

THE SCRIBBLER.

Vol. II.] MONTREAL, THURSDAY, 31st OCT. 1822. [No. 70.

— At illis

Notum, qui pueri, qualisque futura sit uxor.

JUVENAL.

Here may each youth his future bride behold;
But who shall get his children is not told.

*Censurez tant qu'il vous plaira
Mechans vers et phrases mechantes ;
Mais pour bon tours, laissez les là ;
Ce sont choses indifferentes ;
Je n'y vois rien de perilleux,
Les meres, les maris, ne prendront aux cheueux,
Pour dix ou douze contes bleus !
Voilà un peu la belle affaire !*

LA FONTAINE.

Flectere non odium cogit, non gratia suadet.

CLAUVIAN.

There shall, nor favour warp, nor fear withhold,
Nor hatred point, the pen, not bought nor sold.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCER, No. XIV.

EXPECTED NUPTIALS, etc.—Lieut. Oldœil, to the flashy young widow Billiard, of Notre-Dame-Street. Cupid it is said has no share in this marriage.

Mr. Giles Lightfoot, Jun. to Miss Limberjoint. Her papa expects to see the family well-managed. N. B. This wants confirmation.

The Brush with which Mess. Hardtimber, & Co. clean their counter, following the example lately set by one of his employers, intends to be joined to the hand of Miss Lilly Harry. Things will, of course, be kept quite clean in their ménage.

Mr. William Cursewell, to Miss Mary Damppling, the two lovers are only waiting for the approbation of Mr. Roderick McFrenzy, to join their hands and hearts in the bonds of matrimony.

Mr. Wm. Giddy, to the accomplished Miss O'Eye. This
