

The last ray of light that could have illuminated the recesses of that awful night, which modern investigation has discovered to be darker and more hopeless than the Ultima Thule of ignorant antiquity, has flickered and died out. The ashes are borne home to us, — at last the mystery of Franklin's fate is solved. We know where he died, we know the very day of his death. More than twelve years ago a ardent spirit of John Franklin passed away amid a world of ice and snow. And, indeed, it would seem that the trials of his previous explorations, and the anxieties attendant upon the beginning of his last search for the North-West Passage, had proved too much for his iron frame before the calamities and disasters for which Captain McClintock has prepared us came upon the rest of the Expedition. The great navigator died in no sudden shock or great disaster; he was crushed by no iceberg, he did not starve miserably on some wandering ice floe, nor did he drift away in storm and ice have, which cast a veil so thick around him that the survivors can only say "After that we never saw him more." No! he died surrounded by comrades and friends, and in the discharge of his duty. No soldier or sailor can desire or hope a nobler fate. The condolences and sympathies of a nation accompany the sorrows of his widow and the grief of his friends, but it is not altogether out of place for the country to express its satisfaction that the lives of brave sailors were not uselessly sacrificed in a series of expeditions which should have borne for their motto "Hoping against hope." So far it is satisfactory to know the "Final Search" has proved that Sir John Franklin is dead. Alas! there can be no longer those sad wallings from an imaginary Tintagel to persuade the credulous that an Arthur still lives. At Point Victory, on the north-west coast of King William's Island, a record of the proceedings of the Franklin Expedition was found, dated April 25, 1848, and signed by Captain Crozier and Captain Fitzjames. The story it tells appears to have been simple and sad enough—Sir John Franklin had died nearly two months before—on the 11th of June, 1847. The Expedition seems to have worked on as well as it could, and, as soon as the ice permitted, to have proceeded with its mission, but month after month of battle with frost, and ice, and snow passed away—difficulties no doubt were encountered which none of us who sit at home can realize, and on one fatal day, the 23d of April, 1848, the Erebus and the Terror were abandoned by their crews, 15 miles N.W. of Point Victory. The "survivors," which is a term that indicates other losses than that of the great seaman who led them, to the number of 105, two days after the abandonment of the vessels, reached the island, erected a cairn, concealed the record, and were then about to proceed for the Great Fish River, under the command of Captain Crozier. Franklin died more than 12 years ago. Since that day they have all shared the fate of their chief, dropping down one after another till the last man perished. Is there any man who will now propose that we should seek to enlarge the sphere of our knowledge, or that we should organize expeditions to find out the fate in detail of the 105 devoted men who, more than 11 years ago, set out, as we have reason to believe, from Point Victory for the Great Fish River? The lives of our gallant officers and men are dear to us, but surely it is wicked to expose that which we love to risk and loss to gratify a curiosity which deserves almost to be called morbid, in order to furnish us with the exact particulars of the circumstances under which so many strong hearts and devoted souls were taken from us for ever. No! England has surely now performed her mission. She has not, indeed, "made war for an idea," but she has offered up the noblest sacrifice even she could find on the altar of science. It is not enough for her to know that the North-west Passage was closed by ice barriers against trade and commerce—it was not sufficient for her to leave the bleached bones of her children under solitary cars in cold crusades against nature itself. She would hazard still more to identify every spot where her crusaders fell. We would fain follow, if it were of any use, the tramp of that noble band through the blinding snows and over the waste of icy berg and frozen sea, and pierce the gloom which must now for ever be the shroud in which they are enveloped. We could find to-morrow sailors who would start off as cheerily on the search as ever Viking sailed from Northern fjord to waste a Southern isle, but the duty of Government is often graceless; it must often be in antagonism to the aspirations and desires of the governed, and here it is its duty, as it appears to us, to say, "Let the dead bury their dead." The report of Capt. McClintock will close this sad and eventful history. We must learn that there are yet powers in nature too strong for man to overcome. The dauntless soul dies out amid frost and snow; the spirit is never quenched though the body may perish. But what avails it all if the physical obstacles remain the same for ever, and leave to us only the barren glory of always lighting the fire which was extinguished? We retire now from the contest with honor, if with grief, and we leave the name of Franklin engraved on the furthest pillars which the energy of mankind has dared to erect as the landmark of its research in the dull and lifeless region that guards the axis of the world. — Times.

