DECLINE THE OFFER

Dublin, July 3.—The mansion house anti-conscription conference tonight issued a message, sent to President Wilson thru Ambassador Page in London. The document is lengthy and recounts all the well-known grievances concerning British-misgovernment in Ireland. It asks sympathetic judgment from the United States at a time when "Great Britain, which strove a century and a half ago to crush the American colonies for asserting the principle of no taxation without the consent of its representatives, now threatens to crush the Irish people unless they consent to a blood tax against the protests of their representatives."

The document emphasizes that up until the year 1900 the privilege of free clitzens to bear arms in self defence had always been refused to Ireland, and continues: London, Ont. "During the American Revolution the champions of your liberties appealed to the Irish parliament against British aggretsion. Today it is our turn to appeal to America. Today as in the days of George Washington, nearly half of the American forces have been furnished from the descendants of our banished race.

"Yet while self-determination is refused we are required by law to bleed to 'make the world safe for democracy' in every country except our own."

Declaring that the bones of ten thousand children of Ireland lie whitening on the battlefields of the present war, the appeal asks what is to be their reward—"the spot on earth they loved best, and which they hoped their sacrifices might help to freedom—lies unredeemed under an age-long thraildom."

"So, too, would it forever lie," it adds, "were every man within the shores of Ireland to immolate himself in England's services, unless the clamor of a dominant caste be rebuked and stilled."

The document concludes with an eloquent appeal to the president, "whose exhortations have inspired the souls of the nations of the world with fortitude to defend to the last their liberties against our depressors."

Amsterdam, July 3.—The need of an international Socialist conference to further the negotiation of peace by understanding is emphasized in an open letter to Arthur Henderson, the labor leader in the British Parliament, from Pleter J. Troelstra, the Dutch Socialist leader, who was recently refused entrance into England for the purpose of attending the labor conference held in England. Troelstra says that a conference is necessary because there is only a remote likes hood of a revolution in the central powers and that a continuation of the war means the ruin of Europe.

Admitting that the United States is the sheet anchor of those who believe that a repetition of the Brest-Litovsk peace in the west would be a world eatastrophe, Troelstra thinks that the chances of peace would have been greater if the United States, instead of entering the war, had retained her original role as mediator.
