

North American Colonial Association.

Third Report of the Committee for managing the Affairs of the Association.

Your Committee have again to notice the absence of any subjects of interest or importance since the last General Meeting; the Government and the Legislature having been too much occupied with pressing questions of a domestic nature, to allow of attention being paid to the various matters touching the Colonies which are likely to come under discussion.

The progress of Emigration has been anxiously watched by your Committee, and they have remarked as its distinguishing feature during the last year, that the proportion of Emigrants with Capital has been much greater than at former periods: which is the more gratifying, since Settlers of this description not only encrease the wealth of the Colonies, but at the same time afford the means of employment to the more numerous classes whose Labour is their sole dependence. Notwithstanding the visitation of the dreadful disease which was so fatally prevalent in Canada during the Summer, the Committee are warranted both by the public and private accounts which have reached them, in stating that the Emigration of the past Season has been eminently successful in every point of view in which it is to be desired, viz. in its tendency to relieve the Mother Country from the burthen of a surplus population,—in bettering the situation and the prospects of the Emigrants,—and in adding to the prosperity of the Colonies.

Your Committee have much pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of several interesting Works relating to the Colonies, especially those presented by ANDREW STUART, Esq. as President of the Literary and Historical Society at Quebec, and by A. H. ARMOUR, Esq. of Montreal; and they beg to add that the objects of the Association would be materially advanced by more general Contributions of the same nature, than they have yet been favored with.

As there has not been, hitherto, any extraordinary call upon the Funds of the Association, your Committee are enabled to refer with much gratification to their present state, the par-