CHEAP SEWING MACHINES. THE Subscriber has just OPENED his Office at No. 265 NOTRE DAME STREET, for the SALE of SINGER'S SEWING MACHINES, manufactured by himself. These Machines are adapted to Family and Manufacturing purposes, and, in point of utility, durability, and cheapness, surpass any of the kind ever offered to the Canadian public. Mr. NAGLE has had long experience in the construction of Singer Machines, both in Singer's Factory and in Buffalo, N. Y., in which latter place he has made over $20,000 worth, all of which have given the greatest satisfaction to the purchasers. The following TESTIMONIALS have been received from the principal Boot and Shoe Manufacturers in this city:—

Montreal, July 23, 1859. We take pleasure in bearing testimony to the complete working of the Machines manufactured by Mr. E. J. Nagle, having had one in use for the last two months. They are of Singer's Pattern, and equal to any of our acquaintance of the kind. BROWN & CHILDS. Montreal, 23rd July, 1859. We have used E. J. Nagle's Sewing Machine in our Factory for the past three months, and have no hesitation in saying that they are in every respect equal to the most approved American Machines—of which we have several in use. CHILDS, SOHOLES & AMES. Montreal, July 25th, 1859. I have been using one of E. J. Nagle's Sewing Machines since the beginning of June last. It is giving full satisfaction, and I can recommend them to the public. E. THOMPSON. Montreal, July 25, 1859. I have been engaged in the manufacture of Boots and Shoes for a number of years, during which time I have used Machines manufactured in the States and here, but consider those manufactured by Mr. E. J. Nagle the best adapted to manufacturing purposes. They do coarse and fine work equally well, and I take great pleasure in recommending them to the public. PIERRE DUFRESNE, Boot and Shoe Manufacturer 128 Notre Dame Street. The undersigned have had in continual use, for the past three months, one of the machines manufactured by E. J. Nagle, and they do not hesitate in recommending them for general use. L. BENJAMIN & CO., Clothiers, 166 Notre Dame Street, Montreal, July 26, 1859. I have used E. J. Nagle's Sewing Machines for the past two months in my Boot and Shoe Factory, and I find it to be all that the manufacturer claims for it—a good machine. J. LINTON, 317 St. Paul Street, Montreal, July 26. Notre Dame Street, Montreal, July 26, 1859. I have two of E. J. Nagle's Machines in operation for the last three months, during which time I have thoroughly tested their working qualities, and feel satisfied they are all Mr. Nagle represented them to be—perfect Machines. DAVID PELLETIER. The subscribers having used the Sewing Machines of Mr. E. J. Nagle, since the spring, are well satisfied with the work done by them; and we certify that these machines go quicker than any we have used up to the present time. A. LAPIERRE & SON, Montreal, 26th July, 1859. Montreal, July 20, 1859. Dear Sir,—The machine which I bought of you some two months ago has given entire satisfaction. I consider it an excellent article, and I believe that nothing better can be produced. Yours truly, T. O'BRIEN.

All Machines purchased from the subscriber will be kept in good running order for twelve months, provided they are not damaged by accident or design. E. J. NAGLE, N.B.—Hinders, Shuttles, and Needles constantly on hand, Factory over BARTLEY & GILBERTS, Canal Basin October

ROBERT PATTON, 229 Notre Dame Street, BEGS to return his sincere thanks to his numerous Customers, and the Public in general, for the very liberal patronage he has received for the last three years; and hopes, by strict attention to business, to receive a continuance of the same. NARRATIVES OF THE JESUIT FATHERS LAST year the French reading part of the Canadian people were edified and delighted by the publication of the original Narratives of the Jesuit Fathers, who were the pioneers of religion and its attendant civilization in Canada. This work, important as it is to the French Canadian, is not less so to the English-speaking part of the population of North America. All inhabitants of this great Continent, especially all Canadians, will assign it an honored place on the shelves which bear the stirring narratives of the first English and Dutch adventurers. It is fit, therefore, to make its reverend authors speak with an English tongue. The early history of Canada is at this moment attracting much attention. The French Government has made large and precious contributions of historical matter to our Provincial Library, both manuscript and printed, relating chiefly to Canada, its settlement and wars; the Government of the United States has been ever zealous in collecting documents relating to the acts and sufferings of their hardy and adventurous founders; and the encouragement which our own Government could afford in aid of enterprises of the same character, has always been promptly and effectually granted. The publication of authentic and interesting historical records has been favored and promoted by all enlightened governments and literary bodies: because they supply either the best evidence of the truth of history, or the best materials for its composition. It has even been asserted, that the chronicles and private memoirs of contemporaries are of higher value than the polished periods of Hume and Moxey.

