An extensive plan of exploration has been outlined for the old Gifford property in Coleman Township, assar the Beaver mine. Mr. Frank Burr Mosure of Toronto, president of the company, has returned to Toronto after making the necessary arrangements for the dewatering of the old shaft and workings. The work will be done by contract by Mr. J. Sargeson of Cobalt. The shaft is now down 200 feet with a 10-foot sump, and as there is full 500 feet of crosscutting in the old workings it will take fully two weeks to nump out all of

The plans, as now out-lined, call for the sinking of the shaft from the present depth to 350 feet. A competent engineer will be in charge of the work, and it will depend upon his advice as to how much work will be done at the 200-foot level or any of the levels. BIG GAINS SWEPT AWAY

Heavy Profit Taking by Holders Reduced Prices Considerably.

DOWNGRADE AT CLOSE

Great Movement of Canadian Grain to Sea Frightened Buyers.

CHICAGO. Jan. 26.—Heavy profittaking by holders swept away in the wheat market today notable gains which had resulted from bullish Liverpool despatches and from adverse weather conditions. The close was weak, 1/4c to 3-8c net lower to 1-8c and 1/4c advance, with May $1.36 1-4 and July $1.26 1-4. Corn finished at 1-8c gain, oats 1-8c off to a shade up, and provisions unchanged to 15c lower.

It was not until the last hour of the session that the big realizing sales in wheat turned the market unmistakably downgrade. Previous to that time a number of the leading bulls had steadfastly refused to unload, but when the fact became evident that export business from the United States had virtually come to a standstill, the selling pressure broadened to such an extent that prices broke rapidly and brought into play a good many stoplose orders. Word that the Canadian Government had ordered three railroads to begin moving immense quantities of commandeered wheat to the seaboard tended apparently to shake the confidence of -olders here.

High price records for the 1915 crop seaboard tended apparently to shake the confidence of ...olders here.

High price records for the 1915 crop were made in the wheat market today, the fourth time in four successive days. The temporary fresh strength today was based mainly on advices that consumption of supplies in Great Britain was exceeding the arrivals. Storms cutting down receipts in the northwest remained a bullish factor, and so, too, did chances of cold wave damage in Kansas and other important winter wheat states.

Corn and oats swayed with wheat. Smallness of receipts here and reports of locust damage in Argentina were among the props for corn, but eastern demand was slow. Nothing was heard of any export demand for oats.

Weakness in the hog market lowered the value of provisions. Moreover, export business in provisions appeared to have slackened as a result of talk of tightening of the British blockade.
