"ANNIE LAURIE"

himpson-Woods Company in Opera House Present New England Comedy Drama to Appreciative Audience

A rural comedy-drama in four acts entitled "Annie Laurie" was presented last night at the Opera House by the Thompson-Woods Stock Co., before a top-heavy house which seemed to appreciate thoroughly the various strong points of the piece and were in con-stant readiness to applaud. It was es-sentially a comedy-drama of the "Down

The members of the company deserve credit for their successful handling of the piece. It has several exciting scenes, including a "meller-dramatic" climax where two slick manipulators rob the town bank of $50,000. They got it, but it did not stay with them long, for one of them slung the valise containing the "swag" on the hotel counter, as if it contained no more than some solid laundry, and presto, in came the cashier of the bank and the stolen coin was relaundry, and presto, in came the cashier of the bank and the stolen coin was restored. The other "crook" was in the room at the time, but that didn't matter—he was talking to a pretty girl and promising her to be good. So all ends more or less happily, even though the two bank-robbers have to be shot in order to clear the situation for an extinief who has reformed and is the father of the pretty young maiden already ther of the pretty young maiden already referred to. The audience departs with the happy thought that her father will no longer be menaced with shadows of the past, and she can wed the bank cashier who has foiled the burglar's cashier who has foiled the burglar's plans.

Miss Brandt had the title role but it did not require a showing of the ability of which she has so often proved herself possessed. She made the most of it, however, and was most captivating. Mr. Meharry was in the role of a gentleman crook and though it did not offer many opportunities he took advantage of all that could be found and received deserved applause. Mr. Weyler had a sympathetic role in the old man trying to live down his past and did particularly well. Messrs. Hodge and Drummonid, as country boys in love with the same girl, had roles in which they provided much good fun, to which Mr. Fager, as the country marshal, and Miss Derby as the hotel housekeeper contributed. Mr. McCloskey as the second crook gave a capable presentation, while Mr. Flemming as the bank cashier was convincing.

Made Big Hit

The big, handsome Imperial Theatre did the handsome thing again yesterday in opening the week amid a bower of lovely fresh flowers, and presented its patrons with as charming a musicale and picture bill as the most exacting person could demand. The programme was high-class from start to finish. It was as follows:

Opening March—"By Sword and Lance."

Heart-Selig Weekly—Ten subjects. Helen Atkins, Mezzo—(a) "By the Candlelight,"; (b) "Dreaming"—a hesitation.

Two-part Edison Feature—"The Price of a Necklace."

Arthur Huskins, Tenor (a) "Daddy;" (b) "The Elf Man."

To Put on Flesh And Increase Weight

A Physician's Advice

Nature's way at all.

Thin folks stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective.

They just absorb enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a sem-blance of health and strength. Stuffing won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing ele-ments of their food just stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about connecting their suburban extensions at the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

How I Made My Hair Grow

Woman With Marvelously Beautiful Hair Gives Simple Home Prescrip-tion Which She Used With Most Remarkable Results

I was greatly troubled with dandruff and falling hair. I tried many advertised hair preparations and various prescriptions, but they all signally failed; many of them made my hair greasy, so it was impossible to comb it or do it up properly. I think that many of the things I tried were positively injurious. It was impossible to comb it or do it up properly. I think that many of the things I tried were positively injurious and from my own experience I cannot too strongly caution you against using preparations containing wood alcohol and other poisonous substances. I believe they injure the roots of the hair. After my long list of failures, I finally found a simple prescriptor which I can found a simple prescription which I can unhesitatingly state is beyond doubt the most wonderful thing for the hair I have ever seen. Many of my friends have also used it, and obtained wonderful efalso used it, and obtained wonderful effects therefrom. It not only is a powerful stimulant to the growth of the hair and for restoring gray hair to its natural color, but it is equally good for removing dandruff, giving the hair life and brilliancy, etc., and for the purpose of hearing the scale in first class conof keeping the scalp in first-class con-dition. It also makes the hair easier to comb and arrange in nice form. I have a friend who used it two months and during that time it has not only stopped the falling of his hair and wonderfully increased its growth, but it practically restored all of his hair to its natural color. You can obtain the ingredients for making this wonderful preparation from almost any druggist. The prescription is as follows:

Bay Rum, 6 oz.; Menthol Crystals, 1/2

drachm; Lavona de Composee, 2 oz. If you like it perfumed, add I drachm of your favorite perfume. This, however, is not necessary. Apply night and morning; rub thoroughly into the scalp.