The Narratives now sought to be presented to the public are of great value to all classes. To the religious, whether Protestant or Roman Catholic, they afford precious evidence of the zeal of those servants of his Holy Religion who devoted themselves to its propagation among the heathen, and went forward through many a fiery trial, to find too often at last the crown of martyrdom. The ethnologist will find in them faithful descriptions of a race now much degenerated and rapidly approaching to extinction, written amongst them as they lived and moved, hunted and fought, married and died, received baptism or ferociously murdered the man who sought to bestow it on them. Ordinary readers, from the intelligent scholar to the untaught peasant, will peruse with interest an account of men who trod the soil on which they now move,—who were the lords of the forest and the river, now sailing with the rich harvest or glittering with the vessels of commerce,—and will learn with some emotion that they live and sleep in security on the self-same spot which has been often drenched with the blood shed in warfare or massacre. The publication of so voluminous a work will depend entirely upon the support received from the public. The first volume has been translated by one of the best translators in the Province; and it will be put to press as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers is obtained to defray the cost of translation and publishing. The work will make 3 Volumes, Royal 8vo., of about 750 pages each, in Long Primer Type. Subscription Lists will be found at the Book-stores in Montreal, Toronto, Quebec, Kingston, Ottawa, Hamilton, London, &c., and at the Office of the Publisher, in St. Nicholas Street, Montreal; also at Ste. Anne Street, Quebec. Price in paper covers per volume, $2.75, Or for the set, $8.25. Price in half-calf per volume, $3.50, Or for the set, $10.50. JOHN LOVELL, Publisher.

Canada Directory Office, Montreal, Sept. 1859. NEW HISTORY OF CANADA. THE members of the Bookselling Trade, and the public of Canada in general, are respectfully informed that it is intended to publish, by Subscription, a New History of CANADA (founded on that of Mr. F. X. GARNEAU), as soon as an encouraging number of subscribers can be obtained. The recent appearance of a third and much improved edition of L'HISTOIRE DU CANADA, by Mr. GARNEAU, has given rise to a wish, expressed by Mr. LOVELL by several of his friends and commercial connections, that he would undertake to publish a counterpart, in English, of the above work—the best Canadian History extant—with such modifications as would make it acceptable to the entirety of our people, whether of British or French origin. Accordingly, responding to the desire thus expressed, Mr. LOVELL has engaged the services of Mr. ANDREW BELL, Member of the Glasgow Archaeological Society, also of the Canadian Institute, Montreal: author of "Men and Things in America," "Historical Sketches of Feudalism, British and Continental," "Lives of the Illustrious," "New Annals of Old Scotland," and other works—a gentleman of great literary experience—as translator, compiler, and editor of what he proposes to entitle "THE NEW AND COMPREHENSIVE HISTORY OF CANADA," from the foundation of the Colony till the year 1840,—to be based on the third and latest edition of L'HISTOIRE DU CANADA of Mr. GARNEAU. Furthermore, Mr. LOVELL having made application to the latter for his sanction to the proposed work, is happy to say that his special approbation has been obtained; so that the translation of his labors now proposed (with modifications and additions, as aforesaid), becomes the only authorized reproduction of the French version of the work. It is proposed that the "COMPREHENSIVE HISTORY OF CANADA" shall form three handsome volumes, in demy octavo, and be printed in a superior style, on paper of the best quality. Each volume will comprise from 400 to 500 pages. Price $1.50, or $4.50 for the whole. Gentlemen taking an interest in the early history of the Colony, or now respectfully called on to furnish, for the Editor's use, any unpublished or little-known historical, antiquarian, or other rare materials as they may have lying by them. The donors of all such may be assured that special acknowledgment will be made in the work of every favour thus obtained. It is hoped that the Publisher may be enabled to bring out the work, complete, early in the Fall of 1860. Subscription Lists will be found at the Book-stores in Montreal, Toronto, Quebec, Kingston, Ottawa, Hamilton, London, &c., and at the Offices of the Publisher, in St. Nicholas Street, Montreal; also at Ste. Anne Street, Quebec. JOHN LOVELL, CANADA DIRECTORY OFFICE, Montreal, September, 1859.
