WALL STREET.

New York, Feb. 17—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—High-priced specialties were subjected to renewed pressure at the opening of today's stock market, the general list also displaying further wackness. Crucible Steel dropped 6½ points in the first few minutes of the desultory trading, and General Motors lost 2½ points. Olis were irregular, Texas Company gaining 2 points, while Mexican Petroleum and Pan-American Petroleum fell back. Equipments, shippings and textiles registered fractional recessions, and rails were hesitant within narrow margins.

back. Equipments, shippings and textiles registered fractional recessions, and rails were hesitant within narrow margins.

Noon.—The market came almost to a standstill before the end of the first hour, many stocks meanwhile having fallen to new low levels with early leaders in the decline. Motors and their accessories were steadily offered at a loss of 1 to 4 points. Baldwin Locomotive was distinctly heavy despite its favorable annual report, and Endicott-Johnson added 6 points to its continuous reaction of the last few days. Ralliles of 1 to 3 points accompanied the lowering of the initial call meney rate to 6 per cent. a few industrial issues. notably oils, making recoveries before noon.

WALL STREET DUE FOR SENSATIONAL SMASH IN NEXT FEW DAYS

New York, Feb. 17.—According to a story printed in this morning's issue of the Sun and New York Herald, a fight between rival-financial factions in Wall Street is likely to lead to sensational development. in Wall Street is likely to lead to sen-sational developments. The paper says:
"Some particularly disquieting re-ports are going around Wall Street about the present financial status of some men who have been big factors in the financial world, and to this is laid the heavy liquidation of some of the higher priced motor and equipment stocks. The story goes that a little group of men has gone overboard in the market, that accounts have been sold out and taken over, and that sev-

"Yes sir we can repair it! The trouble is due to scored cylinders caused by poor lubrication."

Poor Lubrication Costly and Unnecessary

Economical truck and motor car operation is dependent largely on correct lub-ication. It's the right lubricating oil which puts service in a motor. Imperial Polarine is highly recommended for winter lubrication because in coldest weather it keeps on lubricating, it keeps compression tight, maintains the piston ring seal and coats the rubbing parts of the engine with a wear resisting, heat reducing insulation. Made in three grades for cylinder lubrication-Imperial Polarine, (light medium body), Imperial Polarine Heavy, (medium heavy body) and Imperial Polarine A., (extra heavy body). Use it with Imperial Polarine transmission and differential greases exclusively, and you will be free from all lubrication troubles. You can buy Imperial Polarine in six convenient sizes-half allon, gallon, and four gallon sealed cans, 12½ gallon steel drums, half-barrels and barrels from dealers everywhere.
