journalism in many of the counties of the province. It is illustrated by the portraits of many of the newspaper men, both past and present, of Nova Scotia. It is a valuable number, but in a sense incomplete, as there are nine more counties to be treated.

The Growth of Advertising

Advertising is an every-day phenomenon now, and few people take the trouble to inquire into the "why and whereof" of it, but it does not take a long memory to recall the time when some branches of the business or shall we say professional-advertising in its modern sense.

Bad Fire at Rideau Hall

Ottawa, April 3.—Rideau Hall, the Vice Royal residence, was injured by fire this morning and narrowly escaped destruction. Only the energetic efforts of the Ottawa Fire Brigade, supplemented by those of the household, coupled with the fact that the wind was blowing in a contrary direction from the fire, saved the remaining old pile, which has been the abode of the Governors since the time of Lord Monck, from falling a prey to the flames.

The damage, according to Chief Architect Ewart, will amount to between $40,000 and $50,000 and it is mainly caused by water and smoke. Most of the personal effects of the Governor General and Countess of Minto and the household were saved, but many valuable nick-nacks are ruined. It is to carpets and furniture that most of the damage has been done.

The fire was practically confined to the new wing, an adjacent building to the southeast corner of Rideau Hall in 1900. It cost between $16,000 and $18,000. It was of two stories. On the first floor of this wing were the apartments of the Comptroller of the Household, Mr. Arthur Guise, and the sitting rooms of Lady Minto and Lord Minto, a studio, the Governor's office and the military secretary. On the south side are the drawing rooms and the reception rooms and oval-shaped parlour used by the A. D. C.'s. Opening off from each side of the corridor above are great chambers, only one of which was tenanted, the occupant being Mr. Howard, also a school room and nursery. Lord and Lady Minto occupy rooms in the front part of the structure overlooking the main entrance.

It was about five o'clock when Mr. Guise heard the roaring and crackling of flames in his room at the southwest corner of the new wing. Soon the smoke began to shoot forth in volumes and the flames to eat their way up the side of the wall to the floor above. Mr. Guise quickly gave the alarm and around Capt. Bell and Capt. Graham.

This fire was also appraised of the outbreak. As has already been pointed out, the fire was caused by the smoking of the presence of fire. His first thought was of Lady Minto who was lying helpless in an adjoining room with a fractured leg. Aided by several domestics the Comptress was laid upon a screen and borne down stairs to the oval room opening off the main vestibule, to await the outcome of the fire. Her Ladyship was cool and did not show the least alarm.

ESCAPED IN THEIR NIGHT ROBES. In the meantime the Ladies Eileen and Violet Elliott, Master Elliott, Mrs. Seymour and the governess, Miss De Jaffe, hardly had time to escape in their night robes to the front of the house, where they were safe from danger, while the domestics carried bric-a-brac, books, personal effects and other valuables out of the reach of the devouring element.

The A. D. C. and the controller of the household endeavored to keep the flames in check. In this regard the apparatus with which Rideau Hall is equipped. Their efforts were futile, however, and the Ottawa brigade was summoned. In response to the appeal Chief Prevost at 5.30 hurried to the scene. The road was clear by 6.30 p. m., and the immigrant train proceeded, and the cattle were brought into the city.

Consumption is scourging Canada. Year by year the "white plague" steadily gains headway, and why? Because careless people let their children run into catarrh which in turn becomes consumption. Victims of catarrh coughs are discouraged for fear of catching Catarrh. Catarrh immediately kills the germs that cause catarrh and prevents them from again entering your system. Relief will be quick, cure will be certain, absolute freedom from any trace of catarrh follows the use of Catarrh-Emulsion. It is a scientific remedy warranted to cure lung trouble, bronchitis and catarrh. Cure guaranteed with two months treatment. Price $1.00; sample size 25c.

Consumption. The only kind of consumption to fear is "neglected consumption." People are learning that consumption is a curable disease. It is neglected consumption that is so often incurable. At the faintest suspicion of consumption get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion and begin regular doses. The use of Scott's Emulsion at once, has, in thousands of cases, turned the balance in favor of health. Neglected consumption does not exist where Scott's Emulsion is. Prompt use of Scott's Emulsion checks the disease while it can be checked.

A Bad Smash-Up on the Intercolonial Near Rothesay, N. B.

St. John, April 3.—Nineteen freight cars were wrecked, fifty cattle were killed and the roadbed was torn up by a disastrous wreck on the I. C. R. near Rothesay, about ten miles from the city, this morning. The train was made up of thirty cars including twelve of cattle, containing about 200 head, shipped from Chicago by De Munro. The cattle were to be shipped to Glasgow on the Donaldson liner Marina. There were also in the train a car of paper, a car of steel bars, two of sugar and several coal loads.

The train, a special freight in charge of Conductor Wilbur, was running about twenty miles an hour and had passed Rothesay when at 9.45 o'clock something went wrong. The second car from the engine suddenly left the rails, turned at right angles and bounded off the roadbed. Then like a flash eighteen other cars followed. These included the twelve cattle cars, and they ranged side by side, but were crushed and smashed badly.

A wild scene followed, with the stamping and struggling and howling of the cattle. An effort was made promptly to disengage those of the animals which were uninjured and no great difficulty was experienced in this regard. The cattle were all saved, but put out of misery several of the suffering animals. One whole carload, eighteen head, escaped without a scratch. The end of the car was knocked off and they were hurled westward, was stalled some hours by the wreck.

The road was clear by 6.30 p. m., and the immigrant train proceeded, and the cattle were brought into the city. L. R. Ross, terminal agent here, estimates the total loss at $120,000, and says the probable cause of the wreck was the falling of part of the under-work of one of the cattle cars.

ORIGIN OF THE FIRE. This afternoon Lady Minto returned to her apartment in the front of the main building, which is intact and uninjured. The rear front will be made habitable as soon as possible. There is some doubt as to how the fire originated. It is stated, however, that on the night previous a fire of logs was blazing in Mr. Guise's room. One of the logs was taken off and set fire to the floor. Mr. Guise extinguished himself with a jug of water. Some embers, however, must have been smoldering for many hours under the floor and ignited a blaze which spread to the wall, where it speedily blazed its way to the roof.
