BOROUGH OF ATHLONE. THE PRIESTS. (To the Editor of The St. James's Chronicle.)

Tullamore, April 10, 1843. Sir,-To delineate the anomalous condition of this country is a task extremely difficult in its nature, but to the politician among all our wayward movements, one principle is self-evident — that the priesthood of the Roman Catholic communion are concentrating their energies to achieve the favourite object of their ambition, that of erecting their intolerant authority on the ruins of the Established Church. Hence, in all our elecstant Dissenter's school, and any Roman Catholic school, the ruins of the Established Church. Hence, in all our elections that the ruins of the Established Church. Hence, in all our elections, the influence of this class of men is wielded for the purpose of clutching the representation of Ireland within their prefitnesses of school attendance for the purpose of employment grasp, in order to make it subservient to their selfish designs. grasp, in order to make it subservient to their selfish designs. factories of children and young persons.

Nothing can be so illustrative of this view as the following extract of a letter, which appeared in the last Athlone Sentinel. Privy Council for Education ought to be furnished with means on a priest of this town, and relates to the one able them to establish and maintain a sufficient number of late election of Athlone. This clergyman is an utter stranger to that borough; yet, in the spirit of his corps, he would in-termeddle in its politics in language the most uncouth, and in grant gratuities to deserving schoolmasters, and to afford sentiments the most disgusting. The letter is signed "

SIR CHARLES METCALFE'S POLICY.

(From The Toronto Herald.) In the Herald of the 8th instant we published an address to His Excellency Sir Charles Metcalfe from the Constitutionalists of Georgina and the neighbouring townships, and we have had orwarded to us for publication His Excellency's reply.

In order to render the present matter more intelligible, we epublish the following paragraphs, which embody all that is f consequence in the address:— We know that efforts have been made, through the medium of addresses to our late Governor, Sir Charles Bagot, to create a belief that the policy of his administration has afforded universal satisfaction to Her Majesty's subjects in this Province. Consideration for the unfortunate state of Sir Charles Bagot's health, has hitherto precluded our addressing him. dressing him; but we feel it to be our duty in fairness to your Excellency, and in justice to ourselves, to lay hold upon the first opportunity of refuting such a misrepresentation. "We believe that we state the sentiments of the majority of inhabitants of Western Canada, when we say that we cannot

"The nature of our avocations, far removed from public life, secures us from the imputation of any motives in laying these " complaints before your Excellency, other than an auxious " desire to preserve unimpaired to ourselves and to our children " the blessings of the British Constitution."

The truthful sentiments expressed in this address, have elicited from His Excellency the following reply:-"I thank you, gentlemen, for your congratulations on my arrival, and for the obliging sentiments which you express

"I trust that your loyal desire to preserve unimpaired to yourselves and to your children the blessings of the British 'Constitution, will be fully accomplished; and to that end 'my earnest endeavours will be unceasingly exerted."

It cannot be denied that the tenor of the Governor General's reply to the Loyalists of Georgina is calculated to darken with gloomy forebodings the hopes of those of her Majesty's subjects who, in the emphatic language of Lord Seaton, when acknow ledging the testimonial presented to him in approbation of his Lordship's policy in suppressing the revolt in 1837 and '38, if you will dignify it with that name—fashion goes against the Church; for, alas, it is not the fashion to appear there unless of the Executive Council, thereby inflicting a heavy blow and opinion that the remarks of the Governor General must be sidered in a purely official light, and as such not open to the grave objection which, otherwise, might apply to them

Sir Charles Metcasfe, on assuming the duties of the Govern ment, found, ready made to his hand, an Executive Council composed of persons who had been appointed to that "eminent" office by her Majesty the Queen, at the recommendation of her constitutional advisers. And it appears to us that his Excellency, under existing circumstances, has felt himself called upon to sustain the Council (and the individuals officially eminent who compose it,) on the simple grounds that, the Queen having thought proper to call them to office, it was his duty as the Queen's Representative to vindicate the royal prerogative. Sir C. Metcalfe has already most unequivocally declared that "the gratitude due to those who stood forth for their Queen and country in the hour of need" onght never to be forgotten; and with that expression of his Excellency's sentiments it is the daty of the Loyal party to remain satisfied.

PRINCE EDWARD DISTRICT COUNCIL. The following is a copy of an address to his Excellency the Governor-General, recently adopted by the Prince Edward

To His Excellency Sir Charles Metcalfe, G. C. B., Governor General of British North America, and Governor-in-Chief of the Province of Canada, &c. &c. &c. May it please your Excellency;

We, her Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, Members of the Municipal Council of the District of Prince Edward, in Council assembled, avail ourselves of the earliest opportunity most respectfully to congratulate your Excellency on your arrival amongst us to assume the administration of the affairs of this portion of her Majesty's dominions. It gives us pleasure again to express our devotedness to her Majesty's person and government, and our unalterable attachment to the British constitution, and British connexion; and we beg leave to assure your Excellency of our cordial support in all measures which may have for their object, the developement of the resources of this country and the prosperity of its We deeply sympathize with your Excellency's predecessor in his present severe affliction, and take this opportunity to express the high opinion we entertain of his public and private virtues; yet we cannot but convey to your Excellency, our decided disapprobation of the course he was induced to r in calling to his councils, and appointing to offices of trust, persons of doubtful loyalty. We regret the agitation at present existing in the minds of the people of this District on the subject of the removal of the seat of Government, having always considered the pledge given by the late Lord Sydenham, to the Assembly of Upper Canada, before the union of the Provinces, as decisive of the question, that the seat of Government should be Canada West. REPLY.

I thank you, gentlemen, for your kind congratulation; and still more for the loyal assurance of your devotion to Her Majesty's person and government; and of your attachment to the British Constitution, as well as your support in all measures which have for their object the development of the resources of this country, and the prosperity of its inhabitants; but I should have been more gratified by your address, if it had abstained from questioning the loyalty of others. Such injurious imputations proceeding from party spirit, tend to excite mutual hostility, and to prevent that universal harmony which it is most desirable to establish for the general good.

You pay a just tribute to the public and private virtues of my distinguished predecessor, and will grieve to learn that the memory of them is likely to be too soon all that will remain of

3 yards long. 2 10s. 0d.

34 yards long. 2 17s. 6d.

ALTAR CLOTH. An ALTAR CLOTH exactly the same in pattern as the above, of Ingrain Woollen Damask. The Colour is permanent, and it may be washed by the ordinary process without injury to the texture.

Size and price the same as the linen. WHITE LINEN COMMUNION CLOTH.

ALTAR CLOTH. ALTAR CLOTH.

An ALTAR CLOTH of similar design with the above, in a mixed material of pale yellow Linen Thread, and of lagrain Crimson Wool, producing a rich and elegant effect—the plain portion of the Cloth being Crimson, and the figure, Gold Colour. The texture and colours will remain uninjured after washing. This will be found to unite appropriate and elegant design, with great durability and economy.

24 yards long. £3 08.

3 yards long. 3 15s.

34 yards long. 4 10s.

NAPKINS. A long narrow NAPKIN. or "MANIPLE," used at the Common and Font—of fine White Linen, enriched with a wreath "Grapes, Corn, and Tine leaves," and an antique Chalico in Damas The ends fluished with a deep fringe.

Price 7s. 6d.
