

Brian Green

AUTUMN 1989

Namibia: Rites of Passage. With a UN-supervised election this autumn, the world community tries to set things right.
Patrick Nagle

Transforming Soviet Foreign Policy: Words rather than deeds could be the best indicator of change.
Paul Marantz

The Grand Bargain: The tangible prospect of global environmental collapse has forced some new approaches to international cooperation.
David Runnalls

In Search of a Space Policy for Canada: There are important decisions to be made about the future of Canada's civilian and military efforts in space.
Jocelyn Coulon

Fighting to the Last Afghan: American policy on the war in Afghanistan carries unacceptable moral and political costs.
Selig Harrison

Letter from Buenos Aires: Observations on Argentina's political culture in the aftermath of the presidential election.
Madeleine Poulin

WINTER 1989

Uncommon Threats and Common Security: The third annual Institute public opinion survey – an analysis.
Don Munton

Cambodia: Once Again at Zero? The aftermath of the Paris peace conference.
Vincent Jacquot

Reflections on the German Puzzle: Assessing the prospect of a reunified Germany.
Thomas Risse-Kappen

The End of History? Nyet! In the matter of how boring the future will be.
Fen Osler Hampson

Canada in the OAS: Reviving a moribund institution – Canada's opportunity.
G. Landau

SPRING 1990

Time to Change: An excerpt from a critical new book on how Canada must face up to emerging threats to international security.
Boyce Richardson

China's Ordeal: Decentralization may be China's last best hope.
Heping

Leading the Horse to Water: On the question of the UN, the United States still needs convincing.
Thomas G. Weiss

Prisoners as Presidents: If Vaclav Havel can move from a prison cell to the presidency, why not Nelson Mandela?
Heribert Adam

Markets and Politics in the USSR: The Soviet leadership is groping towards a new economy that combines "socialist markets" with Western prosperity.
Michael Bryans

Letter from Prague: An exile from the 1968 Prague Spring goes home to Czechoslovakia's quiet revolution.
Věra Murray

ANNEX C

OTHER PUBLICATIONS BY INSTITUTE STAFF MEMBERS
APRIL 1989–MARCH 1990

RONALD JAMES FISHER
The Social Psychology of Intergroup and International Conflict Resolution. New York: Springer-Verlag, 1990.

Fisher R.J., Grant, P.R., Hall, D.G., Keashly, L. and Kinzel, R., "The Development and Testing of a Complex Strategic Simulation of Intergroup Conflict," Journal of Psychology, 124 (2), 1990, pp.223-240.

"Prenegotiation Problem-Solving Discussions: Enhancing the Potential for Successful Negotiation," International Journal, XLIV, Spring, 1989, pp.442-474.

FEN OSLER HAMPSON
Canada Among Nations 1989. Maureen Appel Molot and Fen Osler Hampson (eds.), Ottawa: Carleton University Press, 1990.

"Climate Change: Building International Coalitions of the Like-minded," International Journal XLV(1), Winter 1989–1990, pp. 36–74.

ROGER HILL
"Conventional Arms Control," in Maureen Appel Molot and Fen Osler Hampson (eds.), Canada Among Nations 1989. Ottawa: Carleton University Press, 1990.

CARL G. JACOBSEN
Soviet Foreign Policy: New Dynamics, New Themes. Carl G. Jacobsen (ed.), Basingstoke: Macmillan, 1989.
Strategic Power USA-USSR. Carl G. Jacobsen (ed.), Basingstoke: Macmillan, 1990.

RON PURVER
"Arctic Security: The Murmansk Initiative and Its Impact," in Carl G. Jacobsen (ed.), Soviet Foreign Policy: New Dynamics, New Themes. Basingstoke: Macmillan, 1989, pp. 182–203.

"Aspects of Sovereignty and Security in the Arctic," in Donald McRae and Gordon Munro (eds.), Canadian Oceans Policy: National Strategies and the New Law of the Sea. Vancouver: University of British Columbia Press, 1989, pp. 165–188.

"The Naval Arms Control Challenge to NATO," in Robert N. Huebert et al. (eds.), NATO: A Maritime Alliance. Halifax: International Insights Society, Occasional Publication No.2, 1989, pp. 77–87.

"Commentary," in Circumpolar Decisions (Canadian Arctic Resources Committee) (Special First Edition, December 1989), p. 7.

"The North in Canada's International Relations, 1989," in Maureen Appel Molot and Fen Osler Hampson (eds.), Canada Among Nations 1989. Ottawa: Carleton University Press, 1990.

"Arms Control Options in the Arctic," in: Edgar Dosman (ed.), Sovereignty and Security in the Arctic. London: Routledge, 1989, pp. 100–125.

"Military Trends in the Arctic," in Polar Opposites: Ensuring Peace in the Arctic. Waterloo: Project Ploughshares, Working Paper 89-1 (April 1989), pp. 11–16.

ANNEX B

ARTICLES IN PEACE & SECURITY

APRIL 1989–MARCH 1990

SUMMER 1989

Environment & Security: The Case of Central America: For this beleaguered isthmus, fundamental political questions are also the key environmental ones.
Gregory Wirick

Canada-US Defence Production: A Hazardous Road. A common market with the US for defence products might not be a good idea.
Roger Hill

The Federal Budget – Foreign and Defence Policy: Sharp cuts in spending for foreign aid and defence leave the experts puzzled.
CIIPS media roundtable discussion.

A Greater Arab Maghreb – Myth Becomes Reality? Five North African countries take a tentative step towards political and economic union.
Julie Morin

J. King Gordon 1900–1989: An appreciation.
Clyde Sanger

Is the West Missing the Soviet Boat? A chilly response by Western countries to Gorbachev's new foreign policy is not in anyone's interest.
Ted Hopf

Letter from Beijing: What the Chinese government seems to fear most are the very reforms it helped to launch.
Leonard Zamor