

Constitution Amendment, 1987

Question Period on some of the matters to which both Hon. Members have referred.

I would ask that the Hon. Deputy Prime Minister assist the Chair in making it clear to both the House Leader of the Official Opposition, and the House Leader of the New Democratic Party when these documents will be in front of the committee and, of course, which committee will be hearing them.

At this time the Deputy Prime Minister may not be prepared to do that, but I hope it will be done at the very earliest convenience.

Hon. Don Mazankowski (Deputy Prime Minister, President of the Privy Council and President of the Treasury Board): Mr. Speaker, perhaps I may respond for the interim. My response will be fully consistent with that which the Prime Minister (Mr. Mulroney) has indicated all along. This issue will be subjected to full parliamentary debate. He came to the House as soon as physically possible to make a statement on the issue. The documents have now been tabled with the Clerk. This matter will be referred to a parliamentary committee. My colleague, the Deputy House Leader, will be meeting with the House Leaders early this week to attempt to work out the logistics. We hope that that could be proceeded with forthwith, with the very minimum of delay.
